COMPETITIVE EXAMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES TO THE NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE OF BENGAL.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 25th September 1875.

Resolution dated the 22nd August 1874.
" " the 22nd June 1875.

THE Resolutions (as noted in the margin) by the Government of Bengal will have shewn that the examinations instituted by my predecessor (Sir George Campbell) for admission to the Native Civil Service on a principle the excellence of which is admitted, have resulted in the passing of a large number of candidates. The number indeed is very satisfactory, as showing a widespread desire among the educated youths to qualify themselves for public employ; but it proves to be considerably in excess of the number of appointments to which they can be properly and conveniently appointed within any short time. Employment has been found for very many of the candidates, but I find from the latest returns that about 155 remain unemployed Although orders have been reiterated to the local authorities to reserve, as far as possible, some employment for these qualified persons, still it is to be feared that some time must elapse before they are all employed. It has consequently been notified that no more examinations will be held under the existing rules until further notice. Nevertheless, being anxious that there should be no interruption of the general effect of the principle introduced by my predecessor, I have considered whether experience has shewn that any practical improvements could be made in its working. It is natural to suppose that, as circumstances develope themselves, progress will be found practicable in advancing the principle towards its legitimate conclusion, the principle being to encourage those who aspire to public employ to qualify themselves by the best and highest kinds of education

2. In the first place, it is seen that to pass all those candidates who come up to a given standard, without any restriction on the numbers to be passed, will, in the present circumstances of the country, bring virtually on the hands of Government a larger number than can be conveniently provided for. It is quite true that the Government has never promised that every one who passes shall be employed, or that absolutely all appointments shall be reserved for those who pass, or that none shall be appointed save these passed candidates. On the contrary, the Government has expressly reserved to itself a discretion in these respects. And such discretion is, and must be, exercised, inasmuch as there may be many good reasons, besides the winning of a place at an examination, for appointing native gentlemen to the higher grades in the public service. Still it seems that passed candidates do for the most part actually entertain expectations that some employment will be found for them. And it is better to preclude the possibility of expectations being formed which the Government never absolutely bound itself to entirely fulfil, and perhaps may not be able to fulfil.

3. It is therefore indispensable that in future examinations a fixed number of places in the higher and in the lower class of appointments should be prescribed, for which will be passed those candidates who come out first at the examination. And for those who are thus passed, employment will be found In other words, the system already begun for passing candidates for the Native Civil Service can be maintained only by the rule of competition for a fixed number of places Those who thus pass will entertain expectations which will be fulfilled.

4. Further, it is understood that the existing rules have had the effect of according more weight than probably was intended to the "Entrance" Examination of the University, and have induced many candidates to regard the passing of that examination as being an end gained, instead of being what it is intended to be—a means to a particular end, namely, the taking of a degree It is not to be supposed that a person who passes the Entrance standard is highly or even well educated. For the future, then, no candidate will be allowed to compete for the higher class of appointments, that is appointments of Rs. 100 and upwards, unless he be a graduate; nor for the lower class of appointments, that is appointments of less than Rs. 100, unless he shall have passed the First Arts Examination. The only exception allowed will be in favor of those who have served Government for six years, if candidates for the first class, and three years, if candidates for the second class.

5 Although it is important to open the higher grades of the service to remarkable merit in whatever section of the people it may be found, still it is very desirable also to obtain for these grades young men of the best stamp and the highest tone. The presenting of an University degree as a preliminary condition will tend to secure both of the above objects.

6. I propose, then, that an examination should be held next February, the same month as in previous years, and in the same subjects, for four places in the first class of appointments, and for seven places in the second class of appointments. The places will be awarded to the candidates according to priority in the examination, provided that none be passed for the higher standard unless he obtains at least two-thirds, or for the lower standard unless he obtains at least half, of the total number of obtainable marks upon the whole examination. Those who have already passed the previous examination for the Native Civil Service in the first class will be admitted to the competition for the first class without further certificate. But those previously passed for the second class only cannot compete for the first class unless they shall have taken an University degree, or have served Government for six years under the rules.

7. To the persons thus passed at the competitive examination, a general expectation will be afforded of employment within a reasonable time in the class of appointments for which each has passed, though no guarantee can be given of any particular appointment, or an appointment in a particular grade in that class, within a given time For instance, a person who wins a place in the higher class of appointments will be appointed sooner or later to at least a sub-deputyship on Rs 100 a month. But it does not at all follow that he will be appointed a Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector; he may or may not be so appointed; that will depend on the pleasure of Government.

8. The subjects for the examination will remain the same as those prescribed in October 1873 (by the Government letter No. 299E.), as they are found by experience to be both suitable and practical, giving due weight to botany, chemistry, engineering, and surveying—the very branches to which our high education ought to be more and more directed, including also those professional and official subjects in which our native officers require training. The rules also which relate to riding, walking, and gymnastics are entirely retained, as they are proved to have been useful in attracting attention to the benefit of bodily exercise, as well as mental culture

9. These orders will render necessary some modifications in the existing rules, chiefly by way of omission of various clauses issued with the Government letter No. 299E. of the 10th October 1873 A revised edition of the rules has been accordingly prepared.

RICHARD TEMPLE.

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS AND CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

[Rules to come into force after the examination of 1875]

INTRODUCTORY

Now that there have been held four annual examinations for the Native Civil Service and that a fifth examination is to take place in February 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to place the Native Civil Service examinations on a permanent footing.

2. All appointments in the Subordinate Executive Service, and all posts of Rs. 50 monthly salary and upwards in the sub-divisional establishments, both in Regulation and Non-Regulation Provinces, will ordinarily be reserved for persons who are passed at the Native Civil Service examination under the conditions specified in the subsequent paragraph 7 of these rules. Candidates for the gazetted appointments in the Police and Opium Departments will not be admitted to the examination save under a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor. Lists of candidates passed under the subsequent paragraph 7 of these rules will be published in the Gazette.

ELIGIBILITY AND PRELIMINARIES TO THE EXAMINATION.

Admissible to examination

3. All candidates eligible for appointments under rules 5 and 6 (below), who satisfy the preliminary requirements, will be admitted to the Native Civil Service examination

4. The preliminary requirements which all candidates must satisfy are—

(a) Certificate of Character

A certificate will be required from every candidate of his character, respectability, and general moral fitness, such certificate being signed by two gentlemen of his own nationality, resident in the district of which he is a native, or where he usually resides, and also signed by the Judge or Magistrate of such district The certificate of the two firstnamed is expected to be based upon personal knowledge, and the certificate of the Judge or Magistrate to indicate that the gentlemen who have signed it are qualified by their position and character to give such a certificate, and that the Judge or Magistrate himself knows nothing to the prejudice of the candidate. In the case of the town of Calcutta, instead of the signature of the Judge or Magistrate, the certificate should bear that of any Judge of the High Court, or the Commissioner of Police, or the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

(b) Certificate of Sound Health

Each candidate will be required to produce a certificate from a Government medical officer, stating that the candidate is generally a man of sound health, that he has expressed his willingness to serve in any district of the Lower Provinces, and that he (the medical officer) believes him to be capable of doing so, so far as can be judged antecedently.

(c) Certificate of ability to Ride or Walk.

Every candidate for the higher appointments will also be required to prove that he can ride, and for this purpose he may apply to the Magistrate of the district, who will either satisfy himself on the point, or select some other person he thinks competent for that purpose The examiner must satisfy himself from his own personal observation that the candidate can ride not less than 12 miles at a rapid pace, and is in this respect competent for all practical purposes of district work; and if such examiner be not the Magistrate himself, the certificate must be countersigned by the Magistrate.

All the candidates who have not been locally examined, will be required to appear before some person in Calcutta who will be selected for the purpose.

Every candidate for an appointment of less than Rs. 100 will be required to prove either that he can ride as above, or that he can walk twelve miles within 3½ hours without difficulty or prostration, to be certified in the same manner as the riding.

Persons eligible for all appointments

5. The following persons will be eligible for the examination for the Native Civil Service in all appointments:—

(a) Persons who have served Government for six years, and have held, for not less than two years, a responsible permanent appointment, above that of copyist, with a salary not less than Rs. 50 in one of the civil departments of the Government service, and can produce a sufficient certificate of ability, good conduct, and fitness for promotion from their official superiors.

(b) Persons who have taken an University degree in Arts, Law, Medicine, or Engineering.

(c) Persons who may be specially declared eligible for all appointments by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

Persons eligible for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem

6. The following persons will be eligible for the examination for the Native Civil Service in appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem :—

(b) Persons who have passed the First Arts Examination

(c) Persons who may have been specially declared eligible for appointments of the lower grade by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

7. The number of places which will be offered for competition in appointments of the higher and lower class respectively will be annually notified in the Gazette three months before the date of the examination. Appointments in the higher class are those of Rs. 100 and upwards, and in the lower class, those of less than Rs. 100. The places in each of the two classes will be awarded to the candidates according to priority in the examination: provided that none be passed for the higher class unless he obtains at least two-thirds, or for the lower class unless he obtains at least one half, of the number of obtainable marks. Candidates must declare whether they desire to compete for the higher or the lower class; and a candidate for a place in the higher class will not be eligible at that examination for a place in the lower class. To the persons thus passed at the competitive examination a general expectation will be afforded of employment within a reasonable time in the class of appointments for which each has passed, though no guarantee can be given of any particular appointment, or an appointment in a particular grade in that class, within a given time. For instance, a person who wins a place in the higher class of appointments will be appointed sooner or later to at least a sub-deputyship on Rs. 100 a month. But it does not at all follow that he will be appointed a Deputy Magistrate and Collector; he may or may not be so appointed; that will depend on the pleasure of Government.

No. 715.—Simla, the 24th September 1875.—Land Revenue and Settlement.—The following Notifications by the Government of Bengal, dated the 14th of September 1875, are hereby published for general information.—

In exercise of the powers conferred by the Scheduled Districts' Act, 1874, Section 3, the Lieutenant Governor, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to declare that the said Act is in force in that part of the Jalpáiguri and Darjeeling Divisions, being one of the Scheduled Districts of the Lower Provinces of Bengal, known as the Western Duars.

It is hereby notified that, under the provisions of Section 5 of Act XIV of 1874 (the Scheduled Districts' Act), the Lieutenant Governor, with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, is pleased to extend Act XXIII of 1863 (an Act to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands) as amended by the Indian Limitation Act, 1871, to that portion of the Jalpáiguri and Darjeeling Divisions known as the Western Duars.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Foreign Department, is republished for general information:—

No. 1952G.—Simla, the 24th September 1875.—Notification.—General.—The following despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 107, dated 19th August 1875, giving formal intimation of the intended visit of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to India, is published for general information:—

To His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor-General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

PARA 1. I have to convey to you formally the information which Your Excellency has already received by telegraph, that it is the intention of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales to visit the dominions of Her Majesty in the East. I am assured of the pleasure with which Your Excellency will welcome His Royal Highness.

2. Your Excellency will receive in due course intimation of the dates fixed for His Royal Highness' departure from England and arrival in India, and of the numbers of the suite by which he will be attended.

3. Your Excellency as Viceroy will represent Her Majesty in receiving His Royal Highness with all the honors befitting his exalted rank, and Her Majesty's Government feel assured of the earnest and loyal desire of Your Excellency and of all Officers under your control to omit no circumstance which can contribute to His Royal Highness' comfort in visiting, as far as time allows, all that is most interesting in those provinces of the British Empire in the East which are under your control.

4. The sojourn which His Royal Highness purposes to make will only be sufficient to bring before him a small portion of the vast multitudes of various races who live directly under English rule. But he will doubtless have presented to him many of the most eminent Officers, Civil and Military, European and Native, who, under Your Excellency, bear rule among them, and he will see some of the most important divisions of that great army to which the defence of the Empire is confided, and in which His Royal Highness now bears the highest rank.

5. His Royal Highness will have the opportunity, which he will highly value, of personally conveying to the Chiefs and Princes who rule in India under the paramount protection of the Queen of England the assurance of those gracious sentiments which have ever been entertained towards them by His Royal House.

6. Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to mark her sense of the importance and dignity of the occasion by empowering His Royal Highness to hold a special investiture of the Order of the Star of India, of which Your Excellency is Grand Master.

7. At this and all other ceremonials Her Majesty's Government feel assured that the supreme authority with which Your Excellency is invested as Her Majesty's Representative will enable you to show how highly you estimate the proof of Her Majesty's good will and Her confidence in the loyalty of Her Indian subjects which are afforded by Her sanctioning the visit of the Prince to India.

I have, &c.,

 The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

the Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a Superintendent of Survey, who may exercise all or any of the powers of a Collector under this Act; and may appoint one or more Assistant Superintendents and Deputy Collectors, who shall exercise all the powers of a Collector in respect to such matters under this Act as may be delegated to such Assistant Superintendents or Deputy Collectors respectively by the Collector or Superintendent of Survey, and not otherwise:

Provided that, notwithstanding the appointment of a Superintendent of Survey for any tract of country, it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to direct that the Collector shall perform any duties under the Act within the said tract.

Collector to publish a proclamation before entering on lands.

5. Before entering on any lands for the purpose of a survey, the Collector shall cause to be published a proclamation addressed to the occupants of the lands which are about to be surveyed, and of the conterminous lands, and to all persons employed on, or connected with the management of, or otherwise interested in, such lands, calling upon them to attend, either personally or by agent, before the Collector or any officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, at such places and at such times as shall be stated in such proclamation, during the demarcation and survey of the land, for the purpose of pointing out the boundaries and of rendering such aid as may be necessary in setting up or repairing such boundary marks as may be required, and of affording such assistance and information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act.

Such proclamation shall be published by posting a copy thereof

at the Court of the Judge and at the office of the Collector of every district within which any portion of the lands about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at every sub divisional office, police station, moonsiff's court, and sub-registrar's office within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at one or more mâl cutcherries on each estate; and at such other place or places as to the Collector may seem fit.

Collector may enter upon land.

6. After issue of a proclamation as aforesaid, the Collector and any persons acting under his authority may enter upon such lands, and do all things and make all enquiries necessary for effecting the survey and demarcation of the boundaries thereof.

Collector may serve special notice.

7. The Collector may also, by a special notice, require any such person to attend before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than fifteen days after the service of the notice, at any places, for any of the purposes aforesaid; and every person on whom such special notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice, and to do any of the things mentioned in section five, and to give any information which may be required, so far as he may be able to give it.

Collector to pay the price of materials or labor supplied.

8. When any materials or labor shall have been supplied for any of the purposes mentioned in section five, the Collector or other officer making a requisition under that section shall forthwith cause the price of such materials or labor to be paid to the person by whom the same were supplied.

Collector may require occupants to clear boundary lines.

9. The Collector, or other survey officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, may, by a special notice, require any occupant to clear any boundary or other line which it may be necessary to clear for the purposes of the survey, by cutting down and removing any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops.

Compensation.

10. If any demand for compensation be made, in respect of the clearance of any line in accordance with a requisition under the last preceding section, the Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops which may have been cut down or removed, and shall offer adequate compensation to the owners thereof, together with payment for all expenses incurred in carrying out the said requisition.

Ameen or Survey Officer to call upon persons to sign maps or papers.

11. When the demarcation of a village or other convenient tract has been completed, the Ameen or other survey officer shall, before sending in to the Collector the maps and papers relating thereto, by a general notice in which the names of all persons required to appear shall be specified, and which shall be posted up at a convenient place in the village or tract, call upon all persons who have pointed out any boundaries in such village or tract on behalf of those interested to attend before him within three days of the publication of the said notice for the purpose of inspecting the maps, field-books, and similar papers in which any boundary pointed out by any such person has been represented, and by signing such maps and papers to certify that the boundaries have been laid down in accordance with the boundaries pointed out by them; and every person so called upon shall be legally bound to attend before such Ameen or survey officer, and to inspect the papers, in accordance with such requisition.

Statement of objections.

Any person so called upon, who may object to sign the maps and papers as aforesaid, shall be required to state his objections in writing, and such statement shall be attached to the record of the demarcation of the village or tract, and shall be submitted to the Collector together with the maps and papers.

Effect of signature.

The signature affixed to any maps or papers under this section shall be in attestation of the fact that the boundaries thereon represented, or any of them, have been represented in accordance with those pointed out by the person signing; and the affixing of such signature shall not be held to prejudice the right of any person interested to make any objection to such boundaries on any other ground before the Collector under the next succeeding section.

On receipt of maps, Collector to post notification in his office.

12. On receipt in the Collector's Office of the maps or papers showing any boundaries which have been demarcated, the Collector shall cause a notification to be posted in his office, and in such other places as he may think proper, informing all persons concerned that the maps and papers relating to the boundaries in the village or tract specified are open to inspection; and requiring any person who may have any objections to prefer, to prefer such objections within six weeks of the date of the posting of such notification, after which time the Collector will proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as laid down for the purposes of the survey.

Collector when to issue special notice.

Whenever the Collector shall have reason to believe (either from the failure of any person interested or his representatives to sign the maps and papers on the spot when required by the survey officer to do so under the last preceding section, or for any other reason), that any zemindar or person interested is likely to object to any boundary as laid down or as represented in the said papers, the Collector shall cause a special notice requiring such zemindar or other person to attend personally or by duly authorized agent before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than one month after the service of the notice, for the purpose of signing and thereby admitting the correctness of any maps or other papers which have been prepared under this Act in respect of any boundary in which such zemindar or other person is interested, or of stating in writing the substance of any objection which he may wish to prefer against the correctness of such maps or papers; and if any person so summoned shall fail to attend and to sign the said maps or papers, or to give in a written statement of his objections within the time prescribed, the Collector may proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as represented in such maps and papers, for the purposes of the survey and of this Act.

If agent deposits expenses of making copies, Collector shall order them to be prepared.

Provided that if within the time specified any such duly authorized agent deposits with the Collector the necessary expenses of making copies of the said maps or papers, the Collector shall order such copies to be prepared, and as soon as they are prepared, shall cause a notice to that effect to be posted at his office, and the said agent shall be allowed such time as may be specified in such notice, not being less than fifteen days from the posting thereof, for the purpose of signing or of giving in a written statement of objections.

Procedure when objection is stated.

When a written statement of objections has been given in, as in this section provided, the Collector, after holding any further inquiry which he may deem necessary, shall pass such order in respect of such objections as to him shall seem fit; and if the objections shall seem to him not to be well founded, shall direct that all expenses of such further inquiry, and all expenses entailed on any other person by such inquiry, shall be recovered from the person who made the objection.

Person making subsequent objection may be required to deposit costs of further inquiry.

13. Whenever any person, having failed to sign the maps and papers, or to give in his objections in writing within the time prescribed by the notification or by the special notice mentioned in the last preceding section, shall, at any time before the Collector has finally confirmed the boundaries for the purposes of the survey, prefer any subsequent objection against the correctness of any maps or papers in respect of which such notification or notice was issued, the Collector shall require him to deposit the estimated costs of any further inquiry which it may be necessary to make in respect of his objection; and if the said person shall fail to deposit such costs within the time specified by the Collector, he shall be deemed for all purposes of this Act to have admitted the correctness of the said maps and papers. If the costs of any inquiry which may be deemed necessary be deposited, the Collector shall make such further inquiry at the expense of the person so objecting; and if the objection shall seem to the Collector not to be well founded, he may pass such order as he shall think fit in respect of the recovery from the objector of any sum expended by the Collector on the inquiry in excess of the sum deposited, and of any necessary expenses incurred by any other persons on account of such inquiry.

Provided that no person so making an objection after the prescribed time, shall, under any circumstances, be entitled to recover the expenses which he is required to deposit before any further inquiry is made in respect of such subsequent objection.

PART III.

OF BOUNDARY MARKS.

Collector may erect temporary boundary marks.

14. The Collector may cause to be erected temporary boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner as he may direct, on any lands to be surveyed under this Act; and may require any occupant of land to maintain and keep in repair such marks, or any boundary marks, until any survey operations shall be concluded and a final award given as to any disputed boundary, or until permanent boundary marks may be erected in lieu thereof as hereinafter provided.

Collector may erect permanent boundary marks.

15 The Collector may at any time cause to be erected, on any land which is to be, or which has been surveyed under this Act, permanent boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner, as he may determine to be sufficient to distinguish the boundaries of the estates, tenures, mouzahs, or fields for which the same are to be erected.

Specification of marks and estimate of their cost to be posted in Collector's Office

Provided that seven days before he proceeds to the erection of any permanent boundary marks, the Collector shall, for the information of all concerned, cause to be posted in his office, and in the mál cutcherry, or at some other convenient place on every estate concerned, a specification of the number and character of the marks which he proposes to erect on the estate and an estimate of their cost.

Apportionment of expenses

16. All expenses incurred by the Collector in erecting temporary or permanent boundary marks under this Act shall, in manner hereinafter provided, be apportioned among, and levied from, the zemindars and tenure-holders on their estates;

Provided that no tenure-holder shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses incurred by the erection of boundary marks on an estate, unless some portion of his tenure is situated within fifteen hundred feet of some such boundary mark.

Lands not subject to rent to be deemed to be part of a tenure.

17 All lands held without payment of rent, not being entered on the Collector's register of revenue-free tenures of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they may be included; and if they be not included within the local boundary of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any one estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal, appoint.

Provided that no rent-free holding, of which the annual value is less than five rupees, shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses of erecting boundary marks under this Act.

Procedure when occupant fails to maintain boundary mark.

18. If any occupant on whom a requisition has been made under section fourteen, fails to maintain, or keep in repair, any temporary boundary mark, the Collector may maintain, keep in repair, or restore any such boundary mark, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be recovered as provided in section fifty-seven from the person so failing to maintain, or keep in repair, any such boundary mark.

Zemindar, &c., bound to preserve boundary-marks and give notice to Collector when they are injured.

19. Every zemindar, tenure-holder and farmer of land shall be legally bound to preserve, as far as lies in his power, such of the permanent boundary marks lawfully erected on his estate, tenure, or farm, or on the boundary between his estate, tenure, or farm, and any other estate tenure, or farm, as may be assigned to him in that respect entirely, or jointly with other persons, under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and shall give immediate notice to the Collector if any such marks are injured, destroyed, or removed, or require repairs.

Collector may re-erect injured boundary mark, and recover expenses from zemindar, &c.

20. Whenever it shall come to the notice of the Collector that any permanent boundary mark erected under the provisions of this Act, has been injured, destroyed, or removed, or requires repairs, the Collector may cause such boundary mark to be re-erected, restored, or repaired, and may recover any expenses incurred in respect of such re-erection restoration, or repair, in such proportions as he shall think fit, from the zemindars and tenure-holders to whom such boundary mark may have been assigned in that respect under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and all such expenses shall be recoverable as provided in section fifty-seven.

Collector may cause boundary mark to be erected by occupant of land with his consent.

21. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to prohibit the Collector from causing any temporary or permanent marks to be erected, maintained or repaired by any occupant of land, under the directions of the said Collector, and with the consent of such occupant.

The Collector shall repay to such occupant the expenses incurred in such erection or repair, and such expenses shall be apportioned and recovered as provided in Part IV.

PART IV.

OF THE APPORTIONMENT AND RECOVERY OF EXPENSES.

Collector to prepare statement of all expenses incurred in respect of boundary marks.

22. Upon the completion of the erection of boundary marks on any tract of land of which the survey may have been ordered, or on any convenient portion thereof, the Collector shall forthwith prepare a statement of all expenses incurred in respect of such boundary marks.

Contents of the statement.

23. Such statement shall show the total number of marks of each description which have been erected on such tract, or portion of such tract, the aggregate cost of erecting all the marks of each description, the names of the estates and mouzahs within, or on the boundaries of which any marks have been erected, and the total number of marks of each description erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Collector to apportion the cost of erecting marks among the estates.

24. Upon the completion of such statement, the Collector shall provisionally apportion the aggregate expenses of erecting the marks among the estates specified, with reference to the number of boundary marks of each description which have been erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Notice to be served

25. So soon as the provisional apportionment shall have been made as required by the last preceding section, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on the zemindar of every estate on which the expenses have been apportioned,

(a) specifying the sum which has been apportioned on his estate, and as far as can be calculated, the sum which he will be required to pay on account of the service of notices on him under this section and section twenty-nine;

(b) informing him that the said statement is open to inspection in the office of the Collector;

(c) calling on him to appear in person, or by agent properly authorized, at the office of the Collector on a date to be specified in the notice (not being less than two months after the issue of the notice), on which date the Collector will proceed to consider any objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment of expenses;

(d) warning him that if he does not appear on the date fixed in pursuance of the notice he will be deemed to have waived all objections to the share of the expenses apportioned to his estate;

and (unless as otherwise hereinafter provided in sections thirty-one, thirty-two, and thirty-three)

(e) informing him that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally made payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from such tenure-holders on his estate as are made liable to bear a portion of such expenses by sections sixteen and seventeen (of which sections a copy shall be annexed to the notice); and that in order to enable the Collector to apportion the said amount among the said tenure-holders, he may give in a list of all such tenures as defined in this Act, held directly from him, with a specification of the number of boundary marks of each description which are erected within or on the boundary of each tenure; and

(f) warning him that if he fails to give in a list of tenures as aforesaid on or before the said date, he will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount for which he may be held liable under section twenty-six.

Collector to make final apportionment

26. On the date fixed in such notice, the Collector shall proceed to consider all objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment, and to make such final apportionment of the expenses as shall seem to him fit; in making such final apportionment, the costs of serving all notices under section twenty-five shall be distributed rateably among the estates concerned, in proportion to the share of the expenses of erecting boundary marks which may be apportioned to each estate; and the amount so finally apportioned as payable in respect of each estate, together with the costs of serving notices rateably distributed as aforesaid, shall be due to the Collector from the zemindars of such estates.

Collector may postpone final apportionment.

27. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding section, the Collector may postpone the final apportionment if it shall appear to him that a notice under section twenty-five has not been served on the zemindar of any estate which should be made liable for a portion of the expenses, or for any other sufficient reason.

Zemindar failing to appear will be deemed to have waived all objections.

28. Any zemindar failing to appear on the date fixed in the notice served on him under section twenty-five will be deemed to have waived all objections to the payment of the amount apportioned to his estate, and will not be entitled to prefer any objections thereto on any subsequent date; and any zemindar failing to give in a list of tenures (when called upon under section twenty-five to give in such list), on or before such date, will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount which may have been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six.

Collector to issue a notice specifying amount finally apportioned.

29 So soon as the expenses shall have been finally apportioned under section twenty-six among the estates concerned as hereinbefore provided, the Collector shall issue a notice in respect of every estate, specifying the amount finally apportioned as payable in respect of the estate, and requiring the zemindar to pay such amount to the Collector, together with the costs of serving such notice, within one month of the issue of the notice. If such amount be not paid to the Collector within such period, the same, with interest, at such rate, not exceeding six per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine, may be levied as provided in section fifty-seven.

Notice shall assign boundary marks which zemindars are bound to preserve.

The notice issued under this section shall assign to the zemindar, or to the zemindar jointly with tenure-holders, the boundary marks which they are legally bound to preserve under the provisions of section nineteen, and in respect of which they will be held liable to pay the costs of re-erection, maintenance, and repair, under the provisions of section twenty.

Collector to apportion between zemindar and tenure-holders

30. If the zemindar of any estate shall give in a list of tenures, as referred to in section twenty-five, with an application to the Collector to apportion between his estate and the tenures the amount which has been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate as aforesaid, the Collector shall proceed to make a provisional apportionment of the said amount between the zemindar and the tenure-holders, to serve notices on the said tenure-holders in the manner provided in section twenty-five, and to make a final apportionment among the said zemindar and tenure-holders in the manner provided in sections twenty-six and twenty-seven; and the provisions of section twenty-eight shall be applicable to such tenure-holders.

No separate notice in respect of apportionment of sum less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section in respect of the provisional or final apportionment of the sum payable in respect of any tenure, if such sum be less than two rupees; but in respect of all such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list showing the sums apportioned as payable. Such list shall be published by being posted at the office of the Sub-divisional Officer and at a conspicuous place in some village within which lands appertaining to the tenure are situate.

Summary apportionment between zemindar and tenure-holders.

31. Notwithstanding any thing in this Part contained, whenever the Collector may consider that he has sufficient information (whether derived from papers compiled for the purposes of the road cess, from enquiries made in the course of proceedings under this Act, or otherwise), to enable him in a summary way to make an apportionment of any expenses recoverable under this Act in respect of any estate, between the zemindars of and the holders of tenures in such estate, the Collector may, as soon as possible after he shall have made a provisional apportionment under section twenty-four of the sum payable in respect of such estate, and without calling on the zemindar to give in any list of tenures as provided in clause (e) of section twenty-five, proceed to make a provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders of such estates of the sum which has been provisionally apportioned under section twenty-four as payable in respect of the estate.

Notice to be served on zemindar when provisional apportionment has been made summarily.

32. Whenever any provisional apportionment of the sum payable between the zemindars and the tenure-holders may have been made summarily, as provided in the last preceding section, the notice to be served on the zemindar under section twenty-five, shall inform the zemindar, in addition to the particulars specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of the said section, and instead of those specified in clauses (e) and (f), that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from the tenure-holders on his estate; and that the Collector has made a provisional apportionment of the said sum between the zemindar and tenure-holders, according to a list which shall be annexed to the said notice;

and shall warn him

that if he fails to prefer any objection to such provisional apportionment on or before the date specified, he will be deemed to have given up all right to prefer any such objection at any future time; and that the Collector will proceed to make such apportionment final, or to make any modifications in it which he may think fit; provided that the sum finally made payable by the zemindar shall not exceed the sum apportioned upon him in the said provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders.

Procedure on provisional apportionment.

33. As soon as a provisional apportionment between the zemindar and the tenure-holders shall have been made summarily as provided in section thirty-one, the Collector shall proceed to serve notices on the tenure-holders concerned in the manner provided in section thirty, and to do all other things as if the said provisional apportionment upon tenure-holders had been made on a list given in by the zemindar under section thirty.

Mode of apportionment among tenures.

34. In apportioning the amount among the zemindar and the tenure-holders, the Collector shall first deduct such sum as he shall consider to be fairly payable by the zemindar in respect of lands not included in any tenure, and in respect of his interest in lands which are included in tenures; and in apportioning the remainder among the tenures, he shall take into consideration the number of pillars erected within or on the boundary of each tenure, the extent of each tenure, and the distance at which it is situated from the boundary marks; but no tenure shall be made liable for any portion of the sum so apportioned, unless some part of it be situated within fifteen hundred feet from some boundary mark.

Notice of apportionment in respect of tenures

35. So soon as the final apportionment among tenure-holders under section thirty shall be completed, the Collector shall cause to be issued notices to each of the said tenure-holders, stating the amount payable in respect of each of their tenures, with interest (if any) calculated at the annual rate of six per centum from the date on which the zemindar paid to the Collector the sum which was apportioned on his estate under section twenty-six, and the cost of serving upon the tenure-holder the notice under this section, and calling upon him to pay the total amount so due to the zemindar of the estate of which the tenure is a part, within one month of the date of the notice.

No separate notice to be served on tenure-holder who is required to pay less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section on any tenure-holder who is required to pay a sum of less than two rupees as his share of the expenses apportioned under this Act; but in respect of such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list in the manner prescribed by section thirty, and no costs incurred in respect of the publication of any such list shall be recoverable from any person mentioned therein as liable to pay less than two rupees.

Collector not to issue notices to tenure-holders until zemindars have deposited costs.

36. Notwithstanding anything contained in section thirty-five, the Collector shall not issue the notices therein mentioned to the tenure-holders until the zemindars concerned shall have deposited with the Collector the full amount of the costs of serving all the notices, and of publishing the lists as required by that section.

Apportionment between tenure-holder and holder of subordinate tenure.

37. The provisions of sections twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-four and thirty-five shall be applicable, as far as possible, to every case in which any tenure-holder, who has been made liable for the payment of any share of expenses under this Act, may apply to the Collector to apportion the amount for which he has been made liable, between himself and the holders of subordinate tenures direct from himself; and the provisions of sections thirty-one, thirty-two and thirty-three, regarding the procedure for making a provisional apportionment in a summary way between a zemindar and the tenure-holders on his estate, shall be applicable, as far as possible, to the provisional apportionment of expenses between the holder of a tenure and the holders of under-tenures within his tenure;

provided always that no such apportionment shall be made in respect of ryots who have a right of occupancy only, and whose rent is not fixed in perpetuity.

Recovery of sums payable to zemindar or tenure-holder.

38. Every zemindar or tenure-holder, to whom any sum is payable under the preceding sections, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of the tenure for which the sum is due.

Recovery of sums expended by Government since 1st November 1874.

39. The provisions of this Part shall apply to all sums expended by the Government since the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in erecting boundary marks.

PART V.

BOUNDARY DISPUTES.

Procedure in case of dispute as to any boundary

40. If it shall come to the notice of the Collector, in the course of a survey under this Act, that a dispute exists as to any boundary which should be surveyed, the Collector, after holding such enquiry as he may deem necessary, may determine such boundary as hereinafter provided.

Powers of Collector when boundary not determined by Court or laid down by Revenue Survey.

41. The Collector shall determine the boundary according to actual possession, and cause it to be secured by boundary marks; and the order of the Collector under this section shall, until it be reversed or modified by competent authority, have the force of an order of any Civil Court declaring the parties to be in possession of the land in accordance with the boundary as determined by the Collector.

Power of Collector to take possession of land in dispute.

42. If after holding the necessary enquiry the Collector is unable to discover which party was in possession of the disputed land when he instituted the enquiry under this section, the Collector may take possession of the land in dispute, and retain possession thereof until some party shall have established his right to the said land.

Power to refer to arbitration.

43. Whenever the Collector thinks it necessary to decide a dispute as to any boundary under the last preceding section, he may, with the consent of the parties concerned, refer the same to arbitration.

The procedure laid down in Chapter VI of Act VIII of 1859 (the Code of Civil Procedure) shall, so far as may be practicable, be applicable to disputes so referred to arbitration.

Powers of a Collector when boundary determined by Court or by Revenue Survey.

44. If the boundary regarding which the dispute exists as mentioned in section forty shall at any previous time have been determined by any Court of competent jurisdiction; or shall have been laid down and shown on a map in the course of any previous Revenue Survey or Settlement, and no objection to the boundary as then laid down and mapped shall have been preferred before any authority competent to decide on such objection;

whenever the dispute relates to the boundary of an estate which is liable for revenue, or to any other boundary by which the interests of the Government may be affected, the Collector shall, and whenever the dispute relates to any other boundary, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, relay, as nearly as may be possible, the boundary as previously determined or laid down and shown on the map, and cause such boundary to be shown on the survey map, with an explanatory note to the same;

provided that the relaying and record of a boundary by the Collector under this section shall not affect the possession of any land by any party; and shall be in addition to the determination and record of the boundary according to actual possession required by section forty-one.

Collector may deviate from boundary if parties agree.

Nothing contained in this section shall be held to prohibit the Collector from deviating from a boundary as held by actual possession or as shown on a former map, and laying down a new boundary, if all the parties concerned agree to such new boundary, on the ground that the boundary held by actual possession, or as shown on the former map, was incorrect, and if it appears to the Collector that there is no objection to the adoption of such new boundary.

The reason for every such deviation shall be recorded in the Collector's proceedings.

Power of Collector at any time when doubt or dispute exists as to any boundary.

45. If it shall come to the notice of the Collector at any time, or in any manner, that a doubt or dispute exists in respect to any boundary

(a) which has at any time been determined by a competent Court; or

(b) which has been laid down and shown on a map, in the course of a previous Revenue Survey or Settlement, or other proceeding of a revenue officer for any special purpose, and against which no objection has been preferred to any authority competent to decide upon such objection; or

(c) which has been laid down by a Survey under this Act,

the Collector may, if he thinks it desirable for any reason that the boundary so determined or laid down shall be relaid, proceed to relay the boundary in the manner prescribed in section forty-four of this Act, and for the purpose of so relaying the boundary he may make any enquiries and surveys which may be necessary, and such enquiries and surveys shall be deemed to be proceedings under section six, and the Collector shall exercise in respect thereof all powers which he may exercise in respect of enquiries and surveys under that section.

In certain cases Collector may cause marks to be erected.

46. Whenever the Collector shall have determined a boundary which was in dispute, and the order shall have become final, and whenever a boundary which has been supplied by the survey officers, or has been determined under this Act, has been altered by a decree of any Civil Court, which has become final, and whenever it shall come to the notice of the Collector that any boundary has been determined by a competent Court or authority, the Collector may cause such marks as he may think fit to be erected in order to secure the boundary permanently, and the provisions of Parts III and IV shall, so far as is possible, be applicable to boundary marks which are erected under this section, and to the apportionment of the cost thereof.

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Joint zemindars to be subject to every liability imposed on single zemindars

47. Whenever any estate or tenure is held jointly by two or more zemindars or tenure-holders, all such zemindars and tenure-holders shall be jointly and severally liable in respect of every liability imposed on zemindars or tenure-holders respectively by this Act;

And any shareholder in any estate or tenure who may have paid the amount finally apportioned to such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as may be payable in respect of their shares as arrears of rent, or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

Service of notice.

48. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served on any person may be served—

(1) by delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering the said notice to a general agent of the person to whom such notice is directed; or

(2) by sending a registered letter containing such notice directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or to the place where he may be known to reside; or

(3) by posting a copy of the notice at any mâl cutcherry of the estate or tenure of the person to whom the notice is directed; or if no such mâl cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate or tenure to which such notice relates, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to any agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next after the preparation of such notice. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate or tenure, service of notice under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

No proceedings under this Act to be affected by any mistake or misdescription.

49. No proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person thereby rendered liable to pay any sum of money, or in the description of any estate or tenure or land in respect of which he is rendered liable to pay, or by reason of any other informality, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of the omission to serve any notice on any zemindar whose name is not recorded on the Collector's registers as owner of the estate in respect of which the notice is required to be served.

When person removing boundary mark cannot be found, Collector may repair.

56. Whenever the person erasing, removing, or damaging any boundary mark cannot be discovered, or if for any other reason it is found impracticable to recover from him the sum which he has been so ordered to pay, the boundary mark shall be restored or repaired by the Collector, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be recovered from the occupants of such of the conterminous lands, and in such proportions as to the Collector may seem fit.

Every amount due deemed to be a demand under Bengal Act VII of 1868.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No 2981

Calcutta, the 1st October 1875.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Division for the year 1874-75.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has to thank the Commissioner, Mr. Cockerell, for a valuable report on the administration of this important division.

2. Owing to the prevalence of scarcity during the earlier months of the year, the district officers were necessarily absent from head-quarters to a great extent. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the good use they made of their time during their district tours.

3. The weather was favourable, the rainfall being copious and fairly distributed, and the temperature generally lower than in ordinary years. The crops were almost everywhere abundant, and far above the average. Moreover, the distress which marked the season of 1873-74 had led to a much more extensive cultivation of the spring and autumn food-crops than ordinarily occurs. The outturn of winter rice, which is the principal crop of the division, was exceedingly good.

4. The Commissioner points out that the quantity of rain registered at the head-quarter's station constitutes no sound basis for generalising on the rainfall of the entire district; and that, if the collation of rainfall statistics is to be of any real value for the purpose of estimating agricultural prospects, the registering stations in each district must be greatly multiplied. But in point of fact there are now rain gauges at all sub-divisions, as well as at head-quarters, and a comparison of the fall at the several stations affords a very fair estimate of the rainfall for the whole district; while it is doubtful whether, if additional stations were sanctioned, it would be possible at present to secure accuracy of registration elsewhere than at head-quarters, and at sub-divisional stations.

5. The public health during the year was good, and the condition of the people is reported to be one of progressive amelioration. Notwithstanding the heavy reverses of the previous year, the bountiful harvests of 1874 had the effect of "restoring the people, with the utmost rapidity, to complete independence."

6. The Lieutenant-Governor notices, as very satisfactory, that the present activity of trade and facility of transport have almost brought producing and non-producing districts on a level as regards the market value of food-grains. When prices were at their worst in the Rajshahye division, where the failure of the previous harvest had been general, food was but little dearer than in the eastern grain-producing districts, where there had been no such failure; and when a good autumn crop had been reaped, and a still better winter produce assured, the rapid fall in prices was even more marked in the Rajshahye division than in the eastern districts. Generally speaking, it is said that the rates of hired labour do not appear to have been materially affected by the scarcity.

7. Mr. Cockerell furnishes an interesting account of the present condition of the manufactures of his division. In Bogra and Maldah the silk filatures are closed, and the operations are confined to the rearing of cocoons, which are taken to Moorshedabad and Rajshahye for disposal. In Moorshedabad and Rajshahye there are filatures, but the profits are small, and the industry has declined materially of late years. It is to be feared that the silk is sharing the fate of the indigenous cloth manufactures, and giving way before the competition of the article produced elsewhere. This progressive decay of the silk industry must be regarded as a great local misfortune; for not only did it in former times involve a considerable outlay of capital in these four districts especially, but it gave employment of a profitable kind to agriculturalists and day labourers, including women and children. The indigo manufacture is not very prosperous. There is a newly established iron-smelting business at Narainpore in the western division of Moorshedabad.

8. Some valuable information is also furnished regarding trade and commerce, which is principally derived from the reports of the Collector of Moorshedabad, and of Mr. Nolan, the sub-divisional officer of Serajgunge. The ordinary operations of trade were, as regards its chief staple, rice, somewhat disturbed by the scarcity; but the winter harvest of 1874 was so abundant, that before the close of the year the export trade had begun to resume its wonted activity. The western part of the Moorshedabad district is sown with amun rice, and is an exporting country. During 1874 the exports of rice by rail from the Rampore Haut sub-division were 2,88,372 maunds, of which nearly 50 per cent was consigned to Howrah. Large quantities of rice also find their way from the west of the district to Azimgunge, Jeeagunge, Moorshedabad, Berhampore, and other parts of the east of the district; and there is a considerable export to the flourishing mart of Dhulian on the Ganges, in return for the oil-seeds and other produce of the cold-weather crops which are brought to the west from that place. On the other hand, the eastern part of Moorshedabad, in which the cultivation of the less productive aous crop takes up only a portion of the area, imports largely, not only from the west, but also from the districts of Maldah, Dinagepore, Rungpore, Pubna, Fureedpore, and Dacca.

9. The principal seat of trade and commerce in North-Eastern Bengal is at Serajgunge. The total exports from Serajgunge by steamer amount roughly to 9,00,000 maunds, against 16,70,000 maunds in 1872-73, and 14,50,000 maunds in 1871-72. The figures for 1873-74 are not available. This decline is almost exclusively in the article of jute, of which 12½ lakhs were exported in 1871-72, 15 lakhs in 1872-73, and 6 lakhs in 1874-75. The decline is attributed to slackness in the general trade, diminution in the proportion sent by steamer, owing to the fact that time is an object of less importance than cheapness of transit in a falling market, and to the practice which is growing up of sending jute direct from the mofussil market to Calcutta. The export of jute by country boats from Serajgunge is estimated at 10 lakhs of maunds in the past year. The opening of Goalundo as a railway terminus did not at first affect Serajgunge seriously; but now many boats laden with jute pass by Serajgunge and go on straight to Goalundo. It is believed that most of this fibre has, however, been bought in the interior by the agents of the Serajgunge traders. There is a great increase in the tobacco trade, which seems likely to develope rapidly. In 1871-72 Serajgunge exported by steamer 11,000 maunds; in 1872-73, 43,000 maunds; and in 1874-75, 80,969 maunds. As the country boat trade is but a third of that conducted by steamers, these figures fairly represent the actual progress made. One European firm, which had a large business in this staple, has now established an agency in the Rungpore district for the purpose of shipping to Calcutta direct. In the seed trade there has been a great falling off,—20,000 maunds having been exported by steamers in 1874-75, against 34,000 in 1872-73, and 1,16,000 in 1871-72. The imports by steamer are small in bulk, and consist principally of piece-goods. Salt is imported almost entirely in country boats, and is estimated at about 6 lakhs of maunds during the year.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that in this division also the new subordinate executive establishments are spoken of as a valuable auxiliary to the district officer. During the scarcity the existence of such an agency was found of great service. Alluding to the various measures coming under the head of administrative changes, the Commissioner reports favourably of the assimilation of the local limits of moonsifee jurisdictions to those of sub-divisions which has been effected in the Moorshedabad district, of the operation of the Road Cess Act, and of the introduction of the tehsildaree system into the Dooars or non-regulation portion of Julpigoree.

11. Attempts to obtain agricultural statistics are being made in the Darjeeling and Julpigoree districts, where there is an agency of tehsildaree establishments. The registration of vital statistics in the selected areas shows an improving tendency, though it is far from perfect. Statistical information, in connection with land tenures, is being acquired in the course of the road cess operations, but the inquiries are not yet complete in respect of any district, not even Rajshahye, where the cess is being levied. Arrangements have, since the close of the year, been made for the registration of the frontier trade, as well as of the internal trade of the division.

12. The Commissioner remarks, in connection with the extraordinary fertility of the land in the Julpigoree Dooars, on the fair prospects of the tea industry in that country. "No soil," writes Mr. Cockerell, "that has yet been explored for such purpose has proved better adapted for the growth of the plant. Fortunately, too, the Dhangur coolies seem to thrive fairly well in the country; and if any considerable number of them can be attracted to, and induced to labour at, the new gardens, no condition seems wanting to the perfect success of the latter."

13. In some districts of the division there was a certain increase in the offences of dacoity and robbery, but the general returns of crime do not, although it was a year of scarcity, show a marked accession of offences involving violence against property and persons. In the Julpigoree district alone, when in May the local market rates of rice were quoted at one rupee for five seers only, the mere rumour of grain dacoities in the neighbouring parts of Rungpore created an unusual excitement. In two days no less than thirty grain dacoities were reported to have occurred. "In this emergency," writes the Commissioner, "Major Money acted with great promptitude; he warned the troops at Buxa to be ready for action in the restoration of public order, and himself marched with a strong force of police through the countries in which these outrages were being committed. He arrested many of the offenders, and caused it to be generally known that the troops had been ordered out, and were on the march to put down vigorously any disturbance of the peace on too great a scale for the police to cope with successfully. The effect of this action is said to have been instantaneous, and these acts of violence subsided rapidly, complete order being restored without the necessity for actually bringing the military power into operation." This case is remarkable, as being the only instance of up-rising or disturbance occasioned by the scarcity and distress which was felt during the year 1874.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that complaints are made of the dilatory procedure of the Moonsifs' Courts, and that an opinion is expressed adverse to the transfer of jurisdiction in rent cases to the Civil Courts. It is satisfactory to note the extreme popularity and usefulness which is said to attach to the rural registration offices.

15. The Commissioner reports that, generally speaking, the relations between landlord and tenant are more satisfactory in the division. The ill-feeling has greatly abated, if it has not died out, in Rajshahye and Bogra, but no final adjustment of the more widely extended disputes in Pubna has yet been attained. Mr. Nolan, the sub-divisional officer of Serajgunge, is of opinion that the Pubna disputes were nearer a conclusion at the commencement than at the close of the year, and that a settlement is still very distant. In the mean time no breach of the peace has occurred, or is immediately threatened.

16. The Government land revenue was fairly realized, and coercive measures were not called for. In excise there was a general falling off in income, as was to be expected. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that in the Rajshahye division there was a diminution in the consumption of ganja, as well as of country spirits. Unfortunately there is a tendency to increase in the consumption of cheap and adulterated brandies and imported wines.

17. The famine relief measures gave a great impetus to road-making in the division. The Commissioner has not furnished any observations of his own regarding education, but has abstracted the parts of the district reports bearing on the subject. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see it stated that there is a disposition on the part of the zemindars to patronize education by supporting and contributing to the support of schools in the Dinagepore district. The Government High School at Rampore Beauleah and the Government school at Serajgunge are well reported of. It is said that education has made more progress in Pubna than in any other district of the division. The district contains 220 primary schools, of which 55 were opened during the year. There has been steady progress made in Rungpore. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently expressed himself willing, with the assistance of the people of the district, to take measures for the conversion of the zillah school there into a high school. Education is still in a very backward state in the districts of the Cooch Behar division.

18. The Municipal and Town Committees are described as having worked successfully, but there is a difficulty found in convening Road Cess and Education Committees that are of a really representative character.

19. The leading zemindars of the division did their duty most creditably in alleviating the distress occasioned by the failure of the harvests, and the Lieutenant-Governor has already acknowledged the good services thus rendered.

20. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to Mr. E. W. Molony and to Sir William Herschel, Commissioners, respectively, of the Rajshahye and of the Cooch Behar divisions during the year, for their effective and vigilant supervision.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Junior Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REGARDING THE SUPPLY OF OFFICIAL INFORMATION TO NEWSPAPERS.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.—No 2822.

Calcutta, the 14th September 1875.

READ—

Papers regarding the supply of official information to newspapers.

THE perusal of these papers has shown the Lieutenant-Governor that the methods hitherto adopted for supplying official information to the newspapers, however well meant and considerately designed, have not as yet produced the desired result. Under these plans the information was necessarily communicated in fragments; much information of no value was included; sometimes the most important documents connected with a question were altogether omitted, and the value of the information was lessened in consequence of the delay attending its communication. His Honor now proposes to adopt a plan by which he believes these inconveniences will be avoided, and Editors will be supplied with correspondence in a connected and complete form, and without any further delay than is required by the exigencies of the public service. Sir Richard Temple desires to communicate to the public as much as possible consistently with the exclusion of everything of a secret or dubious description.

2. It will become the duty of each Head Assistant in future to suggest what papers should be sent to the Editors of newspapers, and to state precisely what papers he thinks should be sent on each occasion. Head Assistants should use their judgment in determining at what stage or stages of each correspondence their suggestions can be made so as to be of most service to the press and to the public. Before being acted on, the suggestions must in all cases receive the sanction of the Secretary, Junior Secretary, or Under-Secretary. The sanction obtained, it will become the duty of the drafter, in the case of printed papers, to put up the usual draft to the Editors.

3. When the papers are printed, the sorter should take care to secure a sufficient number of spare copies to supply all the Editors of the papers who are included in the authorized list, and despatch them at the same time as the papers are despatched to Government officers.

4. At present the Editors of the following papers are on the authorized list:—

Englishman.	Times of India.
Indian Daily News.	Darjeeling Advertiser.
Indian Mirror.	Umrita Bazar Patrika.
Friend of India.	Howrah Herald.
The Pioneer.	The Hindoo Patriot.

The several Secretaries to the Government of Bengal can add to this list according to their discretion.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor also desires that information contained in the papers which are not printed should be placed at the service of the press, when this can properly be done; and for this purpose he has directed the preparation of an Editor's room at the Secretariat, and the provision of a table on which these papers will be placed. This room will be in the Sudder Street Office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

GEO. EASTON,

Acting Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION REGARDING THE TEXT-BOOKS FOR THE VERNACULAR SCHOLARSHIP AND MINOR SCHOLARSHIP COURSE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—EDUCATION.—No. 2993

READ—

A letter from the Officiating Director of Public Instruction, No. 4400, dated the 13th September 1875, submitting a report from the Central Committee appointed to draw up a selected list of text-books for the Vernacular Scholarship and Minor Scholarship course.

Rajah Jotendro Mohun Tagore	President.
Baboo Rajendralala Mittra	Members
„ Bhudeb Mookerjea	Members
Mr A. W Garrett	Members

A Committee, consisting of the gentlemen named in the margin, was appointed on the 13th August 1875 to examine the existing educational text-books, and to draw up a list from which District Committees of Public Instruction should be at liberty to select such manuals as they considered best adapted for use in their several districts. The Committee have now submitted the list, and the Director of Public Instruction recommends its adoption.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to return his cordial thanks to the President and Members of the Committee for the assistance they have given to Government in this matter, and for the care and judgment they have shown in the preparation of the list. The list of selected works is appended to this Resolution, and it is His Honor's wish that these text-books should be used at the examination of 1876, it being left to the District School Committees to select in each subject such work or works as they consider it advisable to adopt.

3. With regard to the proposal of the Committee that the History of India should form one of the subjects of examination, the Lieutenant-Governor desires that it may be understood that the District Committees have a discretion to select (in the subject of history and geography) any historical and any geographical work included in the list. The text-books of the History of India recommended by the Committee have been added to the list.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has taken note of the suggestion that the Bengali translation of Mr. Blandford's Physical Geography should be included among the text-books, and has directed that this work should form one of the selected books in that subject.

5. It is observed that the Committee have not been able to recommend any other original works by native authors on the subjects of chemistry and botany than those which were mentioned in the Minute of the 3rd May. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that these useful branches of study will receive at the hands of our vernacular authors the attention which their importance demands, and that additional manuals of chemical and botanical science will be prepared.

6. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to express a hope that the Central Committee will not consider their functions as having terminated with the submission of the present report, but that they will continue to favor the Government with their recommendations for the inclusion in the selected list of such new text-books as may appear to them to possess sufficient merit.

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

	9	Moorshedabad, „ 2, „	95	Seasonable weather. The rainfall of the week has proved very beneficial to the crops. At Jungypore 3·38 inches fell. In some places the growth of the crops has been so luxuriant that the plants have been clipped to prevent excessive development of the stalk. Prices have fallen. A few cases of small-pox reported from Bhurutpore, and fever is prevalent in parts. Public health otherwise good.
RAJSHAHYE DIVN.	10	Dinagepore, „ 1, „	37	Rainfall according to Magistrate's rain-gauge. ·15. No rain for the last four days. Although the higher ground is dry, the rice looks well, and a good harvest may be expected. Some bhadoi and jute are still on the ground. Hemanto transplanting probably completed. Fever continues. No fresh report of small-pox. A few cases of cholera.
	11	Maldah, „ 2, „	1 65	There has been general rain throughout the district. The early autumn rice has been fully reaped in one thana, and a half crop obtained. The winter rice promises well
	12	Rajshahye, „ 2, „	1·46	There has been slight rain during the week in all quarters. The prospects of the late rice crops are good throughout the district, but rain is still wanted towards north and north-east of the district. The kalye pulse is looking well. Rivers falling rapidly. Twenty-seven cases of cholera reported during the week, of which 12 were fatal, chiefly in Belmaria thana.
	13	Rungpore, „ 1, „	·48	Rainfall at Koorigram ·61, Gyebandah 2 07, and Bagdogra ·15 inches. More rain is urgently required, and already much damage has been caused to the rice in the higher lands. Slight showers continue, and the present cloudy appearance of the sky gives hopes of a heavy downpour. The rainfall has been much heavier at Gyebanda than in other parts of the district.
	14	Bogra, „ 2, „	·33	Weather hot, with subsequent rain and a storm. A full crop may be expected if a little rain falls between this and the end of the poojah.
	15	Pubna, „ 2, „	1·13	Weather clear and fine, with occasional showers. State and prospects of the crops are good. Fever in the town of Pubna has decreased.

	Central Districts.—(Con'd)
COOCH BEHAR DIVN. 16	Darjeeling, Oct 1, '75	·70	Very little rain actually fell, but it has been hazy, and threatening rain all through the week. The bhadoi dhan, or early rice, is nearly all gathered in, and has given a fair outturn. The winter crop is progressing favorably
17	Julpigoree, " 2, "	1 14	Reliable information has been received that in pergunnah Patgram about 6 annas of the main rice land is fallow for want of rain, and the paddy planted is not flourishing. The pergunnah constitutes 1-20th part of the area of the district. In Boda pergunnah, constituting nearly 1-4th part of the district, there has been almost a total absence of rain for three weeks, and the accounts are not good of the crops, but they are not so bad as in Patgram. There are not bad accounts of the remaining portion of the district. Cholera has ceased in the jail, but still continues here and there in the district
	Cooch Behar, Sept 30, "	1·11	Weather hot and fair. The prospects of the late rice and the jute crops in the southern part of the raj are reported to be good. In other parts the want of sufficient rain is still being felt, and the prospects of the crops are not favorable at present
	Eastern Districts
DACCA DIVN. 18	Dacca, Oct 4,* '75	1·38	Weather sultry. State and prospects of the crops are favorable. A few cases of cholera reported
19	Fureedpore, " 2, "	·69	Weather continues hot and close. The inundation is rapidly decreasing; a little more rain would do good to the crops, which are at present good and promising, except in the Goalundo sub-division, where they are reported to have slightly suffered from the sudden fall of water. The general health of the district continues good.
20	Backergunge, Sept 30, "	3 86	Seasonable rain has fallen. State and prospects of the crops are good
21	Mymensingh, Oct 1, "	5 94	Thunder and heavy showers of rain. Three inches of rain fell in one shower. State and prospects of the late rice are favorable. The rivers have fallen rapidly during the week.
22	Tipperah, " 1, "	·11	Weather very hot, still and oppressive. Transplanting of winter rice still continues. Prospect of crops not altered since last return. The lately transplanted rice will require a fair amount of rain in October, or it will bear no grain
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 23	Chittagong, Sept 30, "	6 50	Most of the rain has fallen at night. It has been accompanied by thunder. Rainfall at Cox's Bazar has been less. The crops are progressing well.
24	Noakholly, " 30, "	·46	Bright sunshiny weather and very hot. Wind generally south. The reaping of the early rice is not yet completed. The transplantation of the late rice still continues
25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, " 28, "	2 76	Weather seasonable. Slight showers of rain on the 21st, 22nd, 27th, and 28th September, and heavy rain on the morning of the 23rd idem. The reaping of the joom paddy still continues. Slight showers of rain during the week have done good to the cotton plants and to the paddy sown broadcast by plough cultivators
	Hill Tipperah, " 29, "	·75	Cloudy weather, with occasional slight showers. Nights getting perceptibly cooler. The winter rice crops promise well. Public health good everywhere but in Koilashur
BEHAR
PATNA DIVN. 26	Patna, Oct 4,* "	Nil	Seasonable weather. Prospects of crops continue favorable, but more rain is wanted. Health generally good.
27	Gya, " 2, "	·82	No rain to speak of anywhere. Maximum reading of thermometer 92·0. In Jehanabad more rain is wanted. Everywhere rice crop which cannot be irrigated is getting bad. In Nawadah and Aurungabad prospects keep good. In parts of Sudder sub-division more rain is wanted.
28	Shahabad, " 2, "	·31	There has been little rain during the past week, the showers being of trifling value and very local. The sky was clear at the time of report, and there is no prospect of more rain. Reports from parts of the head-quarters and Buxar sub-divisions show that there will be considerable loss of paddy unless rain falls soon. Some few applications have been received for water from the canal
29	Durbhunga, " 2, "	3 20	Weather fair, cool in the mornings and evenings. Prospects of the rice crop are still favorable, but rain is much required. The bhadoi crop has been fairly good, and for the most part harvested.
30	Mozufferpore, " 2, "	1 10	Weather hot, with west winds. In Mozufferpore sub-division the prospects of the rice crops are good, but more rain is wanted. The bhadoi crops are still being harvested. In Seetamarhee sub-division the bhadoi harvest has been good. In the north and east of the sub-division the rice crop promises well, but in Seetamarhee and its neighbourhood prospects are bad. There have been some showers during the week, but much more rain is wanted. In Hajeepore sub-division prospects continue favorable. For the last few days west winds have been blowing, and there seems little probability of rain

* Telegrams of the 4th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding

	32	Chumparun, „ 1, „	1·76	More rain is wanted in the south-east of the district; elsewhere the fall has been sufficient hitherto, though more will be wanted in order to secure a full rice and cold-weather crops. The prospects of the crops, except in a small tract in the south-east, are excellent In the south-east, even if rain should fall now, there will be almost certainly no short rice crop. The bhadoi crops have been excellent
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	33	Monghyr, „ 2, „	·25	Cloudless sky. The west wind has apparently set in earlier than usual, denoting fair weather. The rainfall during the past month has been somewhat scanty Rain is now wanted for the rice. Rubbee or cold-weather crop prospects are so far good.
	34	Bhagulpore, „ 4,* „	·04	September rain about half the average. Crops good in the south, and so far in Muddehpoora; but rain is very much wanted in Soopool Should there be no more, the crops there, will be very short. General health very good.
	35	Purneah, „ 2, „	Nil.	Weather hot and clear, with dry west wind Rain is much wanted everywhere. The crops are said to be suffering for want of it. Prices are rising slightly at Kusba

Other crops are generally doing well
	39	Balasore, Oct 1, „	·29	The rains seem to be breaking up, and the weather has become very hot. The floods have completely subsided, and the crops are uninjured and exceedingly promising. A considerable number of houses have been washed away; no other damage has been done. Cholera has broken out violently in a village near Bhudruck
CHOTA NAGPORE.		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 1, '75	·06	There has been a pleasant break in the weather, which seems likely to continue. Hitherto everything promises well for the future, but much depends upon some more good heavy rains in the course of the next fortnight.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 2, „	·19	Fine weather. The murwa millet is now being cut, and the outturn is fair. The prospects of the late rice crop are excellent throughout the district. Cholera has disappeared, and general health is good.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower raingauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

COMPETITIVE EXAMINATIONS FOR ADMISSION OF CANDIDATES TO THE NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE OF BENGAL.

Minute by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated the 25th September 1875.

Resolution dated the 22nd August 1874.
" " the 22nd June 1875.

THE Resolutions (as noted in the margin) by the Government of Bengal will have shewn that the examinations instituted by my predecessor (Sir George Campbell) for admission to the Native Civil Service on a principle the excellence of which is admitted have resulted in the passing of a large number of candidates. The number indeed is very satisfactory, as showing a widespread desire among the educated youths to qualify themselves for public employ; but it proves to be considerably in excess of the number of appointments to which they can be properly and conveniently appointed within any short time. Employment has been found for very many of the candidates, but I find from the latest returns that about 155 remain unemployed. Although orders have been reiterated to the local authorities to reserve, as far as possible, some employment for these qualified persons, still it is to be feared that some time must elapse before they are all employed It has consequently been notified that no more examinations will be held under the existing rules until further notice. Nevertheless, being anxious that there should be no interruption of the general effect of the principle introduced by my predecessor, I have considered whether experience has shewn that any practical improvements could be made in its working. It is natural to suppose that, as circumstances develope themselves progress will be found practicable in advancing the principle towards its legitimate conclusion, the principle being to encourage those who aspire to public employ to qualify themselves by the best and highest kinds of education.

2. In the first place, it is seen that to pass all those candidates who come up to a given standard, without any restriction on the numbers to be passed, will, in the present circumstances of the country, bring virtually on the hands of Government a larger number than can be conveniently provided for. It is quite true that the Government has never promised that every one who passes shall be employed or that absolutely all appointments shall be reserved for those who pass, or that none shall be appointed save these passed candidates. On the contrary, the Government has expressly reserved to itself a discretion in these respects. And such discretion is, and must be, exercised, inasmuch as there may be many good reasons, besides the winning of a place at an examination, for appointing native gentlemen to the higher grades in the public service. Still it seems that passed candidates do for the most part actually entertain expectations that some employment will be found for them And it is better to preclude the possibility of expectations being formed which the Government never absolutely bound itself to entirely fulfil, and perhaps may not be able to fulfil.

3. It is therefore indispensable that in future examinations a fixed number of places in the higher and in the lower class of appointments should be prescribed, for which will be passed those candidates who come out first at the examination. And for those who are thus passed, employment will be found. In other words, the system already begun for passing candidates for the Native Civil Service can be maintained only by the rule of competition for a fixed number of places. Those who thus pass will entertain expectations which will be fulfilled.

4. Further, it is understood that the existing rules have had the effect of according more weight than probably was intended to the "Entrance" Examination of the University, and have induced many candidates to regard the passing of that examination as being an end gained, instead of being what it is intended to be—a means to a particular end, namely, the taking of a degree. It is not to be supposed that a person who passes the Entrance standard is highly or even well educated. For the future, then, no candidate will be allowed to compete for the higher class of appointments, that is appointments of Rs. 100 and upwards, unless he be a graduate; nor for the lower class of appointments, that is appointments of less than Rs. 100, unless he shall have passed the First Arts Examination. The only exception allowed will be in favor of those who have served Government for six years, if candidates for the first class, and three years, if candidates for the second class.

5. Although it is important to open the higher grades of the service to remarkable merit in whatever section of the people it may be found, still it is very desirable also to obtain for these grades young men of the best stamp and the highest tone. The presenting of an University degree as a preliminary condition will tend to secure both of the above objects.

6. I propose, then, that an examination should be held next February, the same month as in previous years, and in the same subjects, for four places in the first class of appointments, and for seven places in the second class of appointments. The places will be awarded to the candidates according to priority in the examination, provided that none be passed for the higher standard unless he obtains at least two-thirds, or for the lower standard unless he obtains at least half, of the total number of obtainable marks upon the whole examination. Those who have already passed the previous examination for the Native Civil Service in the first class will be admitted to the competition for the first class without further certificate. But those previously passed for the second class only cannot compete for the first class unless they shall have taken an University degree, or have served Government for six years under the rules.

7. To the persons thus passed at the competitive examination, a general expectation will be afforded of employment within a reasonable time in the class of appointments for which each has passed, though no guarantee can be given of any particular appointment, or an appointment in a particular grade in that class, within a given time For instance, a person who wins a place in the higher class of appointments will be appointed sooner or later to at least a sub-deputyship on Rs 100 a month. But it does not at all follow that he will be appointed a Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector; he may or may not be so appointed; that will depend on the pleasure of Government.

8. The subjects for the examination will remain the same as those prescribed in October 1873 (by the Government letter No. 299E.), as they are found by experience to be both suitable and practical, giving due weight to botany, chemistry, engineering and surveying—the very branches to which our high education ought to be more and more directed, including also those professional and official subjects in which our native officers require training. The rules also which relate to riding, walking, and gymnastics are entirely retained as they are proved to have been useful in attracting attention to the benefit of bodily exercise, as well as mental culture

9. These orders will render necessary some modifications in the existing rules, chiefly by way of omission of various clauses issued with the Government letter No. 299E. of the 10th October 1873. A revised edition of the rules has been accordingly prepared.

NATIVE CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS AND CIVIL SERVICE CLASSES.

[Rules to come into force after the examination of 1875.]

INTRODUCTORY.

Now that there have been held four annual examinations for the Native Civil Service and that a fifth examination is to take place in February 1876, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to place the Native Civil Service examinations on a permanent footing.

2. All appointments in the Subordinate Executive Service, and all posts of Rs. 50 monthly salary and upwards in the sub-divisional establishments, both in Regulation and Non-Regulation Provinces, will ordinarily be reserved for persons who are passed at the Native Civil Service examination under the conditions specified in the subsequent paragraph 7 of these rules. Candidates for the gazetted appointments in the Police and Opium Departments will not be admitted to the examination save under a special certificate, which can only be granted under the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor. Lists of candidates passed under the subsequent paragraph 7 of these rules will be published in the Gazette.

ELIGIBILITY AND PRELIMINARIES TO THE EXAMINATION.

Admissible to examination.

3. All candidates eligible for appointments under rules 5 and 6 (below), who satisfy the preliminary requirements, will be admitted to the Native Civil Service examination.

4. The preliminary requirements which all candidates must satisfy are—

(a) Certificate of Character.

A certificate will be required from every candidate of his character, respectability, and general moral fitness, such certificate being signed by two gentlemen of his own nationality, resident in the district of which he is a native, or where he usually resides, and also signed by the Judge or Magistrate of such district. The certificate of the two firstnamed is expected to be based upon personal knowledge, and the certificate of the Judge or Magistrate to indicate that the gentlemen who have signed it are qualified by their position and character to give such a certificate, and that the Judge or Magistrate himself knows nothing to the prejudice of the candidate. In the case of the town of Calcutta, instead of the signature of the Judge or Magistrate, the certificate should bear that of any Judge of the High Court, or the Commissioner of Police, or the Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

Each candidate will be required to produce a certificate from a Government medical officer, stating that the candidate is generally a man of sound health, that he has expressed his willingness to serve in any district of the Lower Provinces, and that he (the medical officer) believes him to be capable of doing so, so far as can be judged antecedently.

(c) Certificate of ability to Ride or Walk.

Every candidate for the higher appointments will also be required to prove that he can ride, and for this purpose he may apply to the Magistrate of the district, who will either satisfy himself on the point, or select some other person he thinks competent for that purpose. The examiner must satisfy himself from his own personal observation that the candidate can ride not less than 12 miles at a rapid pace, and is in this respect competent for all practical purposes of district work; and if such examiner be not the Magistrate himself, the certificate must be countersigned by the Magistrate.

All the candidates who have not been locally examined, will be required to appear before some person in Calcutta who will be selected for the purpose.

Every candidate for an appointment of less than Rs. 100 will be required to prove either that he can ride as above, or that he can walk twelve miles within 3½ hours without difficulty or prostration, to be certified in the same manner as the riding.

5. The following persons will be eligible for the examination for the Native Civil Service in all appointments:—

Persons eligible for all appointments.

(a) Persons who have served Government for six years, and have held, for not less than two years, a responsible permanent appointment, above that of copyist, with a salary not less than Rs. 50 in one of the civil departments of the Government service, and can produce a sufficient certificate of ability, good conduct, and fitness for promotion from their official superiors.

(b) Persons who have taken an University degree in Arts, Law, Medicine, or Engineering.

(c) Persons who may be specially declared eligible for all appointments by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government.

6. The following persons will be eligible for the examination for the Native Civil Service in appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem:—

Persons eligible for appointments of less than Rs. 100 per mensem.

(a) Persons who have served Government with credit and efficiency for not less than three years, whose thorough facility in the use of the vernacular is certified, and who pass a preliminary examination in English.

(b) Persons who have passed the First Arts Examination.

(c) Persons who may have been specially declared eligible for appointments of the lower grade by a certificate under the hand of a Secretary to Government

7. The number of places which will be offered for competition in appointments of the higher and lower class respectively will be annually notified in the Gazette three months before the date of the examination. Appointments in the higher class are those of Rs. 100 and upwards, and in the lower class, those of less than Rs. 100. The places in each of the two classes will be awarded to the candidates according to priority in the examination: provided that none be passed for the higher class unless he obtains at least two-thirds, or for the lower class unless he obtains at least one half, of the total number of obtainable marks upon the whole examination. Candidates must declare whether they desire to compete for the higher or the lower class; and a candidate for a place in the higher class will not be eligible at that examination for a place in the lower class. To the persons thus passed at the competitive examination a general expectation will be afforded of employment within a reasonable time in the class of appointments for which each has passed, though no guarantee can be given of any particular appointment, or an appointment in a particular grade in that class, within a given time. For instance, a person who wins a place in the higher class of appointments will be appointed sooner or later to at least a sub-deputyship on Rs. 100 a month. But it does not at all follow that he will be appointed a Deputy Magistrate and Collector; he may or may not be so appointed; that will depend on the pleasure of Government.

8. Candidates will be examined in the following subjects:—

⁂ The Rig-Veda, the oldest book of Indian literature, has very properly been made one of the principal class-books for those who study Sanskrit in the schools and colleges in India, and though at present a scholarlike knowledge of the Vedic hymns is in the examinations required of the more advanced students only, yet, as soon as editions, translations, grammars, and dictionaries shall have rendered the study of these ancient documents more accessible, I doubt not that the time will come when no one in India will call himself a Sanskrit scholar who cannot construe the Hymns of the ancient Rishis of his country.—Extract from Preface.

The Lieutenant-Governor may, whenever he shall think fit, order that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in any district, or in any part of a district, or in any specified tract of country, and that the boundaries of estates, tenures, mouzahs, or fields be demarcated on the lands so to be surveyed:

Provided that in any district, of which a survey may have been completed and approved by the Government, it shall not be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to order a new survey of lands on the banks of rivers or on the sea-shore to be made for the purposes described in Act IX of 1847 (an Act regarding the assessment of land gained from the sea or from rivers by alluvion or dereliction within the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa), until ten years shall have expired from the completion and approval of any such previous survey.

Lieutenant-Governor may appoint Superintendent of Survey.

4. For the purpose of carrying out any survey directed to be made under the last preceding section, or for any or all of the purposes of this Act, the Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a Superintendent of Survey, who may exercise all or any of the powers of a Collector under this Act;

and may appoint one or more Assistant Superintendents and Deputy Collectors, who shall exercise all the powers of a Collector in respect to such matters under this Act as may be delegated to such Assistant Superintendents or Deputy Collectors respectively by the Collector or Superintendent of Survey, and not otherwise:

Provided that, notwithstanding the appointment of a Superintendent of Survey for any tract of country, it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to direct that the Collector shall perform any duties under the Act within the said tract.

Collector to publish a proclamation before entering on lands.

5. Before entering on any lands for the purpose of a survey, the Collector shall cause to be published a proclamation addressed to the occupants of the lands which are about to be surveyed, and of the conterminous lands, and to all persons employed on, or connected with the management of, or otherwise interested in, such lands, calling upon them to attend, either personally or by agent, before the Collector or any officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, at such places and at such times as shall be stated in such proclamation, during the demarcation and survey of the land, for the purpose of pointing out the boundaries and of rendering such aid as may be necessary in setting up or repairing such boundary marks as may be required, and of affording such assistance and information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act.

Such proclamation shall be published by posting a copy thereof

at the Court of the Judge and at the office of the Collector of every district within which any portion of the lands about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at every sub-divisional office, police station, moonsiff's court, and sub-registrar's office within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at one or more mâl cutcherries on each estate; and at such other place or places as to the Collector may seem fit.

Collector may enter upon land.

6. After issue of a proclamation as aforesaid, the Collector and any persons acting under his authority may enter upon such lands, and do all things and make all enquiries necessary for effecting the survey and demarcation of the boundaries thereof.

Collector may serve special notice.

7. The Collector may also, by a special notice, require any such person to attend before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than fifteen days after the service of the notice, at any places, for any of the purposes aforesaid; and every person on whom such special notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice, and to do any of the things mentioned in section five, and to give any information which may be required, so far as he may be able to give it.

Collector to pay the price of materials or labor supplied.

8. When any materials or labor shall have been supplied for any of the purposes mentioned in section five, the Collector or other officer making a requisition under that section shall forthwith cause the price of such materials or labor to be paid to the person by whom the same were supplied.

Collector may require occupants to clear boundary lines.

9. The Collector, or other survey officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, may, by a special notice, require any occupant to clear any boundary or other line which it may be necessary to clear for the purposes of the survey, by cutting down and removing any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops.

Compensation.

10. If any demand for compensation be made, in respect of the clearance of any line in accordance with a requisition under the last preceding section, the Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops which may have been cut down or removed, and shall offer adequate compensation to the owners thereof, together with payment for all expenses incurred in carrying out the said requisition.

Ameen or Survey Officer to call upon persons to sign maps or papers.

11. When the demarcation of a village or other convenient tract has been completed, the Ameen or other survey officer shall, before sending in to the Collector the maps and papers relating thereto, by a general notice in which the names of all persons required to appear shall be specified, and which shall be posted up at a convenient place in the village or tract, call upon all persons who have pointed out any boundaries in such village or tract on behalf of those interested to attend before him within three days of the publication of the said notice for the purpose of inspecting the maps, field-books, and similar papers in which any boundary pointed out by any such person has been represented, and by signing such maps and papers to certify that the boundaries have been laid down in accordance with the boundaries pointed out by them; and every person so called upon shall be legally bound to attend before such Ameen or survey officer, and to inspect the papers, in accordance with such requisition.

Statement of objections.

Any person so called upon, who may object to sign the maps and papers as aforesaid, shall be required to state his objections in writing, and such statement shall be attached to the record of the demarcation of the village or tract, and shall be submitted to the Collector together with the maps and papers.

Effect of signature.

The signature affixed to any maps or papers under this section shall be in attestation of the fact that the boundaries thereon represented, or any of them, have been represented in accordance with those pointed out by the person signing; and the affixing of such signature shall not be held to prejudice the right of any person interested to make any objection to such boundaries on any other ground before the Collector under the next succeeding section.

On receipt of maps, Collector to post notification in his office.

12. On receipt in the Collector's Office of the maps or papers showing any boundaries which have been demarcated, the Collector shall cause a notification to be posted in his office, and in such other places as he may think proper, informing all persons concerned that the maps and papers relating to the boundaries in the village or tract specified are open to inspection; and requiring any person who may have any objections to prefer, to prefer such objections within six weeks of the date of the posting of such notification, after which time the Collector will proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as laid down for the purposes of the survey.

Collector when to issue special notice.

Whenever the Collector shall have reason to believe (either from the failure of any person interested or his representatives to sign the maps and papers on the spot when required by the survey officer to do so under the last preceding section, or for any other reason), that any zemindar or person interested is likely to object to any boundary as laid down or as represented in the said papers, the Collector shall cause a special notice requiring such zemindar or other person to attend personally or by duly authorized agent before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than one month after the service of the notice, for the purpose of signing and thereby admitting the correctness of any maps or other papers which have been prepared under this Act in respect of any boundary in which such zemindar or other person is interested, or of stating in writing the substance of any objection which he may wish to prefer against the correctness of such maps or papers; and if any person so summoned shall fail to attend and to sign the said maps or papers, or to give in a written statement of his objections within the time prescribed, the Collector may proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as represented in such maps and papers, for the purposes of the survey and of this Act.

If agent deposits expenses of making copies, Collector shall order them to be prepared

Provided that if within the time specified any such duly authorized agent deposits with the Collector the necessary expenses of making copies of the said maps or papers, the Collector shall order such copies to be prepared, and as soon as they are prepared, shall cause a notice to that effect to be posted at his office, and the said agent shall be allowed such time as may be specified in such notice, not being less than fifteen days from the posting thereof, for the purpose of signing or of giving in a written statement of objections.

Procedure when objection is stated.

When a written statement of objections has been given in, as in this section provided, the Collector, after holding any further inquiry which he may deem necessary, shall pass such order in respect of such objections as to him shall seem fit; and if the objections shall seem to him not to be well founded, shall direct that all expenses of such further inquiry, and all expenses entailed on any other person by such inquiry, shall be recovered from the person who made the objection.

Person making subsequent objection may be required to deposit costs of further inquiry.

13 Whenever any person, having failed to sign the maps and papers, or to give in his objections in writing within the time prescribed by the notification or by the special notice mentioned in the last preceding section, shall, at any time before the Collector has finally confirmed the boundaries for the purposes of the survey, prefer any subsequent objection against the correctness of any maps or papers in respect of which such notification or notice was issued, the Collector shall require him to deposit the estimated costs of any further inquiry which it may be necessary to make in respect of his objection; and if the said person shall fail to deposit such costs within the time specified by the Collector, he shall be deemed for all purposes of this Act to have admitted the correctness of the said maps and papers. If the costs of any inquiry which may be deemed necessary be deposited, the Collector shall make such further inquiry at the expense of the person so objecting; and if the objection shall seem to the Collector not to be well founded, he may pass such order as he shall think fit in respect of the recovery from the objector of any sum expended by the Collector on the inquiry in excess of the sum deposited, and of any necessary expenses incurred by any other persons on account of such inquiry.

Provided that no person so making an objection after the prescribed time, shall, under any circumstances, be entitled to recover the expenses which he is required to deposit before any further inquiry is made in respect of such subsequent objection.

PART III.

OF BOUNDARY MARKS.

Collector may erect temporary boundary marks.

14. The Collector may cause to be erected temporary boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner as he may direct, on any lands to be surveyed under this Act; and may require any occupant of land to maintain and keep in repair such marks, or any boundary marks, until any survey operations shall be concluded and a final award given as to any disputed boundary, or until permanent boundary marks may be erected in lieu thereof as hereinafter provided.

Collector may erect permanent boundary marks.

15. The Collector may at any time cause to be erected, on any land which is to be, or which has been surveyed under this Act, permanent boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner, as he may determine to be sufficient to distinguish the boundaries of the estates, tenures, mouzahs, or fields for which the same are to be erected.

Specification of marks and estimate of their cost to be posted in Collector's Office.

Provided that seven days before he proceeds to the erection of any permanent boundary marks, the Collector shall, for the information of all concerned, cause to be posted in his office, and in the mâl cutcherry, or at some other convenient place on every estate concerned, a specification of the number and character of the marks which he proposes to erect on the estate and an estimate of their cost.

Apportionment of expenses.

16. All expenses incurred by the Collector in erecting temporary or permanent boundary marks under this Act shall, in manner hereinafter provided, be apportioned among, and levied from, the zemindars and tenure-holders on their estates;

Provided that no tenure-holder shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses incurred by the erection of boundary marks on an estate, unless some portion of his tenure is situated within fifteen hundred feet of some such boundary mark.

Lands not subject to rent to be deemed to be part of a tenure.

17. All lands held without payment of rent, not being entered on the Collector's register of revenue-free tenures of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they may be included; and if they be not included within the local boundary of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any one estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal, appoint.

Provided that no rent-free holding, of which the annual value is less than five rupees, shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses of erecting boundary marks under this Act.

Procedure when occupant fails to maintain boundary mark.

18. If any occupant on whom a requisition has been made under section fourteen, fails to maintain, or keep in repair, any temporary boundary mark, the Collector may maintain, keep in repair, or restore any such boundary mark, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be recovered as provided in section fifty-seven from the person so failing to maintain, or keep in repair, any such boundary mark.

Zemindar, &c., bound to preserve boundary-marks and give notice to Collector when they are injured.

19. Every zemindar, tenure-holder and farmer of land shall be legally bound to preserve, as far as lies in his power, such of the permanent boundary marks lawfully erected on his estate, tenure, or farm, or on the boundary between his estate, tenure, or farm, and any other estate tenure, or farm, as may be assigned to him in that respect entirely, or jointly with other persons, under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and shall give immediate notice to the Collector if any such marks are injured, destroyed, or removed, or require repairs.

Collector may re-erect injured boundary mark and recover expenses from zemindar, &c.

20. Whenever it shall come to the notice of the Collector that any permanent boundary mark erected under the provisions of this Act, has been injured, destroyed, or removed, or requires repairs, the Collector may cause such boundary mark to be re-erected, restored, or repaired, and may recover any expenses incurred in respect of such re-erection, restoration, or repair, in such proportions as he shall think fit, from the zemindars and tenure-holders to whom such boundary mark may have been assigned in that respect under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and all such expenses shall be recoverable as provided in section fifty-seven.

Collector may cause boundary mark to be erected by occupant of land with his consent.

21. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to prohibit the Collector from causing any temporary or permanent marks to be erected, maintained or repaired by any occupant of land, under the directions of the said Collector, and with the consent of such occupant.

The Collector shall repay to such occupant the expenses incurred in such erection or repair, and such expenses shall be apportioned and recovered as provided in Part IV.

PART IV.

OF THE APPORTIONMENT AND RECOVERY OF EXPENSES.

Collector to prepare statement of all expenses incurred in respect of boundary marks.

22. Upon the completion of the erection of boundary marks on any tract of land of which the survey may have been ordered, or on any convenient portion thereof, the Collector shall forthwith prepare a statement of all expenses incurred in respect of such boundary marks.

Contents of the statement.

23. Such statement shall show the total number of marks of each description which have been erected on such tract, or portion of such tract, the aggregate cost of erecting all the marks of each description, the names of the estates and mouzahs within, or on the boundaries of which any marks have been erected, and the total number of marks of each description erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Collector to apportion the cost of erecting marks among the estates.

24. Upon the completion of such statement, the Collector shall provisionally apportion the aggregate expenses of erecting the marks among the estates specified, with reference to the number of boundary marks of each description which have been erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Notice to be served.

25. So soon as the provisional apportionment shall have been made as required by the last preceding section, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on the zemindar of every estate on which the expenses have been apportioned,

(a) specifying the sum which has been apportioned on his estate, and as far as can be calculated, the sum which he will be required to pay on account of the service of notices on him under this section and section twenty-nine;

(b) informing him that the said statement is open to inspection in the office of the Collector;

(c) calling on him to appear in person, or by agent properly authorized, at the office of the Collector on a date to be specified in the notice (not being less than two months after the issue of the notice), on which date the Collector will proceed to consider any objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment of expenses;

(d) warning him that if he does not appear on the date fixed in pursuance of the notice he will be deemed to have waived all objections to the share of the expenses apportioned to his estate;

and (unless as otherwise hereinafter provided in sections thirty-one, thirty-two, and thirty-three)

(e) informing him that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally made payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from such tenure-holders on his estate as are made liable to bear a portion of such expenses by sections sixteen and seventeen (of which sections a copy shall be annexed to the notice); and that in order to enable the Collector to apportion the said amount among the said tenure-holders, he may give in a list of all such tenures as defined in this Act, held directly from him, with a specification of the number of boundary marks of each description which are erected within or on the boundary of each tenure; and

(f) warning him that if he fails to give in a list of tenures as aforesaid on or before the said date, he will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount for which he may be held liable under section twenty-six.

Collector to make final apportionment.

26. On the date fixed in such notice, the Collector shall proceed to consider all objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment, and to make such final apportionment of the expenses as shall seem to him fit; in making such final apportionment, the costs of serving all notices under section twenty-five shall be distributed rateably among the estates concerned, in proportion to the share of the expenses of erecting boundary marks which may be apportioned to each estate; and the amount so finally apportioned as payable in respect of each estate, together with the costs of serving notices rateably distributed as aforesaid, shall be due to the Collector from the zemindars of such estates.

Collector may postpone final apportionment.

27. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding section, the Collector may postpone the final apportionment if it shall appear to him that a notice under section twenty-five has not been served on the zemindar of any estate which should be made liable for a portion of the expenses, or for any other sufficient reason.

Zemindar failing to appear will be deemed to have waived all objections.

28. Any zemindar failing to appear on the date fixed in the notice served on him under section twenty-five will be deemed to have waived all objections to the payment of the amount apportioned to his estate, and will not be entitled to prefer any objections thereto on any subsequent date; and any zemindar failing to give in a list of tenures (when called upon under section twenty-five to give in such list), on or before such date, will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount which may have been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six.

Collector to issue a notice specifying amount finally apportioned.

29. So soon as the expenses shall have been finally apportioned under section twenty-six among the estates concerned as hereinbefore provided, the Collector shall issue a notice in respect of every estate, specifying the amount finally apportioned as payable in respect of the estate, and requiring the zemindar to pay such amount to the Collector, together with the costs of serving such notice, within one month of the issue of the notice. If such amount be not paid to the Collector within such period, the same, with interest, at such rate, not exceeding six per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine, may be levied as provided in section fifty-seven.

The notice issued under this section shall assign to the zemindar, or to the zemindar jointly with tenure-holders, the boundary marks which they are legally bound to preserve under the provisions of section nineteen, and in respect of which they will be held liable to pay the costs of re-erection, maintenance, and repair, under the provisions of section twenty.

Notice shall assign boundary marks which zemindars are bound to preserve.

Collector to apportion between zemindar and tenure-holders.

30. If the zemindar of any estate shall give in a list of tenures, as referred to in section twenty-five, with an application to the Collector to apportion between his estate and the tenures the amount which has been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate as aforesaid, the Collector shall proceed to make a provisional apportionment of the said amount between the zemindar and the tenure-holders, to serve notices on the said tenure-holders in the manner provided in section twenty-five, and to make a final apportionment among the said zemindar and tenure-holders in the manner provided in sections twenty-six and twenty-seven; and the provisions of section twenty-eight shall be applicable to such tenure-holders.

No separate notice in respect of apportionment of sum less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section in respect of the provisional or final apportionment of the sum payable in respect of any tenure, if such sum be less than two rupees; but in respect of all such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list showing the sums apportioned as payable. Such list shall be published by being posted at the office of the Sub-divisional Officer and at a conspicuous place in some village within which lands appertaining to the tenure are situate.

Summary apportionment between zemindar and tenure-holders.

31. Notwithstanding any thing in this Part contained, whenever the Collector may consider that he has sufficient information (whether derived from papers compiled for the purposes of the road cess, from enquiries made in the course of proceedings under this Act, or otherwise), to enable him in a summary way to make an apportionment of any expenses recoverable under this Act in respect of any estate, between the zemindars of and the holders of tenures in such estate, the Collector may, as soon as possible after he shall have made a provisional apportionment under section twenty-four of the sum payable in respect of such estate, and without calling on the zemindar to give in any list of tenures as provided in clause (e) of section twenty-five, proceed to make a provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders of such estates of the sum which has been provisionally apportioned under section twenty-four as payable in respect of the estate.

Notice to be served on zemindar when provisional apportionment has been made summarily.

32. Whenever any provisional apportionment of the sum payable between the zemindars and the tenure-holders may have been made summarily, as provided in the last preceding section, the notice to be served on the zemindar under section twenty-five, shall inform the zemindar, in addition to the particulars specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of the said section, and instead of those specified in clauses (e) and (f), that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from the tenure-holders on his estate; and that the Collector has made a provisional apportionment of the said sum between the zemindar and tenure-holders, according to a list which shall be annexed to the said notice;

and shall warn him

that if he fails to prefer any objection to such provisional apportionment on or before the date specified, he will be deemed to have given up all right to prefer any such objection at any future time; and that the Collector will proceed to make such apportionment final, or to make any modifications in it which he may think fit; provided that the sum finally made payable by the zemindar shall not exceed the sum apportioned upon him in the said provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders.

Procedure on provisional apportionment.

33. As soon as a provisional apportionment between the zemindar and the tenure-holders shall have been made summarily as provided in section thirty-one, the Collector shall proceed to serve notices on the tenure-holders concerned in the manner provided in section thirty, and to do all other things as if the said provisional apportionment upon tenure-holders had been made on a list given in by the zemindar under section thirty.

Mode of apportionment among tenures.

34. In apportioning the amount among the zemindar and the tenure-holders, the Collector shall first deduct such sum as he shall consider to be fairly payable by the zemindar in respect of lands not included in any tenure, and in respect of his interest in lands which are included in tenures; and in apportioning the remainder among the tenures, he shall take into consideration the number of pillars erected within or on the boundary of each tenure, the extent of each tenure, and the distance at which it is situated from the boundary marks; but no tenure shall be made liable for any portion of the sum so apportioned, unless some part of it be situated within fifteen hundred feet from some boundary mark.

Notice of apportionment in respect of tenures.

35. So soon as the final apportionment among tenure-holders under section thirty shall be completed, the Collector shall cause to be issued notices to each of the said tenure-holders, stating the amount payable in respect of each of their tenures, with interest (if any) calculated at the annual rate of six per centum from the date on which the zemindar paid to the Collector the sum which was apportioned on his estate under section twenty-six, and the cost of serving upon the tenure-holder the notice under this section, and calling upon him to pay the total amount so due to the zemindar of the estate of which the tenure is a part, within one month of the date of the notice.

No separate notice to be served on tenure-holder who is required to pay less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section on any tenure-holder who is required to pay a sum of less than two rupees as his share of the expenses apportioned under this Act; but in respect of such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list in the manner prescribed by section thirty, and no costs incurred in respect of the publication of any such list shall be recoverable from any person mentioned therein as liable to pay less than two rupees.

Collector not to issue notices to tenure-holders until zemindars have deposited costs.

36. Notwithstanding anything contained in section thirty-five, the Collector shall not issue the notices therein mentioned to the tenure-holders until the zemindars concerned shall have deposited with the Collector the full amount of the costs of serving all the notices, and of publishing the lists as required by that section.

Apportionment between tenure-holder and holder of subordinate tenure.

37. The provisions of sections twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-four and thirty-five shall be applicable, as far as possible, to every case in which any tenure-holder, who has been made liable for the payment of any share of expenses under this Act, may apply to the Collector to apportion the amount for which he has been made liable, between himself and the holders of subordinate tenures direct from himself;

and the provisions of sections thirty-one, thirty-two and thirty-three, regarding the procedure for making a provisional apportionment in a summary way between a zemindar and the tenure-holders on his estate, shall be applicable, as far as possible, to the provisional apportionment of expenses between the holder of a tenure and the holders of under-tenures within his tenure;

provided always that no such apportionment shall be made in respect of ryots who have a right of occupancy only, and whose rent is not fixed in perpetuity.

Recovery of sums payable to zemindar or tenure-holder.

38. Every zemindar or tenure-holder, to whom any sum is payable under the preceding sections, may recover the same with interest as aforesaid in the manner provided by any law for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of rent in respect of the tenure for which the sum is due.

Recovery of sums expended by Government since 1st November 1874.

39. The provisions of this Part shall apply to all sums expended by the Government since the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four in erecting boundary marks.

PART V.

BOUNDARY DISPUTES.

Procedure in case of dispute as to any boundary.

40. If it shall come to the notice of the Collector, in the course of a survey under this Act, that a dispute exists as to any boundary which should be surveyed, the Collector, after holding such enquiry as he may deem necessary, may determine such boundary as hereinafter provided.

Powers of Collector when boundary not determined by Court or laid down by Revenue Survey.

41. The Collector shall determine the boundary according to actual possession, and cause it to be secured by boundary marks; and the order of the Collector under this section shall, until it be reversed or modified by competent authority, have the force of an order of any Civil Court declaring the parties to be in possession of the land in accordance with the boundary as determined by the Collector

Power of Collector to take possession of land in dispute.

42. If after holding the necessary enquiry the Collector is unable to discover which party was in possession of the disputed land when he instituted the enquiry under this section, the Collector may take possession of the land in dispute, and retain possession thereof until some party shall have established his right to the said land.

Power to refer to arbitration.

43. Whenever the Collector thinks it necessary to decide a dispute as to any boundary under the last preceding section, he may, with the consent of the parties concerned, refer the same to arbitration.

The procedure laid down in Chapter VI of Act VIII of 1859 (the Code of Civil Procedure) shall, so far as may be practicable, be applicable to disputes so referred to arbitration.

Powers of a Collector when boundary determined by Court or by Revenue Survey.

44. If the boundary regarding which the dispute exists as mentioned in section forty shall at any previous time have been determined by any Court of competent jurisdiction; or shall have been laid down and shown on a map in the course of any previous Revenue Survey or Settlement, and no objection to the boundary as then laid down and mapped shall have been preferred before any authority competent to decide on such objection;

whenever the dispute relates to the boundary of an estate which is liable for revenue, or to any other boundary by which the interests of the Government may be affected, the Collector shall,

and whenever the dispute relates to any other boundary, the Collector may, if he thinks fit, relay, as nearly as may be possible, the boundary as previously determined or laid down and shown on the map, and cause such boundary to be shown on the survey map, with an explanatory note to the same;

provided that the relaying and record of a boundary by the Collector under this section shall not affect the possession of any land by any party; and shall be in addition to the determination and record of the boundary according to actual possession required by section forty-one.

Collector may deviate from boundary if parties agree.

Nothing contained in this section shall be held to prohibit the Collector from deviating from a boundary as held by actual possession or as shown on a former map, and laying down a new boundary, if all the parties concerned agree to such new boundary, on the ground that the boundary held by actual possession, or as shown on the former map, was incorrect, and if it appears to the Collector that there is no objection to the adoption of such new boundary.

The reason for every such deviation shall be recorded in the Collector's proceedings.

Power of Collector at any time when doubt or dispute exists as to any boundary

45. If it shall come to the notice of the Collector at any time, or in any manner, that a doubt or dispute exists in respect to any boundary

(a) which has at any time been determined by a competent Court; or

(b) which has been laid down and shown on a map, in the course of a previous Revenue Survey or Settlement, or other proceeding of a revenue officer for any special purpose, and against which no objection has been preferred to any authority competent to decide upon such objection; or

(c) which has been laid down by a Survey under this Act,

the Collector may, if he thinks it desirable for any reason that the boundary so determined or laid down shall be relaid, proceed to relay the boundary in the manner prescribed in section forty-four of this Act, and for the purpose of so relaying the boundary he may make any enquiries and surveys which may be necessary, and such enquiries and surveys shall be deemed to be proceedings under section six, and the Collector shall exercise in respect thereof all powers which he may exercise in respect of enquiries and surveys under that section.

In certain cases Collector may cause marks to be erected.

46. Whenever the Collector shall have determined a boundary which was in dispute, and the order shall have become final, and whenever a boundary which has been supplied by the survey officers, or has been determined under this Act, has been altered by a decree of any Civil Court, which has become final, and whenever it shall come to the notice of the Collector that any boundary has been determined by a competent Court or authority, the Collector may cause such marks as he may think fit to be erected in order to secure the boundary permanently, and the provisions of Parts III and IV shall, so far as is possible, be applicable to boundary marks which are erected under this section, and to the apportionment of the cost thereof.

PART VI.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Joint zemindars to be subject to every liability imposed on single zemindars.

47. Whenever any estate or tenure is held jointly by two or more zemindars or tenure-holders, all such zemindars and tenure-holders shall be jointly and severally liable in respect of every liability imposed on zemindars or tenure-holders respectively by this Act;

And any shareholder in any estate or tenure who may have paid the amount finally apportioned to such estate or tenure, may recover from his co-sharers such sums as may be payable in respect of their shares as arrears of rent, or may take credit for such sums in any adjustment of accounts between himself and his co-sharers.

Service of notice.

48. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served on any person may be served—

(1) by delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person resides, or by delivering the said notice to a general agent of the person to whom such notice is directed; or

(2) by sending a registered letter containing such notice directed to the said person at his usual place of abode, or to the place where he may be known to reside; or

(3) by posting a copy of the notice at any mâl cutcherry of the estate or tenure of the person to whom the notice is directed; or if no such mâl cutcherry be found, on some conspicuous place on the said estate or tenure to which such notice relates, and by delivering, in the case of estates paying their annual revenue by four instalments, another copy thereof to any agent who shall have paid an instalment of revenue next after the preparation of such notice. In all cases where two or more persons are holders of an estate or tenure, service of notice under this clause shall be deemed to be good and sufficient service on each and all of such persons.

No proceedings under this Act to be affected by any mistake or misdescription.

49. No proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of any mistake in the name of any person thereby rendered liable to pay any sum of money, or in the description of any estate or tenure or land in respect of which he is rendered liable to pay, or by reason of any other informality, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of the omission to serve any notice on any zemindar whose name is not recorded on the Collector's registers as owner of the estate in respect of which the notice is required to be served.

Power of Collector to enforce attendance of witnesses.

50. For the purpose of any enquiry under this Act, the Collector shall, in addition to every power conferred specially by this Act, have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses and compel the production of documents by the same means (as far as may be), and in the same manner, as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

Daily fine for failure to comply with requisition in notice.

51. If any person shall fail to comply with a requisition contained in any special notice served under section seven of this Act, or in any notice served for the purpose of any inquiry under Part V of this Act, within the time specified in such notice, the Collector may impose upon him such daily fine as he may think fit, not exceeding fifty rupees, and such fine shall be payable daily until the requisition is complied with; and the Collector may proceed from time to time to levy any amount which has become due in respect of any such fine, notwithstanding that an appeal against the order imposing such fine may be pending:

Provided that whenever the amount levied under any such order shall have exceeded five hundred rupees, the Collector shall report the case specially to the Commissioner of the Division, and no further levy in respect of such fine shall be made otherwise than by authority of the said Commissioner.

Penalty for failing to give notice of injury to boundary mark.

52. Any person, being bound by the provisions of section nineteen to give notice to the Collector in respect of any boundary mark having been injured, destroyed, or removed, or requiring repairs, who shall fail to give such notice, shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding one hundred rupees, to be imposed by order of the Collector.

Penalty for removing boundary marks.

53. Any person convicted before a Collector of wilfully erasing, removing, or damaging any boundary mark (not being a landmark fixed by the authority of a public servant within the meaning of section 434 of the Indian Penal Code) which has been lawfully erected, may be ordered by the convicting officer to pay such sum, not exceeding two hundred rupees, for each mark so erased, removed, or damaged, as the said officer may think fit, in addition to such sum as may be necessary to defray the expense of restoring the boundary mark so erased, removed, or damaged.

Collector may award portion of fine to informer.

54. The Collector may award any portion of a fine imposed under either of the two last preceding sections, and which may be realised, to any person who may have given information leading to the imposition of the fine.

Levy of fine.

55. Amendment of Act I of 1859, sec. 70.

9. And whereas it is expedient to increase the space required by the said Act No. I of 1859, section 70, to be allowed for European seamen and apprentices and for lascars or Native seamen; It is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Such section shall be read as if for the expressions "nine superficial feet," "fifty-four cubic feet," and "four superficial feet," the expressions "ten superficial feet," "sixty cubic feet," and "six superficial feet," were respectively substituted, and as if in the third paragraph of the same section after the word "superficial" the words "and thirty-six cubic" were inserted.

Meaning of 'established par value.'

Meaning of expression 'established par value' in Act I of 1859, section 54.

10. And whereas doubts have been raised as to the meaning of the expression "established par value" in the said Act No. I of 1859, section 54, for the purpose of removing such doubts; It is hereby declared as follows:—

In the said section 54, the expression "established par value" means the rate of exchange for the time being fixed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to regulate transactions between himself and the Government of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to make a number of small but important changes in the law relating to Merchant Seamen, which cannot conveniently be postponed until that law is consolidated and amended.

The Bill first provides for determining disputes whether or not a seaman is "distressed" within the meaning of the sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, relating to distressed seamen, and imposes an Indian penalty on Masters of British ships who refuse to receive on board distressed seamen in accordance with those sections.

The Bill then provides against the discharge in India of European seamen without the previous sanction of an officer appointed by the Local Government, and removes a doubt which has been felt as to the corresponding provision (section 207) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, by expressly declaring that such officer has a discretion as to giving or withholding his sanction.

Power is given to the Local Government to prohibit the owner or master of a ship from engaging Natives of India as seamen. This power is intended to be exercised in case it is found that the master is wantonly discharging European seamen for the mere purpose of replacing them by Natives.

Provision is then made that where a European seaman deserts, the master or owner shall report the desertion to the Local Government.

Sections 7 and 8 extend the provisions of section 88 of Act I of 1859, and contain certain rules as to European seamen imprisoned for breaches of discipline or other petty offences on the complaint of the Master. The previous sanction of the Local Government is rendered necessary to the engagement of Natives of India. The Local Government is also empowered to tender an imprisoned seamen to the Master; and, if the master refuse to receive him, the Master may be required to deposit, not only the wages, &c., due to the seamen, but also such sum as may be sufficient to defray the cost of his passage home and of his lodging and subsistence till he starts.

The Bill then contains a clause slightly increasing the space required by Act I of 1859, section 70, for European and for Native seamen.

Lastly, a clause has been added to remove a doubt which has been raised as to the meaning, in section 54 of that Act, of the expression "established par value."

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE STAMP DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MIS. REVENUE.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the administration of the Stamp Department for the year 1874-75

This report, though principally concerned with the stamp revenue of the Lower Provinces of Bengal, includes also the figures showing the sales in all the provinces and administrations supplied by the Stamp Office in Calcutta. The return of these sales, exclusive of postage, service, and telegraph stamps, gives the following results for the year under review:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Bengal	87,88,626	4	0
Assam	4,72,590	15	0
Punjab	23,86,345	7	0
North-Western Provinces	35,15,381	11	0
Oudh	9,25,670	3	0
British Burmah	5,05,488	10	0

In addition to these, there were some small receipts from Nepal, Port Blair, and some of the political agencies under the Government of India, bringing up the total sales of stamps during the year to an amount of Rs. 1,65,99,650-6-0.

2. It is interesting to observe the remarkable expansion which this branch of the public revenue has shown during the last fifteen years. In 1859-60 the sales in Bengal were below 30 lakhs of rupees, in Assam they just exceeded 1 lakh, in Punjab they were below 7 lakhs, in the North-Western Provinces they were below 13¾ lakhs, in Oude they amounted to Rs. 1,40,260, and in British Burmah to Rs. 17,245. The total sales in 1859-60 were only Rs. 52,94,201-7-0. The increase has consequently been greatest in Oude and in British Burmah, but on the whole the receipts on account of stamps have more than trebled during the last fifteen years.

3. On a comparison of the figures of the year under review with those of 1873-74, an increase is apparent in all the administrations except in the North-Western Provinces, the receipts from which exhibit a decrease of Rs. 1,55,465-15-8. The net increase of the year, as compared with the previous year, amounted to Rs. 6,78,962-7-10.

4. The present report is the first in which the stamp receipts of Assam have been shown separately from those of Bengal, and it is consequently difficult to institute any proper comparison between the revenue of the year in the Lower Provinces and that of the three and four years immediately preceding. The following figures, however, will show that there has been a progressive increase for several successive years, and that the receipts of 1874-75 in Bengal alone considerably exceeded those of Bengal and Assam combined in any previous year:—

1870-71	73,77,284	Including Assam.
1871-72	79,18,825
1872-73	83,90,747
1873-74	86,19,922
1874-75	87,88,026	Excluding Assam.

5. The figures given in the report are sufficient to enable a comparison to be made of the sales in Bengal (excluding Assam) during the year under review with those of the preceding year 1873-74. This comparison gives the following results under the several classes of stamps:—

Years.	Duties under General Stamp Act.
	Non-judicial stamps.	Special adhesive stamps.	Receipt, revenue, share transfer, and foreign bill stamps.	Hoondies, or bills of exchange.	Total of general stamps.	Duties under Court Fees' Act.	Total under both Acts.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	16,80,665	5,22,322	1,81,687	96,731	24,81,405	56,98,956	81,80,361
1874-75	16,93,308	5,58,256	1,91,761	97,914	25,41,239	62,46,787	87,88,026
Increase ..	12,643	35,934	10,074	1,183	59,834	5,47,831	6,07,665
Percentage of increase	·7	6·8	5·5	1·2	2·4	9·6	7·4

6. It appears from these figures that there was an increase in the gross revenue under all denominations of stamps over the preceding year. Of the total increase, by far the largest proportion was contributed by court fees' stamps; non-judicial stamps of all descriptions showing an increase of only Rs. 59,834.

7. The largest amount of stamp revenue is of course realized in Calcutta, but in the following seven districts the receipts exceeded three lakhs of rupees:—

	General stamps.	Court fees' stamps.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Calcutta	6,76,864	8,81,254	15,58,118
24-Pergunnahs	1,83,587	3,37,668	5,21,255
Jessore	72,980	3,27,072	4,00,052
Mymensing	1,01.036	2,81,716	3,82,752
Dacca	97,225	2,63,229	3,60,454
Tirhoot	86 849	2,50,750	3,37,599
Burdwan	66,851	2,40,03	3,06,888

Next to these come Backergunge, Tipperah and Midnapore, with revenues just below three lakhs, and then Chittagong and Nuddea, in which the receipts exceed two lakhs and a half. In the sales of non-judicial stamps there was an increase during the year in 22 districts and a decrease in 21: in court fees' stamps there was an increase in 38 districts, while only 5 districts exhibited a decrease.

8. The sales of postage, service, and telegraph stamps in the two last official years were as follow:—

YEAR.	Postage.	Service.	Telegraph.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1873-74	15,15,614	4,16,354	14,30,620
1874-75	16,35,687	4,30,253	15,58,423
Increase	1,20,073	13,899	1,27,803

9. The causes of the fluctuations in the sales of the different descriptions of stamps are discussed at some length in the report, but it would seem to be the opinion of the Member in charge that though district officers have paid some attention to the subject, they have not enough trustworthy information of the transactions which affect this branch of the revenue. The famine is very generally considered to have led to an increase in the stamp revenue both by obliging persons to incur loans, and by multiplying contracts and other business transactions. On the other hand, in several districts the famine is stated to have caused a decrease in the sale of stamps, owing to its unfavorable effect on the trade in tobacco and jute. Increased sales have resulted from the opening of new registration offices, from the establishment of branch post offices, and from the more general spread of education. A large decrease in the sale of judicial stamps in Pubna is attributed to an improved state of feeling between zemindars and their ryots.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that while the explanations given by local officers apply for the most part to general rather than to court fees' stamps, the revenue from stamps of the former class, though showing a large increase in some districts and a large decrease in others, was on the whole very nearly stationary, the total increase of the year being only Rs. 2-4 per cent over the sales of the preceding year. The slow growth in the revenue from general stamps has been noticed in the reports for several successive years, and there seems reason to think that it is attributable to no other cause than systematic evasion of the law. An example is given in the report, in which a money-lender in the district of Tipperah was shown to have been in the habit of advancing money without drawing up any formal bond, but by entering the particulars of each loan on a separate sheet of his ledger, and taking the signatures of the borrower and of witnesses to each transaction. Each leaf of the book was thus virtually an unstamped bond, and when it was necessary to proceed against any borrower, a leaf was removed and filed in the civil court in support of the claim. The Commissioner thinks that such evasions of the law are very common among the banking and money-lending classes; but it appears from the report that in six out of the nine divisions of the Lower Provinces there were no prosecutions during the year for breach of the stamp laws, and in some instances in which prosecutions were instituted, and convictions obtained, the penalties imposed were little more than nominal. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that greater vigilance and greater strictness in enforcing the provisions of the law are called for on the part of district officers. In the town of Calcutta an up-country man was convicted of trading in old hoondee stamps, which he washed and polished, and sold at a reduced price to licensed vendors. By the agency of the Superintendent of Stamps, in concert with the police, the fraud was brought to light, and the offender was sentenced by the High Court to three years' imprisonment. But the Lieutenant-Governor must repeat the opinion which he expressed in the resolution on last year's report, that in the case of general stamps, the real cause of the slow growth of the revenue is not the fraudulent use of stamps a second time, but the systematic use of unstamped documents in cases in which the law requires a stamp to be used.

11. This is now the second time that the Lieutenant-Governor has had to make this general remark, apparently without producing any appreciable effect.

It is superfluous to observe that he cannot be content with issuing general instructions year after year on such an important subject as the realization of the Government dues without securing any adequate result. Something further must now be done, or at least attempted. It is perhaps clear that the law is perhaps generally, certainly largely, evaded, and this to the serious injury of the revenue. If the Government is not to submit to this loss, one of two things must be tried—namely, either making the execution of the law more vigilant and strict; or else applying to the legislature to vest the executive with more effective power to enforce the taking out of stamps in cases where the law directs that such stamps shall be taken out. As at present advised, the Lieutenant-Governor apprehends that the law may prove sufficient if all the servants of Government of all departments who have to deal with this matter really co-operate to compel observance of the law. Further specific instructions appear to be necessary, and the preparation of these will be separately considered.

12. With court fees' stamps, on the other hand, the method in which fraud is practised is by abstracting defaced stamps from the records and using them again in lieu of new stamps. Some instances of this have occurred during the year; and though frauds of this kind can scarcely be perpetrated without the connivance of the minor officers of the court, yet when those officers are disposed to be dishonest, it is not easy to devise a safeguard against the evil. The rapid increase, however, in the sale of court fees' stamps may be taken as a proof that malpractices of this kind are not common.

13. The return to the system of selling court fees' stamps by licensed vendors is noticed in the report as having been a source of great convenience to the public. The rate of discount generally allowed on these stamps is $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; but in five districts of Bengal a rate of 2 per cent is allowed to vendors who are located at places more than five miles distant from a sudder or sub-divisional treasury; and in the island of Sundeep, belonging to the district of Noakholly, the Government of India have sanctioned $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent as a special case.

14. The charges of the department, as compared with those of the previous year, decreased from Rs. 2,24,871 to Rs. 2,12,629, and the refunds were only Rs. 40,599 against Rs. 81,182 in 1873-74. On the other hand, the cost of the process service establishment rose from Rs. 5,90,662 to Rs. 6,92,703. The total deductions to be made from the gross receipts were Rs. 9,45,931, against Rs. 8,96,715 in the preceding year; but owing to the large increase in the gross receipts, the net revenue exhibits a considerable improvement, being Rs. 79,05,699, against Rs. 73,39,991 in 1873-74 and Rs. 70,50,358 in 1872-73.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe from the report that Commissioners and district officers are stated to be giving increased attention to their duties in connection with the administration of the stamp revenue. Messrs. F. R. Cockerell, Commissioner of Rajshahye, and F. B. Peacock, Officiating Commissioner of Dacca, are specially commended for the excellence of their stamp reports. The Superintendent of Stamps, Mr. Roberts, and the Calcutta Collector, Mr. J. Mackenzie, are also noticed with approval. The thanks of Government are due to the Member in charge, Mr. Money, for his efficient supervision of the department, and to the present officiating member, Mr. Dampier, for the care and completeness with which the present report has been prepared.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

		Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18	Dacca, Oct. 11,* '75	·49	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	19	Fureedpore, „ 9, „	·61	The weather has become cooler; the state and prospects of the crops are good. Public health remains excellent for this time of the year.
	20	Backergunge, „ 7, „	·8	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are good.
	21	Mymensingh, „ 8, „	·91	Some rain has fallen. Nights cool, and weather more settled. The cold season would appear to be setting in. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
	22	Tipperah, „ 8, „	·42	Weather fine, with a hot sun; a few showers of rain. The prospects of all crops are good.
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23	Chittagong, „ 7, „	1·39	Sultry weather. Some rain has fallen. Crops progressing well everywhere.
	24	Noakholly, „ 7, „	·6	Weather cloudy. Rain at intervals. Wind generally south. The reaping of the early rice crops is not yet completed. The transplantation of the late rice has been completed
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 7, „	·76	Seasonable weather. Joom paddy harvest continues. Teel oil-seed ripening. Cotton plants in flower.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 6, „	1·98	Weather seasonable. Prospects of the crops are good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26	Patna, „ 11,* „	Nil.	Weather clear and fine, with westerly winds. Mornings and evenings cool. Rain is much required for rice crops, which are perishing from want of it Health good
	27	Gya, „ 9, „	Nil.	Weather dry. North-west wind prevalent. Maximum reading of thermometer 92·0. Rain much wanted. In the high lands, rice crop is withering for want of rain. In the low lands the crops are as yet satisfactory. Want of moisture in the soil will tell against the cold weather agricultural operations.
	28	Shahabad, „ 9, „	Nil.	Clear weather; mornings and evenings cool. Bhadoi crops are harvested; a fair outturn. Paddy crop continues good up to date. Rain much required soon. No reports from Buxar and Sassceram sub-divisions.
	29	Durbhunga.	...	Return not received.
	30	Mozufferpore, „ 9, „	Nil.	Mornings and evenings are cold. The weather is very dry, with daily west winds. The cold weather appears to have quite set in. In Mozufferpore sub-division the prospects of the rice crops are very precarious owing to the early cessation of the rains and the prevailing west winds, which are rapidly drying up the moisture in the high lands. If the present dry weather continues for another fortnight, large tracts of rice will be destroyed. The rice in the low churs can alone be regarded as secure. Heavy rain is wanted for the rubbee or cold weather sowings, as well as for the rice crops. In Seetamurhee sub-division the want of rain is very severely felt. In Jallah thana jurisdiction, and the villages bordering on the Bagmuttee, the rice crop is still fair, but in other parts the rice fields are being cultivated for the sowings of winter crops. In Hajeepore sub-division prospects are much better, but rain is required.
	31	Sarun, „ 9, „	Nil.	Weather fair; cool in the mornings and evenings; west wind prevailing. Sugar-cane, ruhur pulse, and cotton are doing well. Prospects of the rice crop are still favorable, but rain is much wanted. In the low lands, the crop promises well, but in the high lands it is suffering for want of rain. Cholera still hovering about Darowli.
	32	Chumparun, „ 8, „	Nil.	The cold weather has set in; the westerly wind has commenced to blow regularly. No rain during the week. An excellent bhadoi crop has been harvested. The outturn is estimated at 14 annas,—the general yield of an average good year. The late rice crop throughout the district is suffering for want of rain, and if it does not rain soon, the prospect would not be favorable.
BHAGULPORE DIVN.	33	Monghyr, „ 9, „	Nil.	Weather apparently set fair. The general opinion is that there will be a serious deficiency in the rice crop, unless rain falls within the next ten days. The steady westerly winds, however, leave little hope of rain. Fears are also entertained for the rubbee or cold-weather crops, unless rain falls within the month.
	34	Bhagulpore, „ 11,* „	Nil.	Aughani or late rice crops are very good on the low lands in Banka and Mudehpoora sub-divisions; those on the high lands will be equally good, provided heavy and seasonable rain falls within a fortnight. Throughout Soopool sub-division the crops are said to be very bad for want of rain, and should no more rain fall, the outturn will be very small. Up to date there are no signs of rain, and the September fall was very short. General health remarkably good.

* Telegrams of the 11th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

	No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd)
BHAUGULPORE DIVN.—(Contd.)	35	Purneah, Oct. 9, '75	Nil.	Mornings and evenings beginning to be colder. Rain much wanted. Aughani or late rice crops are at present promising, but will in all probability suffer unless rain falls soon.
	36	Southal Pergha. „ 9, „	* ·38	There was a local shower one day at the Sudder station. The want of rain has been general. Cold weather decidedly set in. Fears are expressed regarding both rice and cold-weather crops, in consequence of the early cessation of the rain. If a fall takes place within a week, there will not be much loss of rice, and cold-weather crops can be sown; without rain, great loss is expected.
ORISSA.
ORISSA DIVISION.	37	Cuttack, „ 2, „	3·28	Occasional storms of brief duration, but getting less and less frequent. The last two days have been clear and hot. Crops doing well. Cholera has re-appeared in several places.
	38	Pooree, „ 7, „	1·47	Weather cloudy, with occasional rains The harvest of the early rice is very nearly completed, and the outturn is fair. The first late rice is flowering, and has been somewhat injured by the black blight in Khoordah. The main late rice or sarud plants are being weeded, and growing generally well. The prospects of the crops are on the whole fair. Miscellaneous crops are doing well.
	39	Balasore, „ 8, „	Nil.	Weather quite fine and seasonable for the crops, but somewhat sultry. Prospects of the harvest are everywhere excellent. General health satisfactory
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 8, '75	·02	The break in the weather reported last week still continues, and seems likely to continue. The bhadoi crops are now nearly all gathered; the outturn is very fair indeed. The ground is now being ploughed for the winter crops More rain is wanted, and anxiously hoped for, to benefit the rice crop, which at present is still in very good condition.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 9, „	·11	Fine weather, with mornings and evenings cool. The high land crops have been harvested, and the outturn has been a fair average one. Prospects of the late rice continue good, but in Palamow more rain is required. General health good.
	42	Singbhoom, „ 8, „	02	Seasonable weather. State and prospects of the crops are favorable.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 9, „	Nil.	Too much sun. No rain; wind from the west, which seems to be driving up the clouds. The crops are suffering from want of rain. Should rain be withheld, the outturn, once so promising, will be seriously affected. The Deputy Commissioner has issued instructions to let the ryots have what water there is in the Government tanks, and to see that the reserve of water in private tanks is discretely distributed.

* Telegram of the 11th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower raingauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

OF THE SURVEY.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor may, whenever he shall think fit, order that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in any district, or in any part of a district, or in any specified tract of country, and that the boundaries of estates, tenures, mouzahs, or fields be demarcated on the lands so to be surveyed:

Lieutenant-Governor may order survey.

Provided that in any district, of which a survey may have been completed and approved by the Government, it shall not be lawful for the Lieutenant-Governor to order a new survey of lands on the banks of rivers or on the sea-shore to be made for the purposes described in Act IX of 1847 (an Act regarding the assessment of land gained from the sea or from rivers by alluvion or dereliction within the Provinces of Bengal, Behar, and Orissa), until ten years shall have expired from the completion and approval of any such previous survey.

4. For the purpose of carrying out any survey directed to be made under the last preceding section, or for any or all of the purposes of this Act, the Lieutenant-Governor may appoint a Superintendent of Survey, who may exercise all or any of the powers of a Collector under this Act;

Lieutenant-Governor may appoint Superintendent of Survey.

and may appoint one or more Assistant Superintendents and Deputy Collectors, who shall exercise all the powers of a Collector in respect to such matters under this Act as may be delegated to such Assistant Superintendents or Deputy Collectors respectively by the Collector or Superintendent of Survey, and not otherwise:

Provided that, notwithstanding the appointment of a Superintendent of Survey for any tract of country, it shall be competent to the Board of Revenue to direct that the Collector shall perform any duties under the Act within the said tract.

5. Before entering on any lands for the purpose of a survey, the Collector shall cause to be published a proclamation addressed to the occupants of the lands which are about to be surveyed, and of the conterminous lands, and to all persons employed on, or connected with the management of, or otherwise interested in, such lands, calling upon them to attend, either personally or by agent, before the Collector or any officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, at such places and at such times as shall be stated in such proclamation, during the demarcation and survey of the land, for the purpose of pointing out the boundaries and of rendering such aid as may be necessary in setting up or repairing such boundary marks as may be required, and of affording such assistance and information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act.

Collector to publish a proclamation before entering on lands.

Such proclamation shall be published by posting a copy thereof

at the Court of the Judge and at the office of the Collector of every district within which any portion of the lands about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at every sub-divisional office, police station, moonsiff's court, and sub-registrar's office within the jurisdiction of which any portion of the land about to be surveyed may be known to be situated;

at one or more mal cutcherries on each estate; and at such other place or places as to the Collector may seem fit.

6. After issue of a proclamation as aforesaid, the Collector and any persons acting under his authority may enter upon such lands, and do all things and make all enquiries necessary for effecting the survey and demarcation of the boundaries thereof.

Collector may enter upon land.

7. The Collector may also, by a special notice, require any such person to attend before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than fifteen days after the service of the notice, at any places, for any of the purposes aforesaid; and every person on whom such special notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice, and to do any of the things mentioned in section five, and to give any information which may be required, so far as he may be able to give it.

Collector may serve special notice

8. When any materials or labor shall have been supplied for any of the purposes mentioned in section five, the Collector or other officer making a requisition under that section shall forthwith cause the price of such materials or labor to be paid to the person by whom the same were supplied.

Collector to pay the price of materials or labor supplied.

9. The Collector, or other survey officer authorized by the Collector in that behalf, may, by a special notice, require any occupant to clear any boundary or other line which it may be necessary to clear for the purposes of the survey, by cutting down and removing any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops.

Collector may require occupants to clear boundary lines

Compensation.

10. If any demand for compensation be made, in respect of the clearance of any line in accordance with a requisition under the last preceding section, the Collector shall ascertain and record the nature and estimated value of any trees, jungle, fences, or standing crops which may have been cut down or removed, and shall offer adequate compensation to the owners thereof, together with payment for all expenses incurred in carrying out the said requisition.

Ameen or Survey Officer to call upon persons to sign maps or papers.

11. When the demarcation of a village or other convenient tract has been completed, the Ameen or other survey officer shall, before sending in to the Collector the maps and papers relating thereto, by a general notice in which the names of all persons required to appear shall be specified, and which shall be posted up at a convenient place in the village or tract, call upon all persons who have pointed out any boundaries in such village or tract on behalf of those interested to attend before him within three days of the publication of the said notice for the purpose of inspecting the maps, field-books, and similar papers in which any boundary pointed out by any such person has been represented, and by signing such maps and papers to certify that the boundaries have been laid down in accordance with the boundaries pointed out by them; and every person so called upon shall be legally bound to attend before such Ameen or survey officer, and to inspect the papers, in accordance with such requisition.

Statement of objections.

Any person so called upon, who may object to sign the maps and papers as aforesaid, shall be required to state his objections in writing, and such statement shall be attached to the record of the demarcation of the village or tract, and shall be submitted to the Collector together with the maps and papers.

Effect of signature.

The signature affixed to any maps or papers under this section shall be in attestation of the fact that the boundaries thereon represented, or any of them, have been represented in accordance with those pointed out by the person signing; and the affixing of such signature shall not be held to prejudice the right of any person interested to make any objection to such boundaries on any other ground before the Collector under the next succeeding section.

On receipt of maps, Collector to post notification in his office.

12. On receipt in the Collector's Office of the maps or papers showing any boundaries which have been demarcated, the Collector shall cause a notification to be posted in his office, and in such other places as he may think proper, informing all persons concerned that the maps and papers relating to the boundaries in the village or tract specified are open to inspection; and requiring any person who may have any objections to prefer, to prefer such objections within six weeks of the date of the posting of such notification, after which time the Collector will proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as laid down for the purposes of the survey.

Collector when to issue special notice.

Whenever the Collector shall have reason to believe (either from the failure of any person interested or his representatives to sign the maps and papers on the spot when required by the survey officer to do so under the last preceding section, or for any other reason), that any zemindar or person interested is likely to object to any boundary as laid down or as represented in the said papers, the Collector shall cause a special notice requiring such zemindar or other person to attend personally or by duly authorized agent before him, or before any person authorized by the Collector in that behalf, within a specified time, which shall not be less than one month after the service of the notice, for the purpose of signing and thereby admitting the correctness of any maps or other papers which have been prepared under this Act in respect of any boundary in which such zemindar or other person is interested, or of stating in writing the substance of any objection which he may wish to prefer against the correctness of such maps or papers; and if any person so summoned shall fail to attend and to sign the said maps or papers, or to give in a written statement of his objections within the time prescribed, the Collector may proceed finally to confirm the boundaries as represented in such maps and papers, for the purposes of the survey and of this Act.

If agent deposits expenses of making copies, Collector shall order them to be prepared.

Provided that if within the time specified any such duly authorized agent deposits with the Collector the necessary expenses of making copies of the said maps or papers, the Collector shall order such copies to be prepared, and as soon as they are prepared, shall cause a notice to that effect to be posted at his office, and the said agent shall be allowed such time as may be specified in such notice, not being less than fifteen days from the posting thereof, for the purpose of signing or of giving in a written statement of objections.

Procedure when objection is stated.

When a written statement of objections has been given in, as in this section provided, the Collector, after holding any further inquiry which he may deem necessary, shall pass such order in respect of such objections as to him shall seem fit; and if the objections shall seem to him not to be well founded, shall direct that all expenses of such further inquiry, and all expenses entailed on any other person by such inquiry, shall be recovered from the person who made the objection.

Person making subsequent objection may be required to deposit costs of further inquiry.

13 Whenever any person, having failed to sign the maps and papers, or to give in his objections in writing within the time prescribed by the notification or by the special notice mentioned in the last preceding section, shall, at any time before the Collector has finally confirmed the boundaries for the purposes of the survey, prefer any subsequent objection against the correctness of any maps or papers in respect of which such notification or notice was issued, the Collector shall require him to deposit the estimated costs of any further inquiry which it may be necessary to make in respect of his objection; and if the said person shall fail to deposit such costs within the time specified by the Collector, he shall be deemed for all purposes of this Act to have admitted the correctness of the said maps and papers. If the costs of any inquiry which may be deemed necessary be deposited, the Collector shall make such further inquiry at the expense of the person so objecting; and if the objection shall seem to the Collector not to be well founded, he may pass such order as he shall think fit in respect of the recovery from the objector of any sum expended by the Collector on the inquiry in excess of the sum deposited, and of any necessary expenses incurred by any other persons on account of such inquiry.

Provided that no person so making an objection after the prescribed time, shall, under any circumstances, be entitled to recover the expenses which he is required to deposit before any further inquiry is made in respect of such subsequent objection.

PART III.

OF BOUNDARY MARKS.

Collector may erect temporary boundary marks.

14. The Collector may cause to be erected temporary boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner as he may direct, on any lands to be surveyed under this Act; and may require any occupant of land to maintain and keep in repair such marks, or any boundary marks, until any survey operations shall be concluded and a final award given as to any disputed boundary, or until permanent boundary marks may be erected in lieu thereof as hereinafter provided.

Collector may erect permanent boundary marks.

15. The Collector may at any time cause to be erected, on any land which is to be, or which has been surveyed under this Act, permanent boundary marks of such materials, and in such number and manner, as he may determine to be sufficient to distinguish the boundaries of the estates, tenures, mouzahs, or fields for which the same are to be erected.

Specification of marks and estimate of their cost to be posted in Collector's Office.

Provided that seven days before he proceeds to the erection of any permanent boundary marks, the Collector shall, for the information of all concerned, cause to be posted in his office, and in the mál cutcherry, or at some other convenient place on every estate concerned, a specification of the number and character of the marks which he proposes to erect on the estate and an estimate of their cost.

Apportionment of expenses.

16. All expenses incurred by the Collector in erecting temporary or permanent boundary marks under this Act shall, in manner hereinafter provided, be apportioned among, and levied from, the zemindars and tenure-holders on their estates;

Provided that no tenure-holder shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses incurred by the erection of boundary marks on an estate, unless some portion of his tenure is situated within fifteen hundred feet of some such boundary mark.

Lands not subject to rent to be deemed to be part of a tenure.

17. All lands held without payment of rent, not being entered on the Collector's register of revenue-free tenures of the district, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to form a part of the tenure within the local boundaries of which they may be included; and if they be not included within the local boundary of any tenure, then to be a part of the estate within the local boundaries of which they are included, and if they be not included within the local boundaries of any one estate, then to be a part of such conterminous estate as the Collector, in whose district such conterminous estate is situated, shall, by an order under his seal, appoint.

Provided that no rent-free holding, of which the annual value is less than five rupees, shall be liable to pay any portion of the expenses of erecting boundary marks under this Act.

Procedure when occupant fails to maintain boundary mark.

18. If any occupant on whom a requisition has been made under section fourteen, fails to maintain, or keep in repair, any temporary boundary mark, the Collector may maintain, keep in repair, or restore any such boundary mark, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be recovered as provided in section fifty-seven from the person so failing to maintain, or keep in repair, any such boundary mark.

Zemindar, &c., bound to preserve boundary-marks and give notice to Collector when they are injured.

19. Every zemindar, tenure-holder and farmer of land shall be legally bound to preserve, as far as lies in his power, such of the permanent boundary marks lawfully erected on his estate, tenure, or farm, or on the boundary between his estate, tenure, or farm, and any other estate tenure, or farm, as may be assigned to him in that respect entirely, or jointly with other persons, under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and shall give immediate notice to the Collector if any such marks are injured, destroyed, or removed, or require repairs.

Collector may re-erect injured boundary mark and recover expenses from zemindar, &c.

20. Whenever it shall come to the notice of the Collector that any permanent boundary mark erected under the provisions of this Act, has been injured, destroyed, or removed, or requires repairs, the Collector may cause such boundary mark to be re-erected, restored, or repaired, and may recover any expenses incurred in respect of such re-erection, restoration, or repair, in such proportions as he shall think fit, from the zemindars and tenure-holders to whom such boundary mark may have been assigned in that respect under the provisions of section twenty-nine, and all such expenses shall be recoverable as provided in section fifty-seven.

Collector may cause boundary mark to be erected by occupant of land with his consent.

21. Nothing contained in this Act shall be held to prohibit the Collector from causing any temporary or permanent marks to be erected, maintained or repaired by any occupant of land, under the directions of the said Collector, and with the consent of such occupant.

The Collector shall repay to such occupant the expenses incurred in such erection or repair, and such expenses shall be apportioned and recovered as provided in Part IV.

PART IV.

OF THE APPORTIONMENT AND RECOVERY OF EXPENSES.

Collector to prepare statement of all expenses incurred in respect of boundary marks.

22. Upon the completion of the erection of boundary marks on any tract of land of which the survey may have been ordered, or on any convenient portion thereof, the Collector shall forthwith prepare a statement of all expenses incurred in respect of such boundary marks.

Contents of the statement

23. Such statement shall show the total number of marks of each description which have been erected on such tract, or portion of such tract, the aggregate cost of erecting all the marks of each description, the names of the estates and mouzahs within, or on the boundaries of which any marks have been erected, and the total number of marks of each description erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Collector to apportion the cost of erecting marks among the estates.

24. Upon the completion of such statement, the Collector shall provisionally apportion the aggregate expenses of erecting the marks among the estates specified, with reference to the number of boundary marks of each description which have been erected within or on the boundary of each estate.

Notice to be served

25. So soon as the provisional apportionment shall have been made as required by the last preceding section, the Collector shall cause a notice to be served on the zemindar of every estate on which the expenses have been apportioned,

(a) specifying the sum which has been apportioned on his estate, and as far as can be calculated, the sum which he will be required to pay on account of the service of notices on him under this section and section twenty-nine;

(b) informing him that the said statement is open to inspection in the office of the Collector;

(c) calling on him to appear in person, or by agent properly authorized, at the office of the Collector on a date to be specified in the notice (not being less than two months after the issue of the notice), on which date the Collector will proceed to consider any objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment of expenses;

(d) warning him that if he does not appear on the date fixed in pursuance of the notice he will be deemed to have waived all objections to the share of the expenses apportioned to his estate;

and (unless as otherwise hereinafter provided in sections thirty-one, thirty-two, and thirty-three)

(e) informing him that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally made payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from such tenure-holders on his estate as are made liable to bear a portion of such expenses by sections sixteen and seventeen (of which sections a copy shall be annexed to the notice); and that in order to enable the Collector to apportion the said amount among the said tenure-holders, he may give in a list of all such tenures as defined in this Act, held directly from him, with a specification of the number of boundary marks of each description which are erected within or on the boundary of each tenure; and

(f) warning him that if he fails to give in a list of tenures as aforesaid on or before the said date, he will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount for which he may be held liable under section twenty-six.

Collector to make final apportionment

26. On the date fixed in such notice, the Collector shall proceed to consider all objections which may be made to the provisional apportionment, and to make such final apportionment of the expenses as shall seem to him fit; in making such final apportionment, the costs of serving all notices under section twenty-five shall be distributed rateably among the estates concerned, in proportion to the share of the expenses of erecting boundary marks which may be apportioned to each estate; and the amount so finally apportioned as payable in respect of each estate, together with the costs of serving notices rateably distributed as aforesaid shall be due to the Collector from the zemindars of such estates.

Collector may postpone final apportionment.

27. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding section, the Collector may postpone the final apportionment if it shall appear to him that a notice under section twenty-five has not been served on the zemindar of any estate which should be made liable for a portion of the expenses, or for any other sufficient reason.

Zemindar failing to appear will be deemed to have waived all objections

28. Any zemindar failing to appear on the date fixed in the notice served on him under section twenty-five will be deemed to have waived all objections to the payment of the amount apportioned to his estate, and will not be entitled to prefer any objections thereto on any subsequent date; and any zemindar failing to give in a list of tenures (when called upon under section twenty-five to give in such list), on or before such date, will be deemed to have given up all claim to recover from the tenure-holders any part of the amount which may have been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six.

Collector to issue a notice specifying amount finally apportioned.

29. So soon as the expenses shall have been finally apportioned under section twenty-six among the estates concerned as hereinbefore provided, the Collector shall issue a notice in respect of every estate, specifying the amount finally apportioned as payable in respect of the estate, and requiring the zemindar to pay such amount to the Collector, together with the costs of serving such notice, within one month of the issue of the notice. If such amount be not paid to the Collector within such period, the same, with interest, at such rate, not exceeding six per centum per annum, as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine, may be levied as provided in section fifty-seven.

Notice shall assign boundary marks which zemindars are bound to preserve.

The notice issued under this section shall assign to the zemindar, or to the zemindar jointly with tenure-holders, the boundary marks which they are legally bound to preserve under the provisions of section nineteen, and in respect of which they will be held liable to pay the costs of re-erection, maintenance, and repair, under the provisions of section twenty.

Collector to apportion between zemindar and tenure-holders.

30. If the zemindar of any estate shall give in a list of tenures, as referred to in section twenty-five, with an application to the Collector to apportion between his estate and the tenures the amount which has been apportioned as payable in respect of his estate as aforesaid, the Collector shall proceed to make a provisional apportionment of the said amount between the zemindar and the tenure-holders, to serve notices on the said tenure-holders in the manner provided in section twenty-five, and to make a final apportionment among the said zemindar and tenure-holders in the manner provided in sections twenty-six and twenty-seven; and the provisions of section twenty-eight shall be applicable to such tenure-holders.

No separate notice in respect of apportionment of sum less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section in respect of the provisional or final apportionment of the sum payable in respect of any tenure, if such sum be less than two rupees; but in respect of all such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list showing the sums apportioned as payable. Such list shall be published by being posted at the office of the Sub-divisional Officer and at a conspicuous place in some village within which lands appertaining to the tenure are situate.

Summary apportionment between zemindar and tenure-holders.

31. Notwithstanding any thing in this Part contained, whenever the Collector may consider that he has sufficient information (whether derived from papers compiled for the purposes of the road cess, from enquiries made in the course of proceedings under this Act, or otherwise), to enable him in a summary way to make an apportionment of any expenses recoverable under this Act in respect of any estate, between the zemindars of and the holders of tenures in such estate, the Collector may, as soon as possible after he shall have made a provisional apportionment under section twenty-four of the sum payable in respect of such estate, and without calling on the zemindar to give in any list of tenures as provided in clause (e) of section twenty-five, proceed to make a provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders of such estates of the sum which has been provisionally apportioned under section twenty-four as payable in respect of the estate.

Notice to be served on zemindar when provisional apportionment has been made summarily.

32. Whenever any provisional apportionment of the sum payable between the zemindars and the tenure-holders may have been made summarily, as provided in the last preceding section, the notice to be served on the zemindar under section twenty-five, shall inform the zemindar, in addition to the particulars specified in clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of the said section, and instead of those specified in clauses (e) and (f), that under this Act he is entitled to recover a portion of the amount which shall be finally apportioned as payable in respect of his estate under section twenty-six, from the tenure-holders on his estate; and that the Collector has made a provisional apportionment of the said sum between the zemindar and tenure-holders, according to a list which shall be annexed to the said notice;

and shall warn him

that if he fails to prefer any objection to such provisional apportionment on or before the date specified, he will be deemed to have given up all right to prefer any such objection at any future time; and that the Collector will proceed to make such apportionment final, or to make any modifications in it which he may think fit; provided that the sum finally made payable by the zemindar shall not exceed the sum apportioned upon him in the said provisional apportionment between the zemindars and the tenure-holders.

Procedure on provisional apportionment.

33. As soon as a provisional apportionment between the zemindar and the tenure-holders shall have been made summarily as provided in section thirty-one, the Collector shall proceed to serve notices on the tenure-holders concerned in the manner provided in section thirty, and to do all other things as if the said provisional apportionment upon tenure-holders had been made on a list given in by the zemindar under section thirty.

Mode of apportionment among tenures.

34. In apportioning the amount among the zemindar and the tenure-holders, the Collector shall first deduct such sum as he shall consider to be fairly payable by the zemindar in respect of lands not included in any tenure, and in respect of his interest in lands which are included in tenures; and in apportioning the remainder among the tenures, he shall take into consideration the number of pillars erected within or on the boundary of each tenure, the extent of each tenure, and the distance at which it is situated from the boundary marks; but no tenure shall be made liable for any portion of the sum so apportioned, unless some part of it be situated within fifteen hundred feet from some boundary mark.

Notice of apportionment in respect of tenures.

35. So soon as the final apportionment among tenure-holders under section thirty shall be completed, the Collector shall cause to be issued notices to each of the said tenure-holders, stating the amount payable in respect of each of their tenures, with interest (if any) calculated at the annual rate of six per centum from the date on which the zemindar paid to the Collector the sum which was apportioned on his estate under section twenty-six, and the cost of serving upon the tenure-holder the notice under this section, and calling upon him to pay the total amount so due to the zemindar of the estate of which the tenure is a part, within one month of the date of the notice.

No separate notice to be served on tenure-holder who is required to pay less than two rupees.

Provided that no separate notice shall be served under this section on any tenure-holder who is required to pay a sum of less than two rupees as his share of the expenses apportioned under this Act; but in respect of such sums it shall be sufficient to publish a list in the manner prescribed by section thirty, and no costs incurred in respect of the publication of any such list shall be recoverable from any person mentioned therein as liable to pay less than two rupees.

Collector not to issue notices to tenure-holders until zemindars have deposited costs.

36. The provisions of sections twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight, twenty-nine, thirty, thirty-four and thirty-five shall be applicable, as far as possible, to every case in which any tenure-holder, who has been made liable for the payment of any share of expenses under this Act, may apply to the Collector to apportion the amount for which he has been made liable, between himself and the holders of subordinate tenures direct from himself;

Nothing contained in this section shall be held to prohibit the Collector from deviating from a boundary as held by actual possession or as shown on a former map, and laying down a new boundary, if all the parties concerned agree to such new boundary, on the ground that the boundary held by actual possession, or as shown on the former map, was incorrect, and if it appears to the Collector that there is no objection to the adoption of such new boundary.

authority competent to decide upon such objection; or Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 16*th October* 1875.

Division	No.	District and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.		Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn.	1	Burdwan, Oct. 18,* '75	1·33	No rain had fallen at the sub-divisions up to the 15th, but it is believed that rain has fallen since, nearly everywhere. Rain has been reported to have fallen all along the railway line. It was much wanted.
	2	Bankoora, „ 16, „	·72	No rain during the week, except on the 16th instant. The fall seems to continue. Some apprehensions were entertained during the week, both as to the rice crop and as to the cold weather sowings, but if the present fall continue, the rice will be safe, and even now no very great loss can accrue.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 16, „	Nil.	Weather dry, with northerly wind. State and prospects of crops continue good, but more rain is required to ensure a full harvest.
	4	Midnapore, „ 16, „	1·71	After a long interval copious rain began to fall on the evening of the 15th instant, and will apparently have been general. The rain of the last 24 hours is exactly what the late rice needed, and will also be most beneficial to the rubbee or cold-weather crop cultivation. If the weather now clears, prospects could hardly be better.
	5	Hooghly, „ 16, „	1·30	Weather was very hot in the day time, but cool in the night, up to the 14th instant. Cloudy since the night of the 15th, with rain at intervals. Prospects of the aman crop were very gloomy till the 14th instant. About 2 annas of the crop is damaged irretrievably. The rain will be of immense benefit to the crop still uninjured. A 14-anna crop may yet be harvested. General health fair, but many cases of fever in the Mofussil.
		Howrah, „ 16, „	Nil.	It has been raining since 10 P. M. of the 15th instant, and may continue some hours yet. This rain has proved very favorable to the crops.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Divn.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct. 18,† '75	2·38	Seasonable weather. Rain has fallen throughout the district and benefitted the late rice. More is wanted in the sub-division of Sathkhirah. Cold-weather sowings have commenced. Fever is increasing at Barripore. Ordinary fever is prevailing in the sub-division of Busseerhat.
	7	Nuddea, „ 16, „	·55	Weather hot and dry. Rain has been much required, and apprehensions have existed regarding the late rice on high lands. Rain is now falling, and if this is general, and tolerably abundant, the crop may be considered as nearly safe. All other crops are progressing well.
	8	Jessore, „ 16, „	Nil.	No rain; wind northerly. Ploughing for winter crops commenced. Late rice crops progressing favorably everywhere.
	9	Moorshedabad „ 16, „	·40	Weather seasonable. If the rainfall of the night of the 15th and of the 16th instant has been general and sufficient, much good will have been done, and the backward portion of the rice crop saved. Cold-weather crops are being sown. Fever somewhat prevalent in parts of the district.
Rajshahye Divn.	10	Dinagepore, „ 15, „	Nil.	Weather cool and fresh. Hot sun. Rain is wanted. Rice is said to be suffering, but no harm will be done if rain falls within ten days. Ploughing for mustard sowing going on; kalai pulse looking well. Much fever and occasional cholera.
	11	Maldah, „ 16, „	Nil.	No rain; weather in the mornings cold. Days warm and sunny; floods continue to recede. Prospects of the kalai increased 60 per cent, aman crop doing well, but rain is wanted and expected for the former.
	12	Rajshahye, „ 16, „	·11	There was light rain on Friday evening: the rest of the week was dry. Rain is much required throughout the district for the rice crops; other crops are doing well. 3 cases of cholera reported, one fatal.
	13	Rungpore, „ 15, „	Nil.	Weather close and cloudy. The rice crops are now in a very bad condition: most of that on the high lands is damaged beyond recovery. Not more than an 8-anna crop will be realized, unless there is a copious downpour very shortly. Sugarcane is good, and cold-weather crops are being sown. Cholera has broken out in Gobindgunge.
	14	Bogra, „ 16, „	1·30	Hot and dry at the beginning of the week, with heavy rain at the end. The late rain has made the crop safe.
	15	Pubna, „ 17, „	·21	Weather clear and fine till Friday, then cloudy with light showers. State and prospects of the crops are good, and if more rain falls in a few days, the late rice crop will be very good. Fever has much decreased in Pubna, but a case of cholera has been reported in the town, and two cases at Berah.

* Telegram of the 18th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

COOCH BEHAR DIVN.	16	Darjeeling, Oct 15, '75	·05	Weather clear and fine. The prospects of the crops are favorable, but more rain is wanted in some parts of the district.
	17	Julpigoree, „ 16, „	Nil.	Want of rain is now generally felt all over the district, and the people are apprehensive that half of the late rice will be lost. The Deputy Commissioner believes it probable that the loss will be fully half in several places. From Boda it is reported that half the deep rice lands could not be cultivated. Still the general prospects of the district are not such as to cause apprehension. Heavy dews are falling, which do much to bring on the rice, and gathering of clouds look like rain The jute and other early crops have been good. Early rice in some places was a partial failure.
		Cooch Behar, „ 14, „	Nil.	Weather fair. The mornings and evenings are cool. The want of rain is very much felt, and the prospects of the amun rice have not improved.
		Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18	Dacca, Oct. 18,* '75	Nil.	The weather was overcast on Friday and Saturday Rain would do good to the rice on the high lands; generally the prospects of the crops are good.
	19	Fureedpore, „ 16, „	·40	Weather cool, with a little rain on last two days The inundation has gone down very rapidly. The prospects of crops are still favorable, but a good shower is wanted. The general state of the health of the district continues good.
	20	Backergunge, „ 14, „	Nil.	Weather pleasant and seasonable Prospects of the crops continue good, but rain is wanted in some parts. Health of the people is generally good; but five fatal cases of cholera reported from Metibhanga in Dowlutkhan.
	21	Mymensingh, „ 15, „	·04	Nights cool and pleasant, and cold season appears to be gradually setting in Sky cloudy during the whole of the 15th instant, but no rain State and prospects of crops are promising.
	22	Tipperah, „ 15, „	Nil.	Weather fine, clear and dry The lately planted winter rice requires some rain, without which it will wither and bear no grain
CHITTAGONG DIVN.	23	Chittagong, „ 14, „	Few drops	Weather fine and calm Mornings and evenings cool and pleasant. The crops continue to do well; one or two slight showers will do good.
	24	Noakholly, „ 14, „	·50	Weather fair and cool; wind generally north Some rain has fallen, but more is wanted The reaping of the early rice crops is completed The amun or late rice crop is progressing favorably. Some damage has been done to the late rice in the island of Hatya by insects called Manjara
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts .	......	Return not received.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 13, „	Nil.	Crop prospects good. Rice is still being transplanted here and there
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN.	26	Patna, „ 18,* „	·03	Weather fine and clear. Rain very much wanted for the rice crops, which are drying up, and in places being cut for fodder Health good.
	27	Gya, „ 16, „	Nil.	Weather cloudless, with westerly wind, and cooler than usual at this season, but a little warmer again, with some appearance of rain since Friday at the head-quarters. State and prospects of the crops are getting rather poor The crops on high lands have already suffered in nearly all parts of the district, and if no rain falls, the loss will probably be more than 6 annas Prospects of cold-weather crops diminishing in proportion, almost more seriously than those of the rice.
	28	Shahabad, „ 16, „	Nil	Weather cool. Prospects of the rice crops have not improved; want of rain felt throughout. Irrigation from the canals has commenced in the Arrah and Sasseram sub-divisions. Preparations for sowing the rubbee or cold-weather crops have begun.
	29	Durbhunga ...	.. .	Return not received.
	30	Mozufferpore, „ 16, „	Nil.	The weather is very dry; mornings and evenings are cold. The prospects of the rice crop are daily becoming worse Extensive failures are anticipated in Mozufferpore and Setamurhi sub-divisions. Rain is very urgently wanted throughout the district to save the rice crop, and to moisten the high lands for the sowings of the cold-weather crops In Mozufferpore the rainfall from June to September inclusive has been only 1½ inches greater than in the corresponding period of 1873. West wind still continues, and there is a settled appearance of fine weather.

* Telegrams of the 18th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

	No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Contd.)
PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	31	Sarun, Oct 16, '75	Nil.	Weather clear and fine; mornings and evenings are cold; dew plenty; west wind prevailing. No rain during the week, and the hathea has passed over. In the low lands the prospects of the rice crop still continue favorable, but in the high lands it is suffering for want of rain. Irrigation is being resorted to where practicable; rain is most anxiously awaited. Should rain be withheld, the outturn will be much affected. Prices rising.
	32	Chumparun, " 15, "	Nil.	Rain is much wanted throughout the district. If there is no rain within the next week, the rice crop in the Mysee pergunnah will be almost entirely lost. Throughout the rest of the district from eight to twelve-anna crop may be expected without rain, but rain is wanted everywhere to secure a full crop. In Mysee the ground is so dry that it is doubtful if rubbee sowings will germinate at present; and if no rain falls within the next six weeks, it is to be feared that the rubbee crop will be lost there, as well as the rice crop.
BHAUGULPORE DIVN.	33	Monghyr, " 16, "	Nil.	The wind changed on the 15th instant to the east, and it may bring rain, which is much wanted. Only an 8-anna rice crop (if that) is expected unless rain falls shortly. A fair bhadoi crop has been reaped, and the rubbee or cold-weather sowings have commenced. The ryots in the rubbee country complain also of want of rain.
	34	Bhagulpore, " 18,* "	Nil.	The cold dry west wind ceased on the 15th instant, succeeded by strong easterly wind; heavy clouds have been since constantly rolling up and passing over. Rainfall at Banka on the 16th idem ·45; in this sub-division more rain is required for high lands. Accounts received from Soopool show it is equally cloudy, but no rain. The rice crop is very bad in that sub-division; with heavy rain before the end of the month a 6 to 8-anna crop will be saved; without it the crop must be almost a total failure. High lands only in Mudehpoora require rain. General health is very good. Cholera reported from Naradeegur, pergunnah Soopool.
	35	Purneah, " 16, "	Nil	During the first five days of the week a dry wind was blowing from the west; it is blowing from the east and south-east since the 15th, bringing up clouds and giving hopes of rain to follow. Owing to want of rain, the late rice crop will be but a poor one. Prospects are better in the north than in the central parts of the district. There is still much moisture in the soil, and the sowing of koorthi and urhur pulses has commenced. Land is being ploughed for oats and other winter crops.
	36	Sonthal Perghs " 16, "	·08	The weather was unusually cold in the mornings and evenings in the early part of the week, but the bright hot sun and west wind during the day dried the ground very fast. On Friday the clouds began to gather, and a good fall of rain was expected at the sudder station; however, it was merely nominal. The barometer keeps low, and clouds are hanging about. No rain in the sub divisions up to the 14th instant. There is no doubt that some loss to the rice crop has already happened. From Deoghur it is stated that if rain does not fall within a week, one-fourth of the crops will be lost. From all places the commencement of the failure of rice crop and the great urgency of rain is reported.
ORISSA.
CUTTACK DIVISION.	37	Cuttack, " 9, "	Nil	Occasional storms of brief duration. Weather hot. Crops doing well. Sporadic cholera prevailing.
	38	Pooree, " 14, "	A few drops.	There was slight rain on the 7th and 10th instant; not sufficient to be measured; otherwise the weather was fair and sunny till the evening of the 13th, whence clouds are gathering, foreboding rain. The harvest of the early rice has all been reaped, and the outturn is fair. The first late rice is in ear, and wants rain urgently. The plants are being weeded, and require rain in the course of a week. The prospects of the crops are yet hopeful. Miscellaneous crops are getting on well.
	39	Bulasore, " 15, "	Nil.	The early rice crops have been excellent. The main crop is still strong and healthy, but, without rain, the abundant yield will not be realized. Scarcely any rain has fallen since the 18th September, and there seems little prospect of any, the sky being clear and bright, with a steady wind from the north.

* Telegram of the 18th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct. 15, '75	Nil.	Weather is fair, cool and pleasant. Rain much wanted and anxiously hoped for Should another fortnight pass without rain, half the rice crop will be lost. Want of rain also prevents the winter crops being sown.
41	Lohardugga „ 16, „	Nil.	Cold and bright weather. The condition of the late rice crop is at present excellent The rice is fast coming into ear, but more rain is wanted The rice on the higher lands will suffer considerably if no rain comes In the Palamow sub-division, if rain does not shortly fall, one-half of the rice crop will be lost, and the rubbee or cold-weather crop harvest will also be a very short one General health good.
42	Singbhoom, „ 15, „	Nil.	Weather seasonable. State and prospects of crops are not so favorable as last week. Some more rain is needed The district is healthy
43	Manbhoom, „ 16, „	Nil.	Too much sun during the first six days of the week On the 16th instant flights of clouds were hanging over the head, promising rain. There has not been a drop of rain at Purulia since the last report, and the want of rain is severely felt throughout the district If it does not rain at once, the crop will not average more than 10 annas. In one pergunnah, Supur, it will not be more than 6 annas. Rice is selling at 16 seers for the rupee in the bazar This is 4 seers in the rupee less than usual. The ryots are very greatly to blame, in the northern parts of the district at least They will not sow aous or Raj dhan, and they will not bank their fields. Had the latter precaution been taken, the fields would have been sufficiently full of water

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower raingauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon.

No. 3674, dated Bankipore, the 3rd December 1874.

From—G. W. VIVIAN, ESQ., C.E., Executive Engineer, Patna District,
To—The Magistrate of Patna.

WITH reference to your No. 639L., of the 30th ultimo, I have the honor to state the annual statement of receipts and expenditure of the Patna District Road Fund for the cess year 1873-74, ending 30th September 1874, has been submitted to you with this Office No. 3577, of 17th November 1874. As for local improvement report, referred to therein, I beg to report as follows :—

1. Since I took charge of this district on the 29th April 1874, works to afford relief to the poor during the famine were only carried out on the local unmetalled roads. All the works that were provided in the annual repair estimate for 1873-74, and most part of the relief works, were executed under the superintendence of my predecessor, Mr. M. P. B Dwell. The completion reports* of the annual repairs, and a statement* showing the famine works, I herewith submit for your information and disposal.

* Fourteen completion reports for western sub-division and one statement now sent. The completion reports for eastern sub-division will be sent within two or three days.

2. No original local works have been undertaken during the year.

3. The repair works that have been executed are merely repairs to old roads, which chiefly embraced earthwork in repairing gaps and bermes, and spreading and consolidating petty repairs metal.

4. The works to afford relief to the poor were chiefly in raising low portions of the old roads. In obtaining earth for raising and repairing these roads, care was taken not to injure adjacent zemindary lands.

5. The total works executed under each sub-head, inclusive of repair and famine works, the returns show as follows, viz.—

Earthwork	...51,979,865 c. ft.
Levelling and dressing surface of road ..	.. 51,419,090 s. ft.
Collection of metal	... 109,506 c. ft
Spreading and consolidating metal .. .	131,098
Repairing culverts	8 in No.
Wooden work	304·89 c. ft.
Iron work	17 seers.
Coal-tarring mile-posts	92 in No

6. The total expenditure during the year on annual repair and relief works, &c., amounts to Rs. 2,01,641-11-4, as per details shown in the statement above referred to, paragraph 1.

7. The district is divided into four sub-divisions, viz.—

First, or head-quarters sub-division, embraces head quarters offices, Durdha Bridge, and 31 miles of the Patna and Gya provincial metalled road. Mr J Keddie, Assistant Engineer, 1st Grade, is in charge of this road; and now the Government have decided that a tramway is not to be laid down on this line of road The metalling is being restored to order as far as funds are available

The Durdha Bridge has been satisfactorily completed under the special charge of the above-named Assistant Engineer, and the 7½ miles of the Patna branch road, which was made over to this district during the construction of the bridge, should again revert to the Gya District.

8. Second, or provincial sub-division, embraces all opium buildings at Goolzarbagh and Bankipore, and also all civil buildings at Patna.

9. Third or western local sub-division. This sub-division is in the charge of Baboo Sreo Nath Roy, Overseer, 1st Grade, late Superintendent of District Roads. This includes all the local roads west of the Patna and Gya Road.

10. The 4th, or eastern local sub-division, is in charge of Baboo Gopal Chunder Banerjee, Overseer, 1st Grade. This includes all the roads east of Patna and Gya Road.

11. The roads from Bankipore to Dinapore, and Dinapore Cantonment to Railway Station, were under the charge of Baboo Sreo Nath Roy. The recent flood having considerably damaged these roads, they were for the time being placed under the special charge of a Sub-Engineer, and promptly restored to order, as I consider that Baboo Sreo Nath Roy, under the circumstances, had sufficient to do in looking after the local roads.

Much yet remains to be done to render the earthwork thrown up during the famine period available for smooth and useful traffic, and, in my opinion, the owners or occupiers of land through which these roads pass, or which these roads affect, should be asked to assist the Government in bringing them into a fair state for traffic.

G. W. VIVIAN, C.E.,
Exe. Engr., Patna District

No. 675L., dated Camp Dinapore, the 7th December 1874.

Memo by—A. C. MANGLES, ESQ., Magistrate of Patna

COPY of Executive Engineer's report, No. 3674, of 3rd instant, with enclosures, together with the annual statement of receipts and expenditure, forwarded to the Commissioner of Patna, with reference to his Circular No. 231J., of the 20th November last. There having been no serious distress in this district, and what there was owing to the high price of food not having been confined to any special tract in it, it was considered advisable, instead of starting relief works at certain spots, and so collect large numbers of workpeople together, some of them necessarily at long distances from their homes, to improve the local fund roads generally throughout the district by raising them whenever found practicable without interfering with the natural drainage of the country above high water-mark, and so convert them from mere fair-weather tracts to roads open for traffic all the year round. In carrying out these relief measures, the old lines followed by the roads were, with one exception (the Bucktearpore and Behar roads), adapted so that no new lands had to be taken up; and in the one exception, the malicks through whose land the line taken passed have expressed their willingness to give it free of cost, on the condition of the old line being given them in exchange. In the carrying out of these works, which were only intended to last till the setting in of the rains, when it was expected that those engaged on them would be able to find plenty of employment in the fields, care was taken to render each portion of the works complete in themselves so that when stopped they would prove to be an assistance rather than a hinderance to traffic; but unfortunately no sooner had the works been closed, and further labour on them rendered impossible by earth being unprocurable owing to the side cuts being filled with water, then heavy floods set in in many places, cutting clean gaps of many yards' width through the new earthwork, and damaging it more or less generally throughout the district. The repairing the damage done by these floods will constitute the chief works on the local fund roads this cold weather, but as it will be a work of levelling earth already thrown up more than of throwing up new earth, I hope our funds will be found sufficient.

Bankipore, G. W. Vivian, c.e.,
The 12th November 1874. Exe. Engr., Patna District.

No. 38L, dated Bankipore, the 30th January 1875.

From—A. C. Mangles, Esq., Magistrate of Patna,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

In accordance with the instructions contained in your letter No. 6J. of the 8th instant, I have now the honor to forward a further report on the working of the Local Funds, as prepared by the Executive Engineer, and to submit as follows.

2. I regret that I cannot speak favorably of the working of the Committee. Its members have met certainly when called upon by me to do so, but, with the exception of giving their consent to any proposals that I might have to make, they have been of very little assistance to me; nor, indeed, while our funds are as small as they now are, do I see of what much use the Committee could be. Our estimates have to be prepared with the greatest care to make both ends meet, and the work so estimated for is carried out by the Executive Engineer, who prepares the estimate, and his subordinates; so that, with the exception of transferring sometimes a few rupees from this to that road, as necessity or some unforeseen accident arises, the Committee have not much to do with the disposal of the funds.

3. The information asked for with regard to the Bucktearpore and Behar, and Baroon and Bihta roads, is furnished by the Executive Engineer in the accompanying report, and I need, therefore, only add that having lately been over the greater portion of the former road, I am of opinion that having raised it in the way we have will be a great boon to the residents of that part of the district; but, again, we are hampered from want of funds, and cannot hope to make the road what I should like to see it, i.e., passable for wheel-traffic at all seasons of the year, for many years to come, doing a little by little each year. The original Baroon and Bihta road, as prepared, I believe, from imperial funds, remains much in statu quo, and is not now much used for traffic, the local funds having other roads running much in the same direction which draw the traffic to them on account of their being bridged, which the old road is not.

4. The time of my Sub-Divisional Officers was so fully occupied during the time of distress, and when our road works were in consequence in full swing, and sending their own grain to the interior golas, and in receiving and despatching grain in addition to their ordinary duties, that I could not impose any extra work on them in the way of conducting the repairs of roads, and I regret to say that I have few (if any) zemindars in this district to whom I would care to entrust the work.

5. With the exception of some 100 beeghas of land taken up for slightly altering the course of the Bucktearpore and Behar road, no lands were taken up by us during the past year; and these 100 beeghas, of which the value has been estimated at nearly Rs. 4,000, the zemindars have agreed to give free of cost, on the condition that the old line taken by the road be given them in exchange.

6. No such damage was caused by the floods to the roads in this district as to call for any special remarks beyond what I have already reported, i.e., that though portions of the roads have been cut away, I hope that the funds at our disposal this year will be sufficient to put them to right, as we shall not require much new earthwork, but will be chiefly employed in dressing and levelling earth already collected.

No. 162, dated Bankipore, the 26th January 1875.

To—The Magistrate of Patna, Bankipore.

IN continuation of my No. 3670 of 3rd ultimo, and with reference to your No. 14L, of 11th instant, forwarding copy of Commissioner of Patna's No. 6J. of 8th idem, I have the honor to state that the action taken during the late famine, in regard to the improvement of the Bucktearpore and Ranceebagh road through Behar, was that such portions of the road which were not or least exposed to flood, and where labourers were abundant, have been raised and embanked from 3 to 6 feet above its existing level. Altogether about 18½ miles, namely, 11¼ miles between Bucktearpore and Behar, and 7¼ miles between Behar and Silao, have been embanked to an average height of 5 feet, as follows:—

Miles	7	to mile	9¾	=3¾	mile.
Do.	10½	to „	17	=7½	„
Do.	8¾	to „	25	=7¼	„
		Total	...	18½	„

2. The embankment being made 20 feet wide, with a slope of 2 to 1 on each side.

3. No damages had been done to this new embankment by the late floods, although it had suffered some injuries from the unusually heavy and long continued rains of the last year.

4. I know of no zemindars or landholders who had rendered any special assistance in the way of giving land or looking after annual repairs, although it must be admitted that no zemindars or proprietors of land had raised any great objections to digging the earth which has been applied for raising the road.

5. With reference to Baroon and Bihta road, I beg to state this road was not damaged by the late floods, as gaps were left varying from 1,000 to 1,200 feet; this afforded waterway, but it is desirable they should be eventually curtailed and bridged. Famine relief works were not extended to this road, but only periodical repairs were carried out to the extent of the amount provided in the local budget of cess year 1873-74 for that road.

6. A sum of Rs. 800 is provided in the current year for this road, and, it is reported by the Overseer, the amount will put the road in good repair.

No. 98, dated Camp Nowada, the 19th January 1875.

From—A. V. PALMER, ESQ., Magistrate of Gya,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

I HAVE the honor to submit the accounts-current of receipts and expenditure, also the local improvement report of the District of Gya for the cess year 1873-74.

2. Owing to the distress which showed itself at the commencement of the year, the toll-bars and ferry-tolls were abolished on 1st December 1874 under orders from Government. The receipts from these sources were therefore very inconsiderable, the total being Rs. 4,705. But this was more than covered by a grant-in-aid of Rs. 20,000 for district roads, and subsequently by a further special grant of Rs. 75,000 for relief works. The total receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 1,12,091, as shown in the annual statement already submitted to you The total expenditure for the year amounted to Rs. 42,926, leaving a balance in hand of Executive Engineer and Sub-Divisional Officers for current works of Rs. 7,880-14-6, and of Rs. 61,284-9 in the treasury.

3. This total of Rs. 69,165 is therefore available for expenditure during the cess year 1874-75.

4 Observation on works done.—Before proceeding to remark in detail on each work as entered in Part II of the expenditure statement herewith submitted, I desire to place on record the fact that of the 12 famine roads marginally noted, consisting of 126 miles in length, a distance of 107 miles has been thoroughly completed, bridging excepted, and that the remaining 19 miles are under construction. The very heavy rice and rubbee crop this year has caused some difficulty in obtaining labourers for the present, as all classes are more profitably engaged in agricultural pursuits.

5. Of the old existing roads, 125 miles unmetalled and two miles metalled have been repaired during the year. These have been mainly done by the Executive Engineer, from whom, however, I have not received a single completion report after personal inspection of the work.

6. I will now revert to the different works as entered in Part II of the annexed statement.

7. Pamar and Jhokori Bridges.—The expenditure on this work has been for collecting a few materials, surveys, &c. The Executive Engineer has not submitted yet any plan or estimate for these bridges, though required to do so two years since.

8. Bridges on Jehanabad and Urwal road.—Similarly no estimates have been submitted, and no expenditure incurred. Estimates were called for in January 1874.

9. Nowada and Pukri Barwan road.—With the exception of ½ mile, this road is completed, but requires repairs. The expenditure is slightly higher than was anticipated, in consequence of a portion being reserved as a famine work.

10. Ruffigunge and Myebeyha road.—This road has been completed, and is in good order. The excess expenditure over estimate is attributable to the cause stated in foregoing paragraph.

11. Obra and Daoodnugger road.—This also has been completed. Owing to the low country through which it passes, some further expenditure in repairs will be necessary.

12. Tecarce Bridge.—The Executive Engineer has had charge of this. The bridge is just as it was in January 1874.

13. Futtehpore road bridges.—Two bridges have, after much delay, been completed by the Executive Engineer.

14. Bela and Khidur Serai road.—This new road has been completed, and is in thoroughly good order.

15. Hoolusgunge road.—The same remarks apply.

16. Puroya road.—This is progressing under the Executive Engineer. I have ceased to expect dispatch from this Officer.

17. Mohorajgunge road.—Completed by the Sub-Divisional Officer of Aurungabad, who has taken much interest in, and personally superintended, this work.

18. Myapore road.—This road has been completed. It was undertaken at the request of the Chota Nagpore authorities to connect their road, viâ Chuttra, with Sherghotty.

19. Imamgunge road.—The most important portion, 6 miles, of this has been completed. There is no urgent necessity for undertaking the remainder, as a road already exists. It will be taken up, if feasible.

20. Warishgunge road.—This road has been completed. It requires ordinary repairs, which will be done during the working season.

21. Gobindpore road—Four miles of this remain to be completed. It is now in course of construction. More labourers are expected in ten days' time, when the rice will be threshed out.

22. Deo road.—This road has been completed under the auspices of the Deputy Magistrate of Aurungabad; the Deo Moharajah having contributed handsomely towards its construction.

23. Belthoo causeway.—This is in fair order.

24. Canal works.—This expenditure was necessitated in consequence of the Dehree Executive Engineer objecting to pass water up the Patna Canal at a time when water was much wanted. To obviate this, with the Commissioner's sanction I had a broad, shallow water-course cut parallel with the Bihta Baroon road, which was fed from the canal, and by which some 20,000 beeghas of land were irrigated and crops raised.

25. There is nothing under "Repairs of original works" that calls for remark.

26. The proposals for the current year's expenditure have already been submitted to you in my budget-estimate for 1874-75, and received your sanction.

No. 179, dated Gya, the 31st January 1875.

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

WITH reference to your No. 20J. of 28th instant, and in continuation of my No. 98 of 19th idem, I have the honor to report on the points noted by you. At the same time I beg leave to state that I do not find that reports on those points are specially required under Bengal Government Resolution of 7th ultimo, received with your 256J. of the 16th idem.

2. The District Committee has met on two days during the past year, viz., 13th and 14th of August 1874, to audit accounts and consider the budget for the ensuing year. As a matter of fact, the native members take little or no interest in the matter, and we have only one non-official European gentleman in the district.

3. The waterfall this year has been extraordinary, 56 inches having been registered against the average fall of 33 inches.

4. Breaches were made in several of the district roads, which have since been repaired. No serious damage or lengths of road were carried away, but merely large cuttings, which should have been filled up by the Executive Engineer as soon as the rains closed, and which caused a good deal of inconvenience.

No. 20, dated Arrah, the 8th February 1875.

From—W. H. ALEXANDER, ESQ., Chairman of the District Road Committee, Shahabad,

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

IN continuation of this Office No. 4 of the 29th ultimo, and with reference to 2nd paragraph of your letter, No. 28J. of the 26th ultimo, I have the honor to report on certain points not given in this Office local improvement report submitted with memorandum No. 348 of the 4th ultimo, as follows.

2. The attendance of the members of the District Road Committee was regular and fair, and the Committee sat four times during the last cess year 1873-74.

3. Efficient assistance was received from the Sub-Divisional Officers and certain European resident landholders in repairing most of the roads and some of the bridges, &c., in the district, and the work was on the whole executed to the satisfaction of the Committee.

4. The Sasseram and Arrah, Koilwar and Rohtas, Doorgawtee and Kurumnassa, and Koilwar and Burarah roads were considerably damaged by the floods, and the repairs to them were executed by the Sub-Divisional Officers, Public Works Department, and Sub-Overseers of this Office.

5. The road from the Arrah Railway Station to the Ganges was much damaged by the heavy traffic of carts conveying Government grain to Chupra, &c. Rs. 7,875 has been sanctioned for repairing this road; it is now under repair; and an application has been submitted for a further sum of Rs. 2,231-3-5, in order to complete the repairs of this road in a proper manner.

6. For the new road opened this year from Sarenja on the Chowsa and Sasseram road to Saraja on the Doomraon and Bickramgunge road, the land was given up by the owners free of cost; the chief owner being the Maharajah of Doomraon, who, in addition, gave a sum of Rs. 9,000 to help towards the construction of that portion of the road which lies between Itari and Sureya.

7. For the new road leading from Bickramgunge to Susna, none of the land was given free of cost. This road, when completed, which at present, owing to a want of funds, the Committee are unable to do, will prove one of the most important roads in the district, opening out, as it will do, a part of the district which hitherto has been inaccessible to cart traffic.

8. A third new road from Gurhani to Bihta, an equally useful one, also remains incomplete. A small quantity of land for this road was given free of cost by the owners.

9. A fourth road from Poorunda on the Chowsa and Mohuneah road to Jehanabad viâ Khiree was opened out. This road follows the line of all old "Nawabee" road, which had fallen into disuse. The necessary land therefore required for it was taken up free of cost. I lately travelled along nearly the entire length of this line of road. More money is required to complete and dress the earthwork on it, and put it into a fit state for general traffic. At present the District Committee have no funds available for this purpose.

10. The first and second roads were very carefully surveyed and aligned by the District Engineer, Mr. Macnamara, and Lieutenant Fuller, R.E., who was working under him during the time of scarcity and relief.

11. Additional expenditure was incurred on the rest of the work caused by the high prices which ruled last year. This was unavoidable, for the district road works afforded relief to the agricultural and unskilled labourer, and even to the maimed and halt; all skilled labourers, as far as was possible, being sent to the canals.

12. The normal rates in this district, including cost of petty establishment, varies from Rs. 1-8 to Rs. 2 per 100 cubic feet, whereas last year the actual expenditure varied from Rs. 1-12 to Rs. 3-8.

13. I trust the above information will meet the requirements of your letter No. 28J. of the 26th January 1875.

From—C. F. WORSLEY, ESQ., Officiating Magistrate and Chairman of the District Road Committee of Tirhoot, MOZUFFERPORE MAGISTRACY,

The 16th March 1875.

C. F. WORSLEY,
Offg. Magistrate and Chairman.

No. 152L., dated Chuprah, the 5th February 1875.

From—J. S. DRUMMOND, ESQ., Magistrate of Sarun,
To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

REFERRING to your Circular No. 18J. of the 19th ultimo forwarding copy of Government order No. 199, of the 13th idem, I have the honor to submit the following report on the works of local improvement carried on in this district, together with the annual accounts* of the District Road Fund for the cess year 1873-74.

* In duplicate.

2. The total receipts from tolls, &c, amounted during the year to Rs. 33,124-12-5, which, with the unexpended balance of Rs. 28,999-7-3 remaining in hand at the close of 1872-73, and the grant-in-aid obtained from provincial fund of Rs. 8,00,000, made up a total sum of Rs. 8,62,124-3-8 as actually available for district and relief works during the cess year 1873-74.

3. Against this there was an expenditure of Rs. 17,92,872-4-7, of which Rs. 960-8-6 were spent in office establishment, Rs. 5,40,510-1-8 in original works, Rs. 11,89,044-11-1 in repairs, Rs. 4,079-10-6 in tools, Rs. 58,110-15-8 in relief establishment under Captain May, and Rs 166-5 2 refunded, being balance of one per cent. road cess collection, &c., as per Accountant-General's letter No. 12252T, dated the 10th January 1874; and Rs. 2,32,297-14-2 were advanced to different parties for works, the accounts of which have not yet been adjusted.

4. The amount in excess drawn from treasury up to 30th September 1874 was therefore Rs 7,26 863-11-6, which, with the value of Government grain, Rs. 4,36,182-3-7, expended on relief works, made up the total amount of excess expenditure to Rs. 11,63,045-15-1. To cover this excess, an application for a grant-in-aid has already been made in this Office No. 189L., of the 13th August 1874.

5. Out of the regular budget-estimate sanctioned for 1873-74, the total amount expended on district works was Rs. 40,242-13-10, of which Rs. 17,920-9-1 were spent in original works, Rs. 20,022-4-9 in repairs, and Rs. 300 in tools, as per details given in the enclosed list; the rest were spent on relief works. For further details, I beg to refer to the accompanying copy of the Executive Engineer's report, No. 11 dated the 15th ultimo, in the remarks of which I fully concur.

5. All these extensive works were executed solely under the supervision of the District Engineer, Captain May. That with a comparatively small number of Public Works subordinates, by the aid of a locally engaged staff, Captain May was enabled to organize and carry out these works in such a manner as to provide work for all who sought it, and to prevent at any time a rush or crisis arising throughout the many anxious months of the past year, is a fact which entitles him to the greatest credit; and I cannot speak too highly of the excellence of his work, or of the energy, zeal, and administrative capacity evinced by him in the performance of his onerous duties throughout the year. In short, it is largely due to his valuable services that the famine in Sarun has been successfully met.

6. In conclusion I beg strongly to back Captain May's recommendation for the formation of the Bussuntpore Sub-Division and the permanent retention of the Relief Superintendent, Baboo Koylas Chunder Mookerjee, in charge of it. The Executive Engineer speaks very highly of his qualifications, and, as a reward for his services during the late famine, the Baboo may with advantage be allowed to be brought on the strength of the Public Works Department as a Supervisor.

SARUN MAGISTRACY,
The 5th February 1875.

J. S. DRUMMOND,
Magistrate.

No. 11, dated Chuprah, the 15th January 1875.

From—CAPTAIN J. MAY, C.E., Executive Engineer,

To—The Magistrate of Sarun.

As directed in paragraph 3 of Bengal Government, Public Works Department Circular No. 50 of 23rd July 1873, I have the honor to submit the annual report on the progress of works in the Sarun District and the expenditure incurred on them during the cess year ending September 1874, together with what is proposed to be done during the following year.

2. The constitution of the district underwent several changes during the year under review in consequence of the demand for relief works, which were opened at the latter end of November 1873, or only a month and half after the commencement of the cess year.

3. Owing to a scarcity of rain, and consequently a failure of the rice crops throughout the district, distress was apprehended, and immediate steps were taken by me to propose a relief map of the district, showing the relief works it was proposed to carry out in it These works were well scattered all over the district with a view to giving work wherever relief might be required; and having matured my plans early, I experienced no difficulty in providing employment in any part of the district to any number that sought it, and work after work was started as necessity demanded, and thus a rush or a crisis was prevented anywhere from beginning to end.

4. The district as reported last year was divided into two sub-divisions, Chuprah and Sewan, with only an Overseer and Sub-Overseer attached to each. With this inadequate establishment I had to commence my works. In December an Assistant Engineer and an Overseer were sent to me. To the latter I made over the western half of the Chuprah Sub-Division as a temporary measure. From December till April my establishment was supplemented by two more Assistant Engineers and three Overseers. In April the district was divided into four sub-divisions with the following establishment attached to each :—

East Chuprah Sub-Division.—Baboo Ramkissen Mookerjee, Assistant Engineer, in charge, with two departmental Overseers and a temporary establishment of one Assistant Superintendent, 12 Sub-Assistants, and 35 moonshees.

West Chuprah Sub-Division.—Baboo Jogendro Nath Mookerjee, Assistant Engineer, in charge, with one departmental Overseer, five European Superintendents, and a temporary establishment of one Assistant Superintendent, 19 Sub-Assistant Superintendents, and 171 Moonshees.

Sewan Sub-Division.—Mr. J. deLennox, Assistant Engineer, in charge, with two Overseers, one Sub-Overseer, and a temporary establishment of six Sub-Assistant Superintendents and 117 Moonshees.

Bussuntpore Sub-Division.—Mr. St. Joseph, Superintendent of Relief Works, in charge, with one Overseer and one Sub-Overseer and a temporary establishment of one Sub-Assistant Superintendent and 85 Moonshees. Besides the above a native Surveyor was employed for levelling and surveying exclusively. There were also European Circle Officers with European Assistants in different parts of the district.

5. In consequence of the great distance between Sewan and Head-quarters, a separate cash chest was opened for the Sewan Sub-Division at the sub-treasury at Sewan.

6. It is perhaps needless for me to enter into details relating to the relief works which have already been mentioned in the narratives, and will therefore at once proceed to give the progress of works and expenditure against the district budget up to September 1873.

7. The amount sanctioned for original works and repairs in the district budget for the year 1873-74 was Rs. 32,055 and Rs. 22,645 respectively, in addition to Rs. 12,191 for original works and Rs. 2,652 for repairs from unexpended balance of deposits placed to the credit of Public Works Department in 1872-73, aggregating Rs. 44,249 for original works and Rs. 25,297 for repairs.

8. As almost all the district works were carried out by relief labor and classed as relief works, I have for original works given credit for the value of work actually done within the estimated rate and provision, and for repairs the full estimated amount sanctioned, which amounts have been deducted from the total expenditure on relief works as properly chargeable to District Road Fund.

It will be observed that Rs. 17,920 only has been expended on original work out of Rs. 44,249 sanctioned; this is owing to my having been unable to undertake the whole of the original works, as more suitable works had to be provided for the relief labourers.

REPAIRS.

Repairs to 11¼ miles of metalled roads.
Ditto 882 of unmetalled roads, including bridges and culverts.
Ditto five inspection bungalows.
Ditto one serai.

RELIEF WORKS.

These may be classed as follows:—

I.—New road.
II.—Irrigation and drain cuts.
III.—New tanks.
IV.—Embankment.
V.—Old roads renewed and improved
VI.—Old tanks deepened and ditto.
VII.—New metalling and repairs to old metalling.
VIII.—Inspection bungalows and grain sheds.

I.—NEW ROAD.

Only two which can strictly be called new roads were undertaken by me: one from Bussuntpore to Sewan, and the other from Sissai to Pukree, the length of the former being 22 miles and the latter 4 miles, which branches off from the other roads and makes a short cut to the Maharajgunge road. The Sewan and Bussuntpore road runs across the centre of the district where the greatest distress prevailed; both these roads afforded employment to a large number of people daily. The earthwork on the Sewan and Bussuntpore road was heavy, as it ran through some deep churs. The quantity of earthwork executed is 13,065,555 cubic feet. The Sissai and Pukree road was opened to traffic in October and the other in November, and this road was continued on to Mushruck and thence to Panapore Bazar, a distance of 11 miles, but this portion merely required raising about 18 inches.

Temporary tarwood bridges, of spans detailed below, were constructed on the new Sewan and Bussuntpore road:—

1 of 96 feet	3 of 7 feet
1 " 94 "	1 " 7¼ "
1 " 9 "	1 " 7½ "
3 " 6 "	1 " 8¼ "
4 " 5½ "	1 " 12½ "
2 " 6¼ "	Total .. 321 rg. feet of waterway.
2 " 6½ "

There were several other roads of minor importance, including village roads, that were well raised and completed before the relief works were closed.

II.—IRRIGATION AND DRAIN CUTS.

Five works of this nature were undertaken, namely,— Choorma and Bunsawee drains,
Mookdoomgunge irrigation channel,
Dumrie ditto,
Telpa ditto,
and proved to be most beneficial.

The earthwork of all these was completed, and a masonry sluice constructed at the Mookdoomgunge channel.

III.—NEW TANKS.

Eighty-seven new tanks, about 100′ × 300′, were excavated, and the slopes of most of them were neatly turfed, and the spoil banks dressed off, and the tanks filled with water. They have proved to be most beneficial to the people for irrigation purposes, as well as for watering their cattle in the dry season, and have been much appreciated by them.

IV.—EMBANKMENT.

The embankment or protective work at Chuprah was undertaken and partly carried out, and stopped when it was discovered that it was unnecessary. It is now proposed to convert the bund into a road, as the want of one in that direction is much felt by the people in the station.

VIII.—INSPECTION BUNGALOWS AND GRAIN SHEDS.

Inspection bungalows and grain shops were also constructed for temporary accommodation of subordinates and bunniahs while relief works were in operation.

The largest number on the relief works was in the month of June; the mean daily number for the fortnight ending 13th June was 210,220; and the average daily number for the whole period that relief works were in operation was 60,257.

In the Hutwah Sub-Division the following relief works were undertaken under Mr. Hodgkinson:—

One-hundred and sixteen miles of road were well raised and renewed and 46 repaired, at a cost of Rs. 42,665; 28 miles of road were also put into order at the expense of the Raj, at a cost of Rs 9,336. Several tanks of various dimensions, mostly small, were also excavated, at a cost of Rs. 1,17,698.

Detailed information regarding the outlay on relief work has been given in the monthly allocation return submitted up to the 30th September. The following is the account of the expenditure incurred on them up to 30th September:—

A great deal of work was accomplished in the district up to the 30th September last, and the relief works that have been executed will be a lasting benefit to the district.

The budget-estimate for the cess year 1874-75 shows in detail what is proposed to be done this year.

In conclusion I beg again to bring to notice the necessity for strengthening the establishment for the district. I cannot work the district satisfactorily in two sub-divisions with two Overseers and two Sub-Overseers ,and strongly urge that a third sub-division be formed, namely, the Bussuntpore Sub-Division, and that another Overseer and Sub-Overseer be allowed for it from 1st April next. Work has increased in the district, and there is great need for an increase in the establishment also. Up to the 1st April, I have arranged for the supervision of works in the Bussuntpore Sub-Division, which is and will be in Mr. St Joseph's charge up to 31st March, and he will be paid from the funds realized from the sale of grain and made available for works in this district. If the Sub-Overseer could be sent at once, I would be glad.

I have a competent man in employ now on survey work, Baboo Koylas Chunder Mookerjee, who has been engaged on such work throughout the relief operation, and might, with the sanction of Government, be placed in charge of the Bussuntpore Sub-Division on 1st April. He is qualified as a Supervisor.

Besides what is proposed to be done in the district budget for 1874-75, several bridges, many of large spans, will be undertaken this year, the cost of which will be met from the money realized from the sale of excess grain which has been made available for work in this district.

J. MAY, Captain, C.E.,
Executive Engineer, Sarun District.

No. 202L., dated Chuprah, the 15th March 1875.

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

REFERRING to your letter No. 11J of the 12th ultimo, I beg to report that owing to heavy pressure of work in connection with the late famine, I have had no opportunity to convene any meetings of the District Road Committee, all works during the past year having been conducted by special agencies, in which the European members of the Committee joined largely, assisting the District Engineer Captain J. May, and acting in concert with him and myself.

2. All the works executed were of an ordinary nature, and no special difficulties were encountered in their construction. There was also no damage done by the floods to any of them.

3. There were 204 beeghas of land taken up for new works in the district, such as roads, tanks, and embankment, of which about 17 beeghas have been given as yet by zemindars free of cost.

4. As to the additional cost of works caused by the high prices, and the extent to which the services of the Sub-Divisional Officers and resident landholders have been availed of in looking after the annual repairs, &c., I beg to quote the following remarks from Captain May's letter No. 51 of the 20th ultimo:—

"The total expenditure up to 30th of September was Rs. 19,11,808, of which amount Rs. 13,48,060 has been charged to famine and Rs. 4,68,440 to Public Works Department; the difference, Rs 95,308, remained to be allocated.

"The services of Sub-Divisional Officers were not required to look after the repairs to roads, and it is presumed that they must have been otherwise fully engaged. Planter gentlemen assisted in looking after the repairs to roads to the extent of 272 miles."

No. 117, dated Motiharee, the 27th January 1875.

From—C. A. SAMUELLS, ESQ., Officiating Collector and Magistrate of Chumparun.

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

WITH reference to paragraph 3 of the Government Circular No. 50, dated 23rd July 1873, I have the honor to submit my report on the administration of District Road Fund for the cess year ending 30th September 1874, which should have accompanied the annual account re-submitted to you on the 19th January 1875 with this Office No. 72.

2. The report will show, 1st, what has been done on the works provided for in the regular budget-estimate for the year; 2nd, the extra works carried out for relief purposes from the different allotments which have been made debitable to the District Road Fund.

I.—ORIGINAL WORKS.

1. The large timber bridge with masonry abutments at Motiharee, for which Rs. 4,300 were provided, has been completed at a cost under that estimated for.

2. The similar bridge over the Dhonouti River on the Hajepore road, two miles from Motiharee. The abutments have been completed; the piles have been drawn, and the uprights and trusses put up. The allotment of Rs. 2,000 has considerably been exceeded.

3. Timber-topped bridge on masonry abutments, 50 feet span on Itwa Ghât and Dhaka road, was estimated for Rs. 2 500; and another of 30 feet span for Rs. 1,500 Nothing has been done; work stopped for survey.

4. Bridges and culverts on Motiharee and Turkolia road; allotment Rs. 700 Work was finally stopped early in September, as the existing waterway was found sufficient.

II.—REPAIRS TO MASONRY.

1. The 22 bridges and culverts, including four large bridges on the road from Motiharee to Segowli, have been put in thorough repair. The allotment for the repair was Rs. 4,050.

2. The 22 bridges and culverts on the road from Itwa Ghât to Dhaka have also been put in thorough repair, and the allotment therefore (Rs. 2,346) has been expended.

3. Twenty-one bridges and culverts on the road from Bettia to Lowria have been similarly repaired, and the allotment of Rs. 1,916 has been expended thereon.

4. With the exception of the large bridge at Raj ghât, all the 28 bridges and culverts on the Segowli to Bettia road have been repaired. The Rajghât bridge has, however, been made safe and passable; and the whole allotment, Rs. 1,741, has been expended.

5. Rs. 1,500 was allotted for the bridges on the road from Bettia to Bagaha, a distance of 36 miles All of these bridges have been made safe and passable, although not thoroughly repaired.

6. Rs. 1,000 was similarly provided for the bridges on the road from Segowli to Behas. Two bridges have been found inadequate for the waterway, and one, which was partially destroyed, has been demolished, and a causeway of 300 feet in length substituted. A second bridge has been broken down, and a 50-feet causeway substituted. The other bridges have been put in fair repair.

7. Mozufferpore road.—The existing bridges and culverts have been thoroughly repaired. The allotment of Rs. 1,000 has been far exceeded.

8. Rajpore to Sutterghât road.—The allotment for repairs to masonry was Rs. 550; the culverts have all been made passable.

9. Burhurwa road.—The allotment for repair to masonry was Rs. 2,000; only some temporary bridges have been made.

10. The bridges and culverts on the Segowli and Gobindgunge road, including several with large spans, have been thoroughly repaired. The allotment was Rs. 1,000.

III.—REPAIRS TO EARTHWORK AND EMBANKMENT.

1. Road from Motiharee to Segowli, a distance of 14 miles —The allotment was Rs. 350; this has been far exceeded. The road has been heightened and widened in parts, and well dressed and turfed as a relief work, and is in the very best repair.

2. Road from Itwa Ghât to Dhaka. a distance of 14 miles.—The allotment for this road was Rs. 2,520, and the whole of it has been put in thorough repair.

3. Road from Bettia to Lowria, 16 miles, has been well raised at its northern end, and put in thorough repair as a relief work.

4. Road from Segowli to Bettia, 16 miles.—The allotment of Rs. 1,280 has been far exceeded, and the road raised in parts and put in thorough repair as a relief work.

5. Road from Bettia to Bagaha, a distance of 36 miles.—Rs. 2,880 was allotted for this road, and has been expended. but only in those places where labor was required, the proximity of the Gunduk embankment making it undesirable to open work on the western portion of the road.

6. Road from Segowli to Behas, 6 miles, and from Behas to Ruksoul, 13 miles.—This is really one road, 19 miles in length, being the high road to Katmando. In consequence of very heavy earthwork done upon it throughout its entire length, the original allotment of Rs. 510 only has been far exceeded. In some places the embankment has been raised to one of 10 feet with a 20 feet crest. The road has been made a valuable and enduring embanked road throughout its entire length altogether by relief labor

7. Mozufferpore road from Motiharee to 24*th mile, a distance of* 28 miles.—This, too, has been put in thorough repair as a relief work; the appropriation having been far exceeded.

8. Rajpore to Sutturghât road has been repaired as a relief work.

9. Burhurwah road, 8 miles, has been put in good repair.

10. Segowli to Gobindgunge road, 22 miles.—The allotment was Rs. 660. This road has been put in thorough repair as a relief work.

12. Motiharee to Rajpore, 21 miles.—Of this, the first eight miles are in Mozufferpore road.

The appropriation was Rs. 630, which has been exceeded. The road has been thoroughly repaired as a relief work.

13. Dhaka to Ghorasahan, 12 miles.—Rs 360 was allotted for this road. It has been raised and widened as a relief work.

14. Kessariah to Gobindgunge, 18 miles.—Rs. 540 was allotted, but has been spent elsewhere. The road is in fair order; some petty repairs only having been done.

15. Lallsuraiah to Soogoun, 8 miles.—Rs. 160 was allotted.

A new road has been made along this line, and part of this road is incorporated Nothing has been done to the original road.

16. Peeprah to Seeraha, 10 miles.—Rs. 200 was allotted for this road. It has been put in repair as a relief work.

17. Semrah to Bukhuriah, 12 miles.—Rs. 360 was allotted. This is shown separately in the budget, but is in fact the eastern portion of road No. 7 (the Mozufferpore road), the remarks under which apply to this.

18. Motiharee to Toorkowliah, 8 miles —The allotment was Rs. 240. This has been expended in surface work, and the road is in fair repair.

19. Mehurpore to Ghorasahan, 10 miles —Rs. 267 was allotted. Nothing has been done, the money having been diverted to other roads.

This road is an unimportant one.

The above shows all the roads which were provided for in the last budget. The following roads were taken up during the year as relief works. They have been divided into two blocks, viz., 1*st*, the Sudder sub-division, 2*nd*, the Bettia, and in each block is shown (A) existing roads which have been repaired, (B) entirely new roads.

BLOCK I.—SUDDER SUB-DIVISION.

1. Motiharee to Kutkenwan, 20 miles.—This is the second main road to Nepal, a wide and high embankment road. The whole of it has been put in thorough repairs at a heavy cost. The work was first taken up by the Civil Officers; then by the Special Executive Engineer on his arrival With the exception of three, all the bridges and culverts on this road have been put into good order by the latter.

2. Barah to Seeraha, 8 miles.—This is one of the district roads. The earthwork and surface was thoroughly repaired as a relief work.

The road is now in excellent order, all the culverts having been repaired by the Special Executive Engineer.

3. Seeraha to Dhaka viâ Puraiwah, 12 miles.—The embankment has been raised in places, and some 12 small culverts have been constructed. The road is all but finished.

4. Seeraha to Taiturnah, 12 miles.—This is one of the famine roads of 1866-68. A little earthwork has been done upon it as a relief work, and the culverts put in good repair. Part of the road crosses a heavy spill, and the bridges thereon have been carried away.

5. Seeraha to Jamooah, 17 miles.—The whole of this road has been put in first-rate order, and the road raised throughout as a relief work; all the culverts having been repaired.

7. Dhaka to Pudoomkair, 5 miles.—This road, too, was raised throughout, straightened in places, and put in excellent order as a relief work Some temporary bridges and culverts were made, but were much injured by the July floods.

8. Dhaka to Belwaghât, 7 miles.—This road has been raised and improved as a relief work by the Special Engineer's establishment.

9. Kutkenwan to Adapore, 8 miles.—This was an old country road of the most vicious alignment, which was taken up as an emergent relief work and put in thorough repair; the work having been done throughout by the Civil Officers.

10. Adapore to Ruxoul.—This is a continuation of the last, both forming the Nepal Frontier road. Repairs were begun under the Special Executive Engineer, but stopped as soon as the demand for labor in the locality ceased.

About two miles of this road were thoroughly repaired. It is unbridged, and the alignment as bad as can be conceived.

11. Toorkowliah to Sungrampore, 13 miles.—The earthwork and bridges of this road were repaired throughout as a relief work by the Civil Officer.

The road has generally been repaired by the indigo factories along it. It is much used.

12. Gobindgunge to Burhurwah, 8 miles.—The road has been raised in places, and repaired throughout by relief labor.

The bridges, ten in number, have been completed throughout, excepting those on the first quarter miles, which have still to be bridged

13. Branch road to Segowlı Cantonments, 2½ miles.—This road has been put in thorough repair by the Special Executive Engineer. It is the communication between the Cantonments, the Bettia and Motiharee high roads. Surface repairs only were required.

14. Motiharee station road, altogether 10 miles.—This includes all the roads within the station and those in the jurisdiction of the Town Committee. All of these roads have been repaired at a very heavy cost as relief works, chiefly under the superintendence of the members of the Relief Committee.

These roads were not made over to the Special Executive Engineer till July.

15. Motiharee to Dhaka, 17 miles.—Surface repairs have been executed throughout by relief labor, and the bridges repaired, and two new culverts built.

The road is now in excellent order.

16. Dhaka to north-east boundary, 6 miles.—The earthwork has been put in repair by purely relief labor at a cost of nearly Rs. 4,000.

17. Dhaka to Putahee, 7 miles.—The road has been raised and straightened through three-fourths of its length, but it is not fit for traffic

18. Putahee to Mehsi, 14 miles only.—Six miles of this road from Putahee to Mudhoobun have been repaired by pure relief labor.

19. Dhaka to Ghorasahan.—This road with all its bridges has been put in thorough repair, and is now in excellent order.

I. B.—NEW ROADS.

1. Dhaka and Mehurpore and Dhaka and Purwa Junction, ¾ mile.—This is a short cut in the road from Motiharee to Putahee viâ Dhaka, availing the Dhaka bazar. It was started to meet heavy pressure for relief works.

2. Ghorasahan to Ekdaree, 11 miles.—Three-fourths of this road have been finished, but are unbridged. The road is at present a mere embankment, and is probably far too costly to be completed.

3. Lukhowrah to Nurkutia, 8 miles.—This road was begun by the Civil Officers as it was the only means of communication with Nurkutia, which was a grain depôt. It was afterwards taken up by the Special Executive Engineer, but has been completed for five miles only. It was much damaged by the July floods. The Superintending Engineer does not recommend its maintenance.

4. Nurkutia to Adapore, 10 miles.—This road, too, was begun by the Civil Officers as a relief work. Two miles have been completed only (unbridged). The portion which has been made connects the two important villages of Nurkutia and Gumhuria, and will be very useful; the work has been well done.

5. Ramgurwa to Adapore, 14 miles.—This is a high embanked road, unbridged, and has been completed to all but the last mile. It was begun by the Collector as a relief work, and constructed throughout by unprofessional agency. It has never been taken over by the Special Engineer.

6. Soogown to Toorkowliah, 6 miles.—This is a new road, which shortens an old and devious but much-used route by two miles. The road has been so constructed as to take in the three most important bridges in the old line. It was made by the Civil Officer as a relief work, and has now been taken over by the Executive Engineer, who is completing the bridging.

7. Chuprah Behas to Bettia, 18 miles.—This, with road No. 5, was one of the first relief works started by the Collector. This road runs perfectly straight to Bettia, and shortens the existing high roads between Motiharee and Bettia by six miles. Its alignment is good, and it is now a fine road, though made throughout under unprofessional agency. It has now been made over to the Special Executive Engineer, who has nearly completed the bridges upon it.

8. Mudhoo Chuprah to Teelhara, ¾ mile.—One culvert in it has been finished, and the road itself is half finished.

9. Motiharee station road, ½ mile.—This is an embanked road connecting the new dâk and circuit bungalow with the old roads. A culvert of three spans on the junction has been finished.

10. Mukhooa to Lallseraiah, 12 miles.—One-half of this road has been finished. It is unbridged, and is impassable. It was started as an emergent relief work by the Civil Officer.

11. Chaitaghât to Pukree, 2 miles.—This is a mere embankment made by relief labor.

12. Poornahia to Telahrah, 7 miles.—Half of this road has been completed by relief labor; it was along the frontier, and is quite unbridged. All these new roads have been constructed on the same plan, that is, an embankment raised according to the exigencies of the local inundation, as roughly ascertained, and remaining as straight as the line can be aligned, with a crest of from 12 to 16 feet, slopes of 1 foot in 2 feet, and cart tracks below each slope from 8 to 10 feet wide.

II.—BETTIA BLOCK.

1.A.—EXISTING ROAD REPAIRS.

1. Bettia to Gobindgunge, 30 miles.—The road has hitherto been left for want of funds. It has now been put in thorough repair as a relief work by the Civil Officer, and afterwards by the Special Engineer. A large bridge on this road has been re-constructed at a cost of Rs. 2,000, half of which has been borne by the Rajah of Bettia.

2. Bettia to Lohuria, 8 miles.—Petty repairs have been given to the earthwork. This road is bridged throughout.

3. Bettia to Chainputea, 10 miles.—For six miles this was an old road, and the rest a cart track. The whole has been made a good road as a relief work, but is still unbridged.

2.B.—NEW ROADS.

1. Rajghât to Pursa, 18 miles.—A new relief road, begun and carried out by the Civil Officer. Half of it has been completed.

2. Bettia to Tengraighat, 12 miles.—The same remarks apply. Two-thirds of this road have been completed.

3. Bettia to Peepraghât, 12 miles.—This was an old track, which has been levelled and repaired by the Civil Officer as a relief work. It was finished in February

Pursa to Lameaha, 10 miles.—This is a new road, started as a relief work. Six miles of it have been finished and bridged.

4. Bagaha to Tribanee, 25 miles.—A relief road with an embankment averaging 2 feet in height; unfinished and unbridged.

5. Hurnatar to Tribanee, 14 miles.—A relief road of the same description, with an embankment of an average height of 1 foot.

6. Lowriah to Ramnugger, 15 miles.—This is an extension of the road from Bettia to Lowriah, and has been constructed on the same plan as a relief work, and has been completed.

7. Shikarpore to Ramnugger, 10 miles.—This is another relief road of the same description as the last, except the bridging. The road has been finished.

8. Sohuria to Bhowrah, 8 miles.—This was an old country road. It has been made a high embanked and wide road, and, except the bridging, has been completed.

Besides the above, nearly 200 tanks have been either dug, re-dug, or improved under both the Officers of the Public Works Department and the Civil Officers. All have without exception been completed, but the dressing of the spoil banks, which has only been done in a few cases.

During the current year it is proposed to carry out the works as per accompanying list.

JADUB CHUNDER GHOSE,
For Offg. Magistrate, on Tour.

No. 151, dated Motiharee, the 5th February 1875.

From—C. A. SAMUELLS, ESQ., Officiating Magistrate of Chumparun.

To—The Commissioner of the Patna Division.

IN reply to your No. 17J, dated 26th January 1875, and in continuation of my local improvement report submitted on the 27th ultimo, I have the honor to report—

1. That in consequence of famine operations the Road Committee was almost entirely superseded. Work was commenced in November 1873 wherever the demand appeared to be greatest. This necessitated from the outset an almost complete abandonment for the time of the schemes laid down by the Committee for the ensuing year, and estimates in every instance were much exceeded. All the roads, however, which appeared in the Committee's estimates, were sooner or later taken up and fully repaired, as will appear from the report already submitted.

2. With regard to especially difficult roads, the sums placed at our disposal have enabled us to place all these roads on a much more secure footing than would have been possible with our ordinary funds. The Bahar road and the Dhaka and Itwah road have both been worked with a view to avoiding the annual damage to which they were yearly exposed On other roads the line has been raised above water influences wherever needful, and roads hitherto useless in the rains made permanently useful.

3. The amount of damage done by floods, owing to the above precautions, has been small, and will be easily repaired. The damage generally arose from defective watering, which could not be provided for during the famine. These errors have been since rectified, and future damage, it is hoped, avoided.

4. The liberality of zemindars generally, and the Bettia Rajah in particular, in providing land for roads free of cost, has been most conspicuous. No compensation has been claimed for any of the land taken for relief roads, but permission to work wherever work was required was most generously accorded. Had this not been the case, we should in many cases have been quite unable to provide work in many parts of the district; and the expense and delay to us in taking up land in the usual way would have interfered sadly with our schemes of relief.

5. The additional cost of work, owing to high prices, could, of course, not be avoided. We have, however, secured very good value for our money, all things considered; and the famine will mark an epoch in the road communications of this district, which would have been far distant if we had been left to our own meagre funds. Old roads have been put in thorough repair, new roads constructed, and the country traffic has been opened out in a way hitherto unknown.

That we have averted famine, and at the same time caused famine labor to be productive of good results, will fully atone for the extra cost of the work done.

6. The services of the Committee members and European residents generally have been cheerfully rendered throughout the district. Without the assistance thus afforded, in most instances gratuitously, Government must have been compelled to incur a large expenditure in an establishment, whose services, if not less efficient, would certainly have been more extravagant.

The works have in such instances been supervised by men who had most interest, not only in completing the work itself, but in providing their tenants with employment. Much self-devotion has been exhibited, and the thanks of the Committee and Government are due for the aid so cheerfully and opportunely rendered.

C. A. SAMUELLS, Offg. Magistrate.

No. 71J., dated Bankipore, the 5th March 1875.

From—C. T. METCALFE, ESQ., Officiating Commissioner of the Patna Division.

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

WITH reference to Government order No 51 of the 8th August 1871, I have now the honor to submit the local improvement report of this division for the year 1873-74.

2. The annual account of the road funds of the several districts, together with the reports of the District Committees in original, are hereto annexed.

3 The delay in the submission of this report has been owing to some of the district accounts having been received in an incorrect form. They had accordingly to be returned for explanation, which was not submitted till very lately. The reports of the Committees were also very meagre in the first instance, and the supplementary reports I had called for were not to hand in a tolerably complete shape till the 12th instant. Even now I am not in possession of the report and accounts from Tirhoot; but as my report has been considerably delayed, I send this up without any longer waiting for them.

4. The financial results of the year, as gathered from the accounts, were as follows:—

Balance on 1st October 1874.

5. The receipts from tolls and ferries were very small as compared with the preceding year This is owing principally to the orders of Government directing the temporary abolition of all toll-bars and ferry tolls in the famine-stricken districts of this division in order to facilitate the transport of grain. On the other hand, the income from fines and miscellaneous sources shows a large increase of Rs 1,19,076, the cause of which has not been explained by the District Officers. The grant-in-aid from Government was Rs. 43,29,810, against Rs. 62,234 of the previous year The occasion for this unusually large grant was, I need scarcely mention, the relief measures of the past year, which the District Committees, with the limited funds at their disposal, were not in a position to carry out.

6. Of the total amount of expenditure, viz., Rs. 53,48,569, by far the largest portion (Rs. 30,22,953), was on account of the extensive original works which were undertaken in Tirhoot and Sarun, where the outlay on this head was—

	Rs.
Tirhoot	22,71,498
Sarun	5,10,510

In Gya, Shahabad, and Chumparun also the expenditure on new works was, owing to the same exceptional state of things, far greater than in 1872-73, as will be seen from the figures given below:—

	1872-73.	1873-74.
	Rs.	Rs.
Gya	7,812	... 26,365
Shahabad	3,118	... 1,13,368
Chumparun	595	... 71,148

The total cost of repairs was Rs. 19,56,861, distributed among the several districts as follows:—

	Rs.
Patna	1,70,730
Gya	11,562
Shahabad	46,357
Tirhoot	1,88,201
Sarun	11,89,045
Chumparun	3,50,965

The expenditure on this account in 1872-73 was—

Patna	24,810
Gya	11,426
Shahabad	32,209
Tirhoot	49,742
Sarun	18,386
Chumparun	17,154
Total ...	1,53,727

7. The enormous increase under this head was due principally to the high prices that ruled during the past year, and the necessity which thence arose in the districts for supplying work to the poor for relief purposes. In this view many old roads not provided for in the regular budgets were taken up for repairs. This plan was principally followed in Patna, where the cost of original works for giving relief was nil.

8. But the expenditure both on new works and repairs would have been greater had it not been for the liberality displayed by the zemindars, of whom the Maharajahs of Durbhunga, Hutwa, Bettiah, and Doomraon were conspicuous. The planters, too, rendered much assistance in the shape of supervision.

9. The working of the District Road Committees was not, I am sorry to say, very satisfactory. In Patna and Gya their sittings were seldom held, and the members did not, except in some unimportant matters, display much interest in the district works. Mr. Palmer considers his Committee of little value, while Mr. Mangles speaks of them as follows:—

"I regret that I cannot speak favorably of the working of the Committee. Its members have met certainly when called upon by me to do so; but, with the exception of giving their consent to any proposals that I might have to make, they have been of very little assistance to me; nor, indeed, while our funds are as small as they now are, do I see of what much use the Committee could be. Our estimates have to be prepared with the greatest care to make both ends meet, and the work so estimated for is carried out by the Executive Engineer, who prepares the estimates, and his subordinates; so that, with the exception of transferring sometimes a few rupees from this to that road, as necessity or some unforeseen accident arises, the Committee have not much to do with the disposal of the funds."

10. In Chumparun the Road Committee was almost entirely superseded on account of the famine. The only Officer who speaks favorably of his committee is Mr. Alexander, of Shahabad, who says that the attendance of the members was regular and fair, and the Committee sat four times during the last cess year.

11 I now proceed to notice the principal works carried out in each district during the past cess year:—

Patna.—The only new work executed in this district was a small road from Behar to Ekanger. The cost was Rs. 62. The annual repairs to old roads, as provided for in the budget, had been carried out before the rains set in; but unfortunately they were much damaged by the heavy floods of last year.

Gya.—In this district 12 new roads, about 126 miles in length, were undertaken for relief purposes. Of these, 107 miles have been completed of the old roads, 125 miles of unmetalled roads, and 2 miles of metalled roads have been put in repair. Mr. Palmer's management of the funds was by far the most judicious and economical, and owing to his strict and vigilant supervision, the works undertaken have, for the most part, been satisfactorily executed.

Shahabad.—Of the new roads constructed in this district the most important were—

1. Sarinja to Saraya road.
2. Bickrumgungo to Susna.
3. Gurhario to Bihta.
4. Poorunda to Jehanabad viâ Khiree.

None of these roads have been completed for want of funds, though land required for the 1st, 3rd, and 4th roads were given free of cost by the zemindars.

12. The repairs consisted in raising and improving the existing roads, as provided for in the budget of the year. Much of these were damaged by floods.

Tirhoot.—The report from this district has not yet been received, though several reminders have been sent to the Magistrate.

Sarun.—The cost of original works debitable to Road Fund was Rs. 17,920, and of repairs Rs 22,022. The following original works and repairs were executed:—

ORIGINAL WORKS.

(1) Constructing a masonry drain bridge on the Seetulpore and Sariaghât road.
(2) Two culverts on the Chuprah and Sutterghât road.
(3) Planking a bridge on Rajputty and Suddowah road.
(4) Temporary bridge at Palija.
(5) Finishing earthwork on Mushruck tramway road.
(6) New road from Majhowa to Dulipchuck ferry.
(7) New road from Jhowa to Bhindibary.
(8) Metalling 7th mile of Chuprah and Sutterghât road.
(9) Metalling 6th mile of Chuprah and Sonepore road.
(10) Four culverts on Cheynpore and Russoolpore road, and on the road from Chuprah to Goothni.

REPAIRS.

(1) Repairs to 11½ miles of metalled roads.
(2) Repairs to 882 miles of unmetalled roads, including bridges and culverts.
(3) Repairs to five inspection bungalows
(4) Repairs to one serai.

13. These are district works, besides which there were numerous relief works, of which the principal were the following:—

(1) Two new roads—one from Bussuntpore to Sewan, 22 miles long; and the other from Sissao to Pukree, 15 miles in length.
(2) Twenty-one temporary bridges.
(3) Choorna and Bunsowee drains.
(4) Irrigation channels at Mookdoomgunge, Dumri, and Telpa, at the Mookdoomgunge channel. A masonry sluice was also constructed.
(5) Eighty-seven new tanks, 400 x 300, neatly turfed and dressed, and 29 tanks deepened and improved.

The total expenditure on relief works up to 30th September 1874 was Rs. 18,71,565.

Chumparun.—Of the original works carried out in this district, the most important were the following:—

(1) A large timber bridge at Motiharee.
(2) Another bridge over the Dhanouti Rivers on the Hajipore road
(3) Four metalled roads and 19 kutcha roads were embanked and repaired through a greater portion of their length.

For relief purposes, 12 new roads in the Sudder and 8 in the Bettia Sub-Division were constructed, besides repairing 22 existing roads in the whole district.

14. There were also about 200 tanks dug, re-dug, and improved.

15. The effects of these works undertaken and carried out at so heavy a cost is thus described by the Magistrate:—"We have, however, secured very good value for our money, all things considered; and the famine will mark an epoch in the road communications of this district, which would have been far distant if we had been left to our own meagre funds. All roads have been put in thorough repair, new roads constructed, and the country traffic has been opened out in a way hitherto unknown. That we have averted famine, and at the same time caused famine labor to be productive of good results, will fully atone for the extra cost of the work done."

16. To sum up, the total cost incurred in each district both on account of ordinary and relief works is as follows:—

	Rs.
Patna	1,70,792
Gya	37,928
Shahabad	1,59,726
Tirhoot	24,59,699
Sarun	17,29,554
Chumparun	4,22,113
Total	49,79,812

17. There is no doubt, as said by the Collector of Chumparun, that the year under review was an important era for the road communications in this division. Had it not been for the high pressure of the famine, the districts would have taken long to reach the stage of internal improvement at which the late visitation has left them For some years to come the repairs of the existing roads will be all that the Road Committees will have to provide for.

Notification.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 2083*A of* 1875, dated the 11*th October* 1875.

THE following Notification regarding the sale of the Government tea plantations at Ayar Toli and Hawalbagh in Kumaun, is published for general information in supersession of Notification No. 1707A, dated 21st August 1875. The portions of this notification which are additions to or alterations of the former Notification are printed in italics:—

The following tea plantations in Kumaun, the property of Government, will be offered for sale by public auction at the Senior Assistant Commissioner's Office, Almora, on Wednesday, the 1st of December 1875 at noon.—

HAWALBAGH.

Forty-six miles from the plains by bridle-road, and six from Almora. Area, about one hundred acres, after excluding the house known as Mr. Traill's, with its compound, which will not be sold: said house and ground are in an outlying corner of the estate and are to be set apart for travellers. Separated from the plantation by the Kosi river (suspension bridge) is a pine forest of one hundred and two acres, belonging to the estate, but in which neighbouring villages have the right to graze their cattle. The garden, having latterly been used as a nursery for fruit trees, the whole of the area is not under tea. There are on the estate two large slated houses (exclusive of Traill's house, which will not be sold), a slated factory, two slated godowns, a slated barrack for tea-makers, and numerous slated out-offices. The height of the houses above sea-level is 4,000 feet, and the lands are not much higher or lower. Upset price, Rs. 25,000.

Communications.—A good bridle-road, 8 to 10 feet wide and bridged, runs to (1) Haldwani, (2) Kaladungi (viâ Naini Tal), and (3) Ramnagar (viâ Khyrna). From Haldwani to Bareilly Railway Station 60 miles, over a pucka cart-road; from Kaladungi to Moradabad Railway Station, 48 miles, on partly pucka road; and from Ramnagar to Moradabad, 45 miles, viâ Kashipur, of which 25 miles more or less are a kutcha fair weather road, bridged. Bridge-of-boats on Ramganga north of Moradabad. From Ramnagar up there is a cart-road (Kosi river not bridged) to Ranikhet, 56 miles; and to the Hawalbagh plantation, where the Kosi river is being bridged, 19 miles.

1, 2, 3—markets at the foot of the hills.

AYAR TOLI.

In Kattyur, consisting of about 1627 acres. The area under tea was some years ago considerable. About 700 acres are cleared, and most of the remaining 927 acres consist of jungle, of which part may be unculturable. There were on the estate a house, factory, godown, and numerous out-offices, all slated; but all these are in bad repair. Height of house above sea-level, 5,200 feet, and the plantation ranges from that height to 4,100 feet. Upset price, Rs 17,000.

Communications.—To Hawalbagh, 24 miles by bridle-road, thence as detailed under Hawalbagh.

These two estates will be put up to auction separately at the upset prices named, and sold in fee-simple to the highest bidder, free of all demands for land revenue, but subject to the rights already named in each case, and also to payment of customary cesses now in force, or that may be imposed hereafter.

Both estates have been surveyed, and maps may be seen at the District Office, Almora. Intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to the present condition of the estates, and on all other matters involved in their sale. The purchasers must deposit 5 per cent. of the purchase-money at the time of sale, and the balance on or before the 1st of January 1876, when possession will be given: failing payment in full the deposit will be forfeited, and the estates re-sold

N. B.—No part of the Ayar Toli estate is held under a lease from the Nagnath Temple as stated in the former Notification No. 1707A, dated 21st August 1875.

By order of the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor, North-Western Provinces.

J. S. MACKINTOSH,
Offg Secy to Govt., N. W Provinces.

Besides the detailed alterations which are set forth in the latter part of this Report, we have to call especial attention to the considerable alterations on the principle of the existing law and of the Bill as it was introduced into Council. One of these alterations concerns the classification of ships or rather of voyages, and the other the measurement of space for passengers.

The Acts of Council which now regulate the carriage of Native passengers are XXV of 1859, XII of 1870, and XII of 1872. The Act of 1859 is confined to the Bay of Bengal and to certain specified voyages within that Bay, but it extends to every species of vessel however small may be the number of passengers.

The Act of 1870 was framed to apply to voyages between India and ports either in the Red Sea or the Persian Gulf, but this part of that Act is confined to vessels which carry more than thirty Native passengers. This Act also contains a chapter relating to steam-vessels carrying any number of passengers on "coasting voyages" from or to any port or place within British India, and it subjects them to provisions less elaborate and less restrictive than those which apply to the voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. But it does not define the term "coasting voyage," which is a term by no means free from ambiguity.

The Act of 1872 effected a very important alteration in the Act of 1870 by making the rules laid down for voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf apply to all vessels whether sailers or steamers which carry more than thirty passengers, and which fall within the scope of our legislation.

Thus it will be seen that before the Act of 1872, the law was in a very complicated and anomalous state. Very different rules were laid down for voyages bearing practically the same character: for instance, a voyage from Madras to Singapore would fall under one set of rules, and a voyage from Bombay to Bushire under another. There were no provisions applying to voyages from one British Indian port to another, except those for the specified voyages in the Bay of Bengal, and those which were laid down for "coasting steamers" whatever that expression might mean. The Act of 1872 very much simplified the law, but it did so by subjecting to one set of rules voyages of the most diverse character; so that, for instance, a voyage by steam from Bombay to Surat would be subjected to the same rules as one by sails from Madras to Jeddah. It was the hardship occasioned to first class steamers by this change of the law that led to the introduction of the Bill. And as we have been informed, the law being unsuitable to the circumstances was disregarded in many respects. The Bill as introduced kept to the existing classification of voyages and vessels, and sought to remove the existing hardships by giving larger powers to Local Governments to make exemptions and to adjust rules. It also put voyages in the Bay of Bengal and those to the westward on the same footing, and thus aimed at a material simplification of the arrangements made by the Acts of 1859 and 1870. But it was urged upon us that any system depending for its working upon exemptions by the executive had an element of great uncertainty and weakness in it; and that the Local Governments were not in a position to make rules, many of which, in order to work at all, must work in more than one province. At the same time, it was suggested that we might make a more simple and practical classification of voyages than was effected by the Acts of 1859 and 1870; and that by dividing them into voyages of greater or less length, and providing a more stringent set of rules for the former and a less stringent set for the latter, we might preserve an effectual control over the traffic while not enacting a law too rigid for practical working. We were also informed that the existing law was defective in requiring the passengers to be proportioned to the tonnage of the vessel, being a principle of measurement unsuitable to the build of the vessels in question, and that the principle of measurement by superficial and cubic feet of space would be more suitable.

For these suggestions we were indebted to Mr. Kittredge, a gentleman residing at Bombay and of much experience in the passenger-ship business. They appeared good to us, but we thought it would be imprudent to adopt them without first consulting local authorities. On that account we did not at once make any report to the Council, but we caused a provisional draft to be framed on the basis of Mr. Kittredge's two suggestions, and sent to the Maritime Governments for opinions. The result has been that we have received answers which show a general acceptance of the proposed alteration in the law, and which do not, in our opinion, show any valid objection to it.

We have therefore divided voyages into two classes: long voyages and short voyages · long voyages being those on which the ship will under ordinary circumstances be as much as five days out of port. We have required more stringent conditions of ships proceeding on long voyages. And we have abandoned measurement by tonnage, for measurement by space alone.

The Bill, as now framed, is divided into six Chapters: I. Preliminary; II. Rules for all voyages; III. Rules for short voyages; IV. Rules for long voyages; V. Penalties; VI. Miscellaneous.

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

In lieu of giving a definition of "Native passenger ship," we have made the Bill expressly apply to vessels carrying more than thirty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa; but we have excluded from the operation of the proposed Act sailing-vessels not carrying as passengers more than thirty such Natives, steamers not carrying as passengers more than sixty such Natives; and sailing-vessels and steamers not intended to carry passengers to or from any port in British India.

We have omitted the definition of "Local Government," and have defined "passenger" as meaning a person above the age of twelve years or two persons between the ages of one year and twelve years. We have also defined the expressions "voyage," "long voyage," "short voyage" and "Chief Officer of Customs."

CHAPTER II.—Rules for all voyages.

We have here provided that no ship shall discharge passengers at any port in British India other than a port appointed by Government. We think that notice of the time of sailing should be given not less than 24 hours before time, and we have provided that it may be given by the Owner or Agent as well as by the Master.

We think that no passenger ship should commence her voyage unless the Master has two certificates—one (designated as A) stating that the ship is seaworthy and properly equipped, &c., and the number of passengers that she is capable of carrying: the other (designated as B) stating the voyage that she is intended to make, that she has a proper crew, sufficient provisions, &c. Certificate A may be dispensed with, if the Master holds a certificate granted by the Board of Trade or by any British Colonial Government, or a certificate granted under the authority of a British Indian Government and not more than 6 months before the day of sailing. And we think that where the officer empowered to grant certificates under the proposed Act directs unreasonably a survey to be made of a vessel holding either of such certificates, the Local Government should pay the expense of the survey.

We have provided that the grant of certificates shall be in the discretion of the officer empowered to grant them.

CHAPTER III.—Rules as to short voyages.

We have here laid down rules as to the space to be provided for between-decks passengers and upper-deck passengers, (a) in seasons of fair weather, (b) in seasons of foul weather. And we have declared that in seasons of foul weather no ship shall carry upper-deck passengers unless she provides for them a deck-house or other permanent protection. This chapter also provides for obtaining supplementary certificate in case the vessel ships additional passengers at intermediate ports and for reporting deaths which occur on the voyage.

CHAPTER IV.—Rules for long voyages.

Here we have first given rules as to the space to be provided for passengers (a) in sailing-vessels, (b) in steamers. We then declare that the certificate shall not be granted when the cargo is likely to prejudice the health or safety of the passengers. We have also provided for reporting any deaths which occur on the voyage. The remainder of this chapter (as to the statement, as to the number and sexes of the original and additional passengers, as to the bond to be given when the ship clears for a port in the Red Sea, and as to touching at Aden and obtaining a clean bill of health) repeat with mere verbal changes the provisions of Act XII of 1870.

CHAPTER V.—Penalties.

Nothing in this chapter requires special mention except section thirty-eight, which is founded on section eleven of Act XXV of 1859, and imposes a penalty on the Master of any ship bringing passengers from any place in Ceylon or in the Straits or to the east thereof to British India, in excess of the proportion authorized by the proposed Act or allowed by the license granted in respect of the ship at her port of departure.

CHAPTER VI.—Miscellaneous.

We think that the power to make subsidiary rules should be exercised solely by the Governor-General in Council and not by the Local Governments with his previous sanctions We also think that the Governor-General in Council should have the power to declare what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of the proposed Act, a "long voyage," a "short voyage," "seasons of fair weather," and "seasons of foul weather."

Lastly, we have empowered the Governor-General in Council to direct, in the case of any ship or class of ships, and for all or any voyages, the space to be contained for the passengers, and we have declared that such direction shall override the general provisions of the Act relating to such ship or class of ships.

We think that the Bill has undergone such alterations that it should be republished; that the opinions of the Local Governments concerned should be invited; and that meanwhile the further consideration of the Bill should be postponed.

2. In reply I am to state that the Lieutenant-Governor has heard with much satisfaction of the public-spirited liberality of Rai Kali Narain Chowdry, Bahadoor, in so munificently helping to improve and extend the benefits of an Institution which does so much to help and relieve human suffering, and His Honor has desired me to request that you will be good enough to convey an expression of his warmest thanks to Rai Kali Narain Chowdry, Bahadoor, for his generous gift to the hospital.

3. I trust that I may be authorized to convey to Kali Narain His Honor's appreciation of the great liberality he has displayed, and that a notice of it may be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 23rd October 1875.

Division	No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
		Western Districts.
Burdwan Divn.	1	Burdwan, Oct. 25,* '75	·55	Rainfall at Culna 2·09, Cutwa 0·27, Bood-bood ·18, Jehanabad 1·19, Raneegunge 0·28 inches. The recent rain has done the crops much good, but more is wanted in the west of the district.
	2	Bankoora, „ 23, „	4·70	Heavy rain fell on the 16th and 17th instant, except in the north of the district, where the fall was slight. The weather threatening at the time of report. The crops are now practically safe, and the outturn will be unusually good, except in the north, where rain would still be beneficial. General health good
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 23, „	1·13	Showery weather. Every prospect of an abundant harvest.
	4	Midnapore, „ 23, „	1·35	The weather has been cloudy and close; more rain appears likely to fall. Rainfall at Contai 4·10, at Gurbetta 5·82, at Tumlook ·60. Prospects of the crops are very good. For the cold weather cultivation, the cessation of rain will now be best, as heavy rain will wash out what has already been sown.
	5	Hooghly, „ 23, „	·40	The weather has been cloudy, with only little rain. Rainfall at Mohanud 2·12, Chinsurah 1·29, Serampore 1·98, Hurripal 2·73, Dhoneakhally 1·90, Chunditolah 1·93, Ballagore 1·53, Bansberiah 1·71, Kristonagore 1·12, Pandooah 2·01 inches up to 20th October. High land rice is in a precarious state; much is worthless. Low land rice will do. Almost too late for rain to do much good. Fever is very prevalent, especially at Connagore, where it seems epidemic. About 500 persons are reported to have been attacked, and 25 died. Little cholera in Rishra.
		Howrah, „ 23, „	3·15	Favorable weather. The cold weather has set in. More rain would not be advantageous. State and prospects of the crops are exceedingly good. The late rain has come exactly àpropos.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Divn.	6	24-Pergunnahs, Oct. 25,† '75	·85	Variable weather. Prospects of the aman, or late rice crop, is reported to be excellent throughout the district, and the rainfall during the two preceding weeks has removed all cause for anxiety regarding its safety. Fever prevailing in subdivisions Barripore, Busseerhat, Baraset, and Satkhera. Seventeen deaths from cholera reported from Diamond Harbour.
	7	Nuddea, „ 23, „	·37	Weather cloudy and rather warm. Slight drizzling rain on four days. More rain would do good to the late rice crop, but as it is, the prospects of that as well as of all other crop on the ground, except chillies, are favorable.
	8	Jessore, „ 23, „	·38	Weather cloudy, with slight falls of rain. Prevailing wind northerly. Prospects of the late rice are everywhere excellent. Ploughing for and sowing of winter crops are going on favorably. Cholera has made its appearance in the Jhenidah sub-division. Elsewhere the general health is good.
	9	Moorshedabad „ 23, „	·88	Weather seasonable and cloudy at times. Rain has fallen, but not in sufficient quantity to do much good to the backward portion of the crop. The rain of the 23rd instant will, however, be very beneficial, if it has been general. Cold-weather sowings are progressing. Prices are nearly stationary. Fever somewhat prevalent, but decreasing
Rajshahye Divn.	10	Dinagepore, „ 22, „	Nil.	Weather cool. Slight rain on the 16th instant on the south and east; not perceptible in rain-gauge at head-quarters. Rain wanted. Some rice already withered on high lands. Price of rice is rising. Fever is very bad, worse than in other years. Occasional cases of cholera
	11	Maldah, „ 23, „	·02	In the first part of the week the weather was generally cloudy, with only slight rain in some places, and during the last part there has been no rain in the interior, and the heat has increased. The late autumn and the winter rice have suffered from continued dry weather, and rain is much wanted for these crops. The kalai pulse promises well. Twenty attacks and fifteen deaths from cholera were reported during the week.
	12	Rajshahye, „ 23, „	·15	There has been slight rain in most parts during the week, except the north and west of the district, where it is most required. Weather cloudy. The rain of the last week has done some benefit to the rice crop, but much more is required. The cold weather crops are being sown in all directions. Fifteen cases of cholera reported, five fatal.

* Telegram of the 25th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

† Report of the 25th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

The cultivation of mustard and tobacco is progressing well.
	14	Bogra, " 23, "	·04	One or two slight showers, otherwise weather fine and at times hot. The late rain has entirely saved the crops, and the slight showers now going on are doing much good A good crop all round is expected.
	15	Pubna, " 23, "	·28	Weather cloudy, with light showers of rain. Rainfall at Serajgunge ·60 inch. With a continuance of the present weather (of which there seems every prospect) the late rice will be an excellent crop. The health of the town of Pubna has greatly improved. Three deaths from cholera at Berah during the week.
COOCH BEHAR DIVN	16	Darjeeling, " 22, "	Nil.	Bright sunny days; weather getting colder daily. The crops on the whole are progressing favorably, especially on the hills. Rain is wanted in the plains. The late rice on the high lands is suffering for want of rain
	17	Julpigoree, " 23, "	Nil.	No rain has fallen in any part of the district since last report, so far as can be ascertained. Reports have been received from all parts, except the extreme east of the Dooars and Titalia on the west. All are to the effect that rain is wanted. The paddy is now in flower, and the prospects will therefore be soon ascertainable with some accuracy. At present it appears that only half the average yield throughout the district may be expected.
		Cooch Behar, " 21, "	Nil.	Fair weather. No rain. Prospects of the crops are very unfavorable.
		Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN.	18	Dacca, Oct 25,* '75	22	Weather cold and overcast on Friday and Saturday. Prospects of crops are generally good Rain would do good to the rice on the high ground.
	19	Fureedpore, " 23, "	·22	Weather cloudy, with drizzling rain since the evening of the 22nd instant. The state of the rice crops continues satisfactory and promising The cold weather crops are being sown. The general health of the district also continues good.
	20	Backergunge, " 21, "	1·0	The general crop prospect of the district is good, but want of rain is reported to have done some damage in the thanas of Barisal, Mendigunge, and Dowlutkhan The general health of the people is good, but cholera is reported to be prevalent in the sub-division of Dakhin Shabazpore.
	21	Mymensingh. " 22, "	1 41	The rainfall in other parts of the district has been inconsiderable, and in Attea sub-division there has been none The state and prospects of the crops are generally favorable. The rice last planted out is in want of more showers to bring it to maturity.
	22	Tipperah, " 22, "	Nil	Weather sultry and oppressive. Rain seems probable More rain is wanted in the centre and south of the district; rain has fallen in the north, and the crops have much benefited by it.
CHITTAGONG DIVN	23	Chittagong. " 21, "	·77	Fine and bright weather. There has been some partial showers, but general rain is wanted, more especially in the north of the district. Insects have appeared in several thanas.
	24	Noakholly, " 21, "	·65	Weather cloudy; slight rain at intervals; wind variable. The amun, or late rice crop, is progressing favorably. More rain is wanted
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts " 20, "	·88	Seasonable weather. Slight showers of rain on the 15th and 17th instant. The joom paddy and teel oil-seed crops are being harvested Cotton pods have been formed in some places. Lands are being cleared and ploughed for mustard.
		Hill Tipperah, " 20, "	·29	Preparation of land for the sowing of winter crops commenced. Late rice transplanting completed. Prospects are good both in the plains and hills.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVN	26	Patna, " 25,* "	Nil	Weather fine and clear. No chance of rain at present. Rice on the high land is dying off, and rain is much wanted for sowing the rubbee, or cold weather crops. Health of the district is generally good, but there have been a very large number of cases of cholera in some of the villages in the Dinapore sub-division.
	27	Gya, " 23, "	Nil	Weather cloudy and uncertain; slight showers fell at Sudder station on the 22nd instant, and rain was falling at the time of report but lightly Indications of rain over the whole district. Rain is much wanted Rubbee sowings commenced in some parts; much rice in the high lands withered and cut for fodder. But expectations over the district of 4, 6 and 8 to 10 annas crop
	28	Shahabad, " 23, "	Nil	Weather cloudy with easterly wind; slight showers in Buxar. The rice crop will probably give an outturn of— 12 annas in Bhubhooah. 8 " Sassoram. 6 " Buxar 4 " Head-quarters sub-division About 30,000 beeghas have been irrigated from the canal and the irrigation still continues, but the supply of water is at present quite inadequate to the demand

PATNA DIVN.—(Contd.)	29	Durbhunga, Oct. 23, '75	Nil.	East wind has been blowing for several days past, and clouds appear to be collecting, and it is hoped that rain may fall shortly. If no rain falls within the next week or so, it is to be feared that severe scarcity will prevail in some parts of the district, more especially in the northern portion. The rice crop on the higher lands has already failed, and being grazed down here and there, but elsewhere is still flourishing. The rubbee or cold weather crop will also be a failure if the dry weather continues, except in inundated lands.
	30	Mozufferpore, „ 23, „	Nil	Weather cloudy and dry. In Mozufferpore sub-division the prospects of the rice crop are bad; there is no moisture for the rubbee or cold weather sowings. Heavy rain is required throughout the district. The Sub-Divisional Officer at Seetamurhee reports that the prospects of rice crops are decidedly bad. There have been slight showers at Belsund, Shewhur, and Syudpore. Irrigation from bunds is being vigorously carried on wherever possible, and there the crops will be saved, but in and close by Seetamurhee they have withered already, and are being cut for fodder. There is no moisture for the cold weather sowings to germinate. In Hajeepore the rice crop has suffered much, and heavy rain is required for rubbee sowings. Only rice on low lands will be harvested; this even requires moisture. Rainfall has been slight towards Lallgunge and Bhatowha; the rainfall is ·11 inches.
	31	Sarun, „ 23, „	Nil.	Weather clear and fine; mornings and evenings are cold, west wind prevailing. Cloudy since Friday. Rainfall at Sewan 53. Sugarcane, cotton, "kodo" millet, and "ruhur" pulse are doing well, fields are being prepared for poppy and rubbee sowings. In low lands the prospects of the rice crop still continue favorable, and the crop is coming into ear, but in the high lands it is drying up for want of rain. Irrigation is being resorted to where practicable. Want of rain is now generally felt all over the district, and the people are apprehensive that much of the late rice will be lost if rain be withheld for a fortnight. Clouds hanging over the head promising rain. There was a fall of ·53 inches of rain in Sewan, but unfortunately it was confined to Sewan only. Still the general prospects of the district are not such as to cause apprehensions. Prices stationery. General health good.
	32	Chumparun, „ 22, „	Nil.	There were some slight showers in the south-east of the district on Saturday last, but these were partial and did little good. The weather was cloudy at the time of report, with some likelihood of rain falling. The rice crop, except in the very low-lying lands, and those which can be irrigated, is in a very precarious condition, and if rain does not fall shortly, at least one-half of it will be lost. Rain is also much wanted for the rubbee sowings.
BHAUGULPORE DIVN.	33	Monghyr, „ 23, „	Nil.	Weather set fair. No change in the weather since last week. The prospects of the rice in the tract around Bucktearpore in the extreme north of the district, are reported very bad. The Khurruckpore rice tract is generally well irrigated, and it is hoped that a fair crop may be secured. The Jumui sub-divisional officer reports that the rice on the high lands is suffering from drought, and a similar report has been received from Shikhpoora rice tract. Rain is anxiously looked for throughout the district. The stored water even on irrigated lands is not expected to suffice in order to bring the rice to perfection unless replenished by rain. Rubbee sowings are progressing, but the ryots are complaining of want of moisture in the soil.
	34	Bhagulpore, „ 25,* „	Nil.	Rainfall in Banka 29; showers here and there in the south of the district. A very cloudy week, but no rain in the north of the Ganges. Banka crops are generally good; but high land rice will suffer. Same at head-quarters. Medehpoorah there will on the average be an eight-anna crop, but higher lands will yield but little. Accounts from Soopool are very bad; could not well be worse. General health good. Cholera still prevalent here in the west of Soopool sub-division.
	35	Purneah, „ 23, „	Nil.	Weather hot and sultry; rain has fallen in some parts in the north of the district, and done good. The crops on the high land are everywhere withering for want of rain; it is anticipated that 12 annas of the transplanted rice has been lost. On low lands the crop is still flourishing, and will, if rain falls soon, be mostly saved. Cold weather sowings are as yet progressing favorably, but rain for them is much needed.
	36	Sonthal Perghs „ 24, „	1·09	During the early part of the week there was partial rain. Some places got enough for their wants, others much less, but everywhere the light fall, added to the cessation of dry winds, did good. On Friday and Saturday came heavy, and apparently general rain, which is all that can be desired. Now the prospects of crops in the Sudder sub-division are everywhere excellent, and it is hoped that the rain has reached other sub-divisions since their reports were received.

* Telegram of the 25th October, received on the same day, shows rainfall during the seven days immediately preceding.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ORISSA.
Orissa Division. 37	Cuttack, Oct. 16, '75	Nil.	No rain in any part of the district during the week. The early saradh rice is safe. Some anxiety is felt for the late saradh rice if no more rain falls. But this crop grows in low lands, where there is still moisture enough to bring it to maturity; so that the prospects are not on the whole bad. Cholera still occurs here and there.
38	Pooree, „ 21, „	1·74	Weather cloudy and rainy. There was heavy rain on the night of the 21st instant, and more rain is expected. The lughoo or first late rice is in ear, and in Khoordah it is ready for the sickle. Much good has been done by the rain which has fallen. The saradh or main late rice is being weeded It has been greatly benefited by the rain, which was beginning to be needed. The prospects of the crops are now very favorable. Miscellaneous crops are doing well.
39	Balasore, „ 22, „	·91	In the north of the Sudder station daily showers since the 16th September have removed all apprehensions. To the south there has been no rainfall of any value previous to the 21st instant. A shower fell on the 21st, which extended at least 25 miles south of the Sudder station. In the southern part of the district the crops had begun to suffer, but timely rain will still secure a good harvest.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Oct 22, '75	Nil.	Weather cloudy, but cool and pleasant. The prospects are very critical. Every thing depends upon a fall of rain at an early date; 4 annas of the crop is lost. In all probability 4 annas more will go. Owing to the want of rain rubbee sowings are all stopped; the little that has been sown is being burnt up. Unless there is a plentiful fall of rain in the next ten days there will be no winter crop whatever.
41	Lohardugga, „ 23, „	0 14	Weather cloudy and much warmer, with easterly winds Rain commenced on the 22nd, and light rain was falling at the time of report. The rice on the higher lands has already suffered from want of rain, particularly in Palamow. But if the rain falling is general, further damage will probably be averted and the harvest will be a fair one. General health good.
42	Singbhoom, „ 22, „	0 36	Weather seasonable. Rain has fallen, and the prospects of the amun paddy are again favorable. District is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 23, „	1 14	Weather rainy and very favorable. State and prospects of the crops are very favorable, about 9-10ths of an inch of rain having fallen on Saturday and Sunday last A light rain has also fallen, off and on during the week, except in one or two pergunnahs, in which some land could not be cultivated owing to want of rain in the beginning of the season. The ryots of this district will probably be better off this year than they have been for years past

NOTE ON THE RAINFALL IN SEPTEMBER 1875.

The rain which fell in September was below the average quantity, except at a few stations throughout Bengal, Behar, and Chutia Nagpore. In Orissa the September rainfall was unusually heavy up to about the 18th of the month.

In Chutia Nagpore, in Western Bengal (excepting the Hooghly and Howrah districts, where the rainfall has been scanty), and in the country lying round the Rajmehal Hills, comprised in the districts of Moorshedabad, Maldah, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the deficiency has been inconsiderable. In parts of the 24-Pergunnahs, in Nuddea, Jessore, and in the Eastern districts (excepting parts of Backergunge and Chittagong), it has been somewhat greater. But throughout the Northern districts of Bengal, comprised in the Rajshahye division, and throughout the greater portion of Behar, the September rainfall was excessively scanty.

The country over which the deficiency of rainfall has been greatest, not only in September but in the earlier months of the monsoon, June and July, lies north of the Ganges, extending from Chumparun on the west to Assam on the east. And, contrary to the usual law of distribution of rainfall in this district, the defect has been generally greater at places near the Himalayan range than at places further south. Thus at Cooch Behar only 5·19 inches of rain was registered in September last against an average of 16·77 inches for the month, at Bodah 0·64 (average 3·38); at Kishengunge 3·38 (average 12·15); at Arrareah 1·86 inches (average 13·81); at Soopool 3·27 inches (average 10·76); at Madhubani 3·21 (average 12·24); and at Seetamarhee 2·47 inches against an average of 10·61 inches. At the last mentioned place, and also at Dinagepore, the total rainfall registered up to the 30th of September was not less than 40 per cent. below the averages of past years.

In the subjoined table the rainfall in September 1875, and the total rainfall of the year from the 1st of January to the 30th September, are compared with the normal rainfall for the same periods. The mean of all returns received from each district is taken as the average rainfall of the district.

The mean barometer, as likewise the dry and wet bulb thermometer means, are derived from the twenty-four hourly observations made during the day.

The dew-point is computed with the Greenwich constants. The figures in column 10 represent the humidity of the air, the complete saturation of which being taken at unity. The receiver of the lower raingauge is 1½ feet, and that of the anemometer 70 feet 10 inches above the level of the ground. The velocity of wind, as indicated by Robinson's anemometer, is registered from noon to noon

Besides the detailed alterations which are set forth in the latter part of this Report, we have to call especial attention to the considerable alterations on the principle of the existing law and of the Bill as it was introduced into Council. One of these alterations concerns the classification of ships or rather of voyages, and the other the measurement of space for passengers.

The Acts of Council which now regulate the carriage of Native passengers are XXV of 1859, XII of 1870, and XII of 1872. The Act of 1859 is confined to the Bay of Bengal and to certain specified voyages within that Bay, but it extends to every species of vessel however small may be the number of passengers.

The Act of 1870 was framed to apply to voyages between India and ports either in the Red Sea or the Persian Gulf, but this part of that Act is confined to vessels which carry more than thirty Native passengers. This Act also contains a chapter relating to steam-vessels carrying any number of passengers on "coasting voyages" from or to any port or place within British India, and it subjects them to provisions less elaborate and less restrictive than those which apply to the voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. But it does not define the term "coasting voyage," which is a term by no means free from ambiguity.

The Act of 1872 effected a very important alteration in the Act of 1870 by making the rules laid down for voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf apply to all vessels whether sailers or steamers which carry more than thirty passengers, and which fall within the scope, of our legislation.

Thus it will be seen that before the Act of 1872, the law was in a very complicated and anomalous state. Very different rules were laid down for voyages bearing practically the same character: for instance, a voyage from Madras to Singapore would fall under one set of rules, and a voyage from Bombay to Bushire under another. There were no provisions applying to voyages from one British Indian port to another, except those for the specified voyages in the Bay of Bengal, and those which were laid down for "coasting steamers" whatever that expression might mean. The Act of 1872 very much simplified the law, but it did so by subjecting to one set of rules voyages of the most diverse character; so that, for instance, a voyage by steam from Bombay to Surat would be subjected to the same rules as one by sails from Madras to Jeddah. It was the hardship occasioned to first class steamers by this change of the law that led to the introduction of the Bill. And as we have been informed, the law being unsuitable to the circumstances was disregarded in many respects. The Bill as introduced kept to the existing classification of voyages and vessels, and sought to remove the existing hardships by giving larger powers to Local Governments to make exemptions and to adjust rules. It also put voyages in the Bay of Bengal and those to the westward on the same footing, and thus aimed at a material simplification of the arrangements made by the Acts of 1859 and 1870. But it was urged upon us that any system depending for its working upon exemptions by the executive had an element of great uncertainty and weakness in it; and that the Local Governments were not in a position to make rules, many of which, in order to work at all, must work in more than one province. At the same time, it was suggested that we might make a more simple and practical classification of voyages than was effected by the Acts of 1859 and 1870; and that by dividing them into voyages of greater or less length, and providing a more stringent set of rules for the former and a less stringent set for the latter, we might preserve an effectual control over the traffic while not enacting a law too rigid for practical working. We were also informed that the existing law was defective in requiring the passengers to be proportioned to the tonnage of the vessel, being a principle of measurement unsuitable to the build of the vessels in question, and that the principle of measurement by superficial and cubic feet of space would be more suitable.

For these suggestions we were indebted to Mr. Kittredge, a gentleman residing at Bombay and of much experience in the passenger-ship business. They appeared good to us, but we thought it would be imprudent to adopt them without first consulting local authorities. On that account we did not at once make any report to the Council, but we caused a provisional draft to be framed on the basis of Mr. Kittredge's two suggestions, and sent to the Maritime Governments for opinions. The result has been that we have received answers which show a general acceptance of the proposed alteration in the law, and which do not, in our opinion, show any valid objection to it.

We have therefore divided voyages into two classes: long voyages and short voyages: long voyages being those on which the ship will under ordinary circumstances be as much as five days out of port. We have required more stringent conditions of ships proceeding on long voyages. And we have abandoned measurement by tonnage, for measurement by space alone.

The Bill, as now framed, is divided into six Chapters: I. Preliminary; II. Rules for all voyages; III. Rules for short voyages; IV. Rules for long voyages; V. Penalties; VI. Miscellaneous.

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

In lieu of giving a definition of "Native passenger ship," we have made the Bill expressly apply to vessels carrying more than thirty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa; but we have excluded from the operation of the proposed Act sailing-vessels not carrying as passengers more than thirty such Natives, steamers not carrying as passengers more than sixty such Natives; and sailing-vessels and steamers not intended to carry passengers to or from any port in British India.

We have omitted the definition of "Local Government," and have defined "passenger" as meaning a person above the age of twelve years or two persons between the ages of one year and twelve years. We have also defined the expressions "voyage," "long voyage," "short voyage" and "Chief Officer of Customs."

CHAPTER II.—Rules for all voyages.

We have here provided that no ship shall discharge passengers at any port in British India other than a port appointed by Government. We think that notice of the time of sailing should be given not less than 24 hours before time, and we have provided that it may be given by the Owner or Agent as well as by the Master.

We think that no passenger ship should commence her voyage unless the Master has two certificates—one (designated as A) stating that the ship is seaworthy and properly equipped, &c., and the number of passengers that she is capable of carrying: the other (designated as B) stating the voyage that she is intended to make, that she has a proper crew, sufficient provisions, &c. Certificate A may be dispensed with, if the Master holds a certificate granted by the Board of Trade or by any British Colonial Government, or a certificate granted under the authority of a British Indian Government and not more than 6 months before the day of sailing. And we think that where the officer empowered to grant certificates under the proposed Act directs unreasonably a survey to be made of a vessel holding either of such certificates, the Local Government should pay the expense of the survey.

We have provided that the grant of certificates shall be in the discretion of the officer empowered to grant them.

CHAPTER III.—Rules as to short voyages.

We have here laid down rules as to the space to be provided for between-decks passengers and upper-deck passengers, (a) in seasons of fair weather, (b) in seasons of foul weather. And we have declared that in seasons of foul weather no ship shall carry upper-deck passengers unless she provides for them a deck-house or other permanent protection. This chapter also provides for obtaining supplementary certificate in case the vessel ships additional passengers at intermediate ports and for reporting deaths which occur on the voyage.

CHAPTER IV.—Rules for long voyages.

Here we have first given rules as to the space to be provided for passengers (a) in sailing-vessels, (b) in steamers. We then declare that the certificate shall not be granted when the cargo is likely to prejudice the health or safety of the passengers. We have also provided for reporting any deaths which occur on the voyage. The remainder of this chapter (as to the statement, as to the number and sexes of the original and additional passengers, as to the bond to be given when the ship clears for a port in the Red Sea, and as to touching at Aden and obtaining a clean bill of health) repeat with mere verbal changes the provisions of Act XII of 1870.

CHAPTER V.—Penalties.

Nothing in this chapter requires special mention except section thirty-eight, which is founded on section eleven of Act XXV of 1859, and imposes a penalty on the Master of any ship bringing passengers from any place in Ceylon or in the Straits or to the east thereof to British India, in excess of the proportion authorized by the proposed Act or allowed by the license granted in respect of the ship at her port of departure.

CHAPTER VI.—Miscellaneous.

We think that the power to make subsidiary rules should be exercised solely by the Governor-General in Council and not by the Local Governments with his previous sanctions We also think that the Governor-General in Council should have the power to declare what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of the proposed Act, a "long voyage," a "short voyage," "seasons of fair weather," and "seasons of foul weather."

Lastly, we have empowered the Governor-General in Council to direct, in the case of any ship or class of ships, and for all or any voyages, the space to be contained for the passengers, and we have declared that such direction shall override the general provisions of the Act relating to such ship or class of ships.

We think that the Bill has undergone such alterations that it should be republished; that the opinions of the Local Governments concerned should be invited; and that meanwhile the further consideration of the Bill should be postponed.

Nos. 782-792 —Simla, the 25th October 1875.

READ the following correspondence relative to the resumption of the Surveys of Indian seas and coasts :—

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 7 (Geographical), dated the 30th March 1871, forwarding, for the early consideration of the Government of India, a collection of papers describing the establishments formerly maintained for the survey of Indian seas and the excellent work done by them,—pointing out the disadvantages which had resulted from the total suppression in 1861 of those establishments, and urging the expediency of providing some sufficient substitute for them.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 17, dated the 11th July 1873, drawing attention to the despatch of 30th March 1871, No 7, and forwarding a copy of the observations made by Admiral Richards, Hydrographer to the Admiralty, pointing out the great importance of placing the Marine Surveys in India under the superintendence of one responsible head.

Despatch to the Secretary of State, No 26, dated the 30th June 1873, enquiring in reply to the despatch of 30th March 1871, No. 7, whether there was any prospect of practical effect being given to the arrangement understood to have been made in 1861 with the Admiralty, whereby all future maritime surveys in India were to be undertaken by the Royal Navy and at Imperial expense, and stating that if, notwithstanding that arrangement, the execution of such maritime surveys was in future to devolve on the Indian Government, that Government would take such action in the matter as financial considerations would admit, and suggesting that Commander A. D. Taylor, late Indian Navy, should be temporarily deputed to India to assist in determining what marine surveys were most pressingly required and how any such surveys could be most readily and economically executed.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No 27 (Geographical), dated the 30th October 1873, sanctioning the proposals of the Government of India and the deputation of Commander Taylor.

Despatch to the Secretary of State, No 17, dated the 1st May 1874, recommending the establishment of a Department for the systematic execution of Marine Surveys under the superintendentship of Commander A D Taylor, and submitting a detailed review by that officer of all Admiralty charts of British India and of all existing materials for charts both in India and in England, with a scheme for the correction and completion of these charts, the utilisation of all old materials, and the further prosecution of marine surveys.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 12 (Geographical), dated the 16th July 1874, sanctioning the proposals of the Government of India.

Despatch from the Secretary of State, No 18 (Geographical), dated the 15th April 1875, forwarding extract from a letter from the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, respecting the Royal Navy Officers lent to the Government of India, and notifying the appointment of Mr R. C. Carrington as Chief Civil Assistant to the Superintendent

A supplementary memorandum from the Superintendent of Marine Surveys dated the 7th April 1875 on the vessels and establishments required for the Marine Survey Department.

A memorandum dated the 11th May 1875 from the Superintendent of Marine Surveys stating the duties proposed to be undertaken by the Department.

OBSERVATIONS—Commander Taylor arrived in India on the 22nd December 1873, and prepared—

1st.—A careful and complete review of all existing charts or materials for charts (in India or in England) of the coast line from the Pakchan river at the Southern extremity of Tenasserim to Sonmiani Bay on the western limit of the Sindh coast as also of the islands in the Bay of Bengal, the Laccadives, and the Maldives.

2nd.—A scheme to supplement and perfect existing charts both by working up materials not yet utilised and by fresh surveys, arranging each project in the order of its importance, and fully detailing for each the method in and agency by which it was to be carried out, the time it would probably occupy, and its probable cost.

2. The whole subject having been fully considered, it was found that in many places the charts of the coasts were more or less defective, and that even where really good charts existed, they had become partially obsolete, owing to the absence of any authority whose duty it was to ascertain and record from time to time the changes effected by nature or by man.

3. The Government of India reported to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India the results of the consideration which had been given to the subject, and accepted the responsibility of completing and maintaining the charts of the whole coast line of British India from the Pakchan Estuary to Sonmiani Bay, of the Andamans and Nicobars, the Mergui Archipelago, and the Laccadives,—leaving all surveys beyond those limits that might be required to be undertaken by the vessels and surveyors of Her Majesty's Navy at the expense of the Imperial Government. It was pointed out that to perform the work satisfactorily a special agency was required—

1st.—To undertake accurate surveys of localities not yet sufficiently surveyed.

2nd.—To turn to good account the results of those surveys and of other existing surveys the materials of which had not yet been fully utilised.

3rd —To maintain the accuracy of Indian charts by recording and bringing to notice all changes, in the first instance, of buoys, lights, and the like, and secondly, of the natural configuration of the sea-board consequent on natural causes.

4. As to the special agency, the following proposals were made :—

That with the view of executing gradually all the more pressing marine surveys and re-surveys, a small survey flotilla should be organised, efficiently manned, and provided with competent surveyors at a total annual cost, inclusive of the salary of a Superintendent of Marine Surveys and of all other charges, not exceeding two lakhs of rupees.

That to supervise the work of this flotilla both in surveying at sea and during part of the year plotting ashore, to superintend the reproduction by photozincography of the surveyors' charts, to maintain a correct record of buoys, lights, and the like, and to transmit to the Hydrographic Office of the Admiralty the earliest information of changes in the position of these, and for the general control of all the work of the Survey, the appointment of a Superintendent of Marine Surveys should be created,—Commander Taylor being nominated for the office.

RESOLUTION.

5. The Secretary of State for India in Council having, in his despatch of the 16th July 1874, No. 12 (Geographical), sanctioned the formation of a Marine Survey Department in accordance with the proposals of the Government of India (subsequently modified by a continuation of that despatch bearing date the 15th April 1875, No. 18), the Governor General in Council has been pleased to direct the issue of the following instructions for the conduct of the duties to be undertaken by the Department.

(b).—The Superintendent will act in concert with the Surveyor-General of India, and arrange that the marine surveys shall be connected with the shore surveys,—being closed in on points already fixed by the Great Trigonometrical Survey.

(c).—A programme and estimate of the proposed yearly operations of the Department will be submitted to the Government of India for approval not later than the 1st July of each year. The approved programme will not be modified in any way without the previous sanction of the Government of India.

(d).—The original surveys of ports, harbours, and river entrances, when received in the office of the Superintendent, will, after approval by him, be photozincographed and issued as required for local navigation and engineering purposes

(e).—From these surveys, and others of the coast which will be executed on a smaller scale, charts of the coast will be compiled on a medium scale which will subserve the requirements of general navigation.

(f).—Copies of all original surveys will be forwarded by the Superintendent to the Hydrographer to the Admiralty for publication on such scales and in such manner as the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty may determine. All corrections of surveys and other information connected with them, such as notices of all changes in the places of buoys, lights, and other marks or beacons, will be transmitted at once to the Hydrographer by the Superintendent.

(g).—The Superintendent is authorised to communicate with the Hydrographer direct upon all technical questions relating to the survey, and in such matters should work in concert with him, in order to obtain the advantage of his advice and experience. Copies of all direct communications addressed to the Hydrographer under this authority should be simultaneously submitted by the Superintendent for the information of the Government of India.

10. The Superintendent will compile an annual chart of wrecks, and compile and issue sailing directions for the Indian coasts. He will also prepare an annual list of lights on those coasts, correctly describing them and their situation.

11. It will be his duty to communicate with the Government of India in regard to the lighting and marking of the sea approaches to all great Indian ports and rivers. He will also suggest improvements which he may think desirable in harbour conservancy by means of buoys, beacons, and lights.

12. He will also report, as occasion may arise, on improvements required in the navigation of rivers throughout India which may come to his notice, either in the prosecution of the surveys or through local authorities.

13. The Superintendent will be responsible for the prompt and punctual supply to Local Governments and Administrations of the latest corrected charts containing all hydrographical information.

14. The Superintendent of Marine under the Government of Bombay and the Master Attendant, Bengal, will furnish to the Marine Survey Department extracts from log-books of the vessels of the Bengal and Bombay Marine bearing upon any discoveries, dangers, or errors in the charts of the Indian seas.

Besides the detailed alterations which are set forth in the latter part of this Report, we have to call especial attention to the considerable alterations on the principle of the existing law and of the Bill as it was introduced into Council. One of these alterations concerns the classification of ships or rather of voyages, and the other the measurement of space for passengers

The Acts of Council which now regulate the carriage of Native passengers are XXV of 1859, XII of 1870, and XII of 1872. The Act of 1859 is confined to the Bay of Bengal and to certain specified voyages within that Bay, but it extends to every species of vessel however small may be the number of passengers.

The Act of 1870 was framed to apply to voyages between India and ports either in the Red Sea or the Persian Gulf, but this part of that Act is confined to vessels which carry more than thirty Native passengers. This Act also contains a chapter relating to steam-vessels carrying any number of passengers on ' coasting voyages" from or to any port or place within British India, and it subjects them to provisions less elaborate and less restrictive than those which apply to the voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf. But it does not define the term "coasting voyage," which is a term by no means free from ambiguity.

The Act of 1872 effected a very important alteration in the Act of 1870 by making the rules laid down for voyages to the Red Sea or Persian Gulf apply to all vessels whether sailers or steamers which carry more than thirty passengers, and which fall within the scope, of our legislation.

Thus it will be seen that before the Act of 1872, the law was in a very complicated and anomalous state. Very different rules were laid down for voyages bearing practically the same character: for instance, a voyage from Madras to Singapore would fall under one set of rules, and a voyage from Bombay to Bushire under another. There were no provisions applying to voyages from one British Indian port to another, except those for the specified voyages in the Bay of Bengal, and those which were laid down for "coasting steamers" whatever that expression might mean. The Act of 1872 very much simplified the law, but it did so by subjecting to one set of rules voyages of the most diverse character; so that, for instance, a voyage by steam from Bombay to Surat would be subjected to the same rules as one by sails from Madras to Jeddah. It was the hardship occasioned to first class steamers by this change of the law that led to the introduction of the Bill. And as we have been informed, the law being unsuitable to the circumstances was disregarded in many respects. The Bill as introduced kept to the existing classification of voyages and vessels, and sought to remove the existing hardships by giving larger powers to Local Governments to make exemptions and to adjust rules. It also put voyages in the Bay of Bengal and those to the westward on the same footing, and thus aimed at a material simplification of the arrangements made by the Acts of 1859 and 1870. But it was urged upon us that any system depending for its working upon exemptions by the executive had an element of great uncertainty and weakness in it; and that the Local Governments were not in a position to make rules, many of which, in order to work at all, must work in more than one province. At the same time, it was suggested that we might make a more simple and practical classification of voyages than was effected by the Acts of 1859 and 1870; and that by dividing them into voyages of greater or less length, and providing a more stringent set of rules for the former and a less stringent set for the latter, we might preserve an effectual control over the traffic while not enacting a law too rigid for practical working. We were also informed that the existing law was defective in requiring the passengers to be proportioned to the tonnage of the vessel, being a principle of measurement unsuitable to the build of the vessels in question, and that the principle of measurement by superficial and cubic feet of space would be more suitable.

For these suggestions we were indebted to Mr. Kittredge, a gentleman residing at Bombay and of much experience in the passenger-ship business. They appeared good to us, but we thought it would be imprudent to adopt them without first consulting local authorities. On that account we did not at once make any report to the Council, but we caused a provisional draft to be framed on the basis of Mr. Kittredge's two suggestions, and sent to the Maritime Governments for opinions. The result has been that we have received answers which show a general acceptance of the proposed alteration in the law, and which do not, in our opinion, show any valid objection to it.

We have therefore divided voyages into two classes: long voyages and short voyages: long voyages being those on which the ship will under ordinary circumstances be as much as five days out of port. We have required more stringent conditions of ships proceeding on long voyages. And we have abandoned measurement by tonnage, for measurement by space alone.

The Bill, as now framed, is divided into six Chapters: I. Preliminary; II. Rules for all voyages; III. Rules for short voyages; IV. Rules for long voyages; V. Penalties; VI. Miscellaneous.

CHAPTER I.—Preliminary.

In lieu of giving a definition of "Native passenger ship," we have made the Bill expressly apply to vessels carrying more than thirty passengers being Natives of Asia or Africa; but we have excluded from the operation of the proposed Act sailing-vessels not carrying as passengers more than thirty such Natives, steamers not carrying as passengers more than sixty such Natives; and sailing-vessels and steamers not intended to carry passengers to or from any port in British India.

We have omitted the definition of "Local Government," and have defined "passenger" as meaning a person above the age of twelve years or two persons between the ages of one year and twelve years. We have also defined the expressions "voyage," "long voyage," "short voyage" and "Chief Officer of Customs."

CHAPTER II.—Rules for all voyages.

We have here provided that no ship shall discharge passengers at any port in British India other than a port appointed by Government. We think that notice of the time of sailing should be given not less than 24 hours before time, and we have provided that it may be given by the Owner or Agent as well as by the Master.

We think that no passenger ship should commence her voyage unless the Master has two certificates—one (designated as A) stating that the ship is seaworthy and properly equipped, &c., and the number of passengers that she is capable of carrying: the other (designated as B) stating the voyage that she is intended to make, that she has a proper crew, sufficient provisions, &c. Certificate A may be dispensed with, if the Master holds a certificate granted by the Board of Trade or by any British Colonial Government, or a certificate granted under the authority of a British Indian Government and not more than 6 months before the day of sailing. And we think that where the officer empowered to grant certificates under the proposed Act directs unreasonably a survey to be made of a vessel holding either of such certificates, the Local Government should pay the expense of the survey.

We have provided that the grant of certificates shall be in the discretion of the officer empowered to grant them.

CHAPTER III.—Rules as to short voyages.

We have here laid down rules as to the space to be provided for between-decks passengers and upper-deck passengers, (a) in seasons of fair weather, (b) in seasons of foul weather. And we have declared that in seasons of foul weather no ship shall carry upper-deck passengers unless she provides for them a deck-house or other permanent protection. This chapter also provides for obtaining supplementary certificate in case the vessel ships additional passengers at intermediate ports and for reporting deaths which occur on the voyage.

CHAPTER IV.—Rules for long voyages.

Here we have first given rules as to the space to be provided for passengers (a) in sailing-vessels, (b) in steamers. We then declare that the certificate shall not be granted when the cargo is likely to prejudice the health or safety of the passengers. We have also provided for reporting any deaths which occur on the voyage. The remainder of this chapter (as to the statement, as to the number and sexes of the original and additional passengers, as to the bond to be given when the ship clears for a port in the Red Sea, and as to touching at Aden and obtaining a clean bill of health) repeat with mere verbal changes the provisions of Act XII of 1870.

CHAPTER V.—Penalties.

Nothing in this chapter requires special mention except section thirty-eight, which is founded on section eleven of Act XXV of 1859, and imposes a penalty on the Master of any ship bringing passengers from any place in Ceylon or in the Straits or to the east thereof to British India, in excess of the proportion authorized by the proposed Act or allowed by the license granted in respect of the ship at her port of departure.

CHAPTER VI.—Miscellaneous.

We think that the power to make subsidiary rules should be exercised solely by the Governor-General in Council and not by the Local Governments with his previous sanctions We also think that the Governor-General in Council should have the power to declare what shall be deemed to be, for the purposes of the proposed Act, a "long voyage," a "short voyage," "seasons of fair weather," and "seasons of foul weather."

Lastly, we have empowered the Governor-General in Council to direct, in the case of any ship or class of ships, and for all or any voyages, the space to be contained for the passengers, and we have declared that such direction shall override the general provisions of the Act relating to such ship or class of ships.

We think that the Bill has undergone such alterations that it should be republished; that the opinions of the Local Governments concerned should be invited; and that meanwhile the further consideration of the Bill should be postponed.

9. And whereas it is expedient to increase the space required by the said Act No. I of 1859, section 70, to be allowed for European seamen and apprentices and for lascars or Native seamen; It is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Such section shall be read as if for the expressions "nine superficial feet" "fifty-four cubic feet," and "four superficial feet," the expressions "ten superficial feet," "sixty cubic feet," and "six superficial feet," were respectively substituted, and as if in the third paragraph of the same section after the word "superficial" the words "and thirty-six cubic" were inserted.

Meaning of 'established par value.'

Meaning of expression 'established par value' in Act I of 1859, section 54.

10. And whereas doubts have been raised as to the meaning of the expression "established par value" in the said Act No. I of 1859, section 54, for the purpose of removing such doubts; It is hereby declared as follows:—

In the said section 54, the expression "established par value" means the rate of exchange for the time being fixed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to regulate transactions between himself and the Government of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to make a number of small but important changes in the law relating to Merchant Seamen, which cannot conveniently be postponed until that law is consolidated and amended.

The Bill first provides for determining disputes whether or not a seaman is "distressed" within the meaning of the sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, relating to distressed seamen, and imposes an Indian penalty on Masters of British ships who refuse to receive on board distressed seamen in accordance with those sections.

The Bill then provides against the discharge in India of European seamen without the previous sanction of an officer appointed by the Local Government, and removes a doubt which has been felt as to the corresponding provision (section 207) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, by expressly declaring that such officer has a discretion as to giving or withholding his sanction.

Power is given to the Local Government to prohibit the owner or master of a ship from engaging Natives of India as seamen. This power is intended to be exercised in case it is found that the master is wantonly discharging European seamen for the mere purpose of replacing them by Natives.

Provision is then made that where a European seaman deserts, the master or owner shall report the desertion to the Local Government.

Sections 7 and 8 extend the provisions of section 88 of Act I of 1859, and contain certain rules as to European seamen imprisoned for breaches of discipline or other petty offences on the complaint of the Master. The previous sanction of the Local Government is rendered necessary to the engagement of Natives of India. The Local Government is also empowered to tender an imprisoned seamen to the Master; and, if the master refuse to receive him, the Master may be required to deposit, not only the wages, &c., due to the seamen, but also such sum as may be sufficient to defray the cost of his passage home and of his lodging and subsistence till he starts.

The Bill then contains a clause slightly increasing the space required by Act I of 1859, section 70, for European and for Native seamen.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MARINE.—No. 3200.

The 15th November 1875.

READ—

A letter, No 6365, dated 5th October 1875, from the Officiating Master-Attendant, recommending the dismissal of Mr. Sparling, a Licensed Leadsman, from the Pilot Service, for being intoxicated while on duty on board the S. S. Sirius.

Read again—

Letter No. 27T., dated 15th October 1875, from this Government, calling for Mr. Sparling's written defence.

Letter No. 6675, dated 27th October 1875, from the Officiating Master-Attendant, submitting the required explanation from Mr. Sparling.

Read also—

Letter No. 6798, dated 2nd November 1875, from the Officiating Master-Attendant, submitting Mr. Sparling's resignation of his appointment as a Licensed Leadsman in the Bengal Pilot Service.

ON the 5th October 1875, the Officiating Master-Attendant reported that Mr. F. C. Sparling, a Licensed Leadsman, had been intoxicated while on duty on board the steam ship Sirius. As this was not Mr. Sparling's first offence of the kind, Captain Baker recommended that he should be dismissed. It appeared, however, that Mr. Sparling's defence had not been taken, and the Officiating Master-Attendant was accordingly requested to take his answer in writing to the charge brought against him.

2. Mr. Sparling in his explanation admits having been intoxicated, but says that it was after the ship had come to anchor for the night, and that he was fit for duty again the next morning. It seems, however, from the Pilot's report that Mr. Sparling was intoxicated on two consecutive evenings.

3. In a subsequent letter Mr. Sparling requests permission to resign his appointment as a Licensed Leadsman, as he wishes to take other service; but under the circumstances of the case, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept his resignation. His Honor accordingly directs that Licensed Leadsman Mr. F. C. Sparling be dismissed from his appointment.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1. The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertized for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Member in charge, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertized shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Member in charge may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be resold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Member in charge shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8. The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Member in charge shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue :— No. 1, certificate of the Opium advertized for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16. The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1874-75, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Beneras, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertized for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Member in charge entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18. It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1876, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 47,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertized for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

38 & 39 VICTORIA, CHAPTER 88.

An Act to make provision for giving further powers to the Board of Trade for stopping unseaworthy Ships.

[13TH AUGUST 1875.]

Be it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Appointment and powers of officers having authority to detain unseaworthy ships.

1. The Board of Trade may forthwith and from time to time by special order appoint a sufficient number of fit and proper persons, from their own staff or otherwise, to be officers having authority to detain unseaworthy ships, and may from time to time revoke any such appointment.

If any officer so appointed has reason to believe upon inspection or otherwise that any British ship is, by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipments, or machinery, or by reason of overloading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, he may order that the ship be detained for the purpose of being surveyed.

Any such order shall have the same effect as if it were an order of the Board of Trade under section twelve of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1873.

For the purpose of ascertaining whether a British ship is fit to proceed to sea, any officer so appointed may go on board the ship and inspect the same, or any part thereof, or any of the machinery, boats, equipments, or other articles on board thereof, not unnecessarily detaining or delaying her from proceeding on her voyage; and any person who wilfully impedes him in the execution of his duty shall be liable to the same penalties, and may be dealt with in the same manner, as if the officer were an inspector appointed by the Board of Trade under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854.

When any officer so appointed orders a ship to be detained, he shall forthwith report his proceedings to the Board of Trade.

An officer so appointed shall receive such remuneration for his services under this Act as the Treasury from time to time direct, and such remuneration shall be paid out of moneys to be provided by Parliament.

Ship to be detained on complaint of crew.

2. Whenever a complaint is made to the Board of Trade or to any officer so appointed by one-fourth of the seamen belonging to any British ship, that the ship is, by reason of the defective condition of her hull, equipments, or machinery, or by reason of overloading or improper loading, unfit to proceed to sea without serious danger to human life, it shall be the duty of the Board or officer, as the case may be, if the complaint is made within time sufficient for that purpose before the sailing of the ship, without requiring any security for the payment of costs and expenses, to take proper steps for ascertaining whether the ship ought to be detained for the purpose of being surveyed under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1873.

Cargo of grain, &c.

3. From and after the first day of October one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, no cargo of which more than one-third consists of any kind of grain, corn, rice, paddy, pulse, seeds, nuts, or nut kernels, shall be carried on board any British ship, unless such grain, corn, rice, paddy, pulse, seeds, nuts, or nut kernels be contained in bags, sacks, or barrels, or secured from shifting by boards, bulkheads, or otherwise This section shall not apply to any grain shipped previous to the first October one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

The master of any British ship who shall knowingly allow any cargo or part of a cargo to be shipped therein for carriage contrary to the provisions of this section shall for every such offence incur a penalty not exceeding two hundred pounds.

Penalties on sending unseaworthy ships to sea.

4. Section eleven of "The Merchant Shipping Act, 1871" shall be repealed, and in lieu thereof it shall be enacted :—

(2) Every person who attempts or is party to any attempt to send to sea any ship in such unseaworthy state that the life of any person would be likely to be thereby endangered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless he give such proof as aforesaid; and, for the purpose of giving such proof, such person may give evidence as aforesaid :

(3) Every master of a British ship who knowingly takes the same to sea in such unseaworthy state that the life of any person would be likely to be thereby endangered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless he prove that her going to sea in such unseaworthy state was, under the circumstances, reasonable and justifiable; and, for the purpose of giving such proof, such person may give evidence as aforesaid :

(4.) The owner of every British ship shall from time to time register at the custom house of the port in the United Kingdom at which such ship is registered the name of the managing owner of such ship, and if there be no managing owner, then of the person to whom the management of the ship is entrusted by and on behalf of the owner; and in case the owner fail or neglect to register the name of such managing owner or manager as aforesaid, he shall be liable, or if there be more owners than one, each owner shall be liable, in proportion to his interest in the ship, to a penalty not exceeding in the whole five hundred pounds each time that the said ship leaves any port in the United Kingdom, after the first day of November one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, without the name being duly registered as aforesaid :

The upper edge of each of these lines shall be level with the upper side of the deck plank next the waterway at the place of marking.

The lines shall be white or yellow on a dark ground, or black on a light ground.

(2.) The centre of this disc shall indicate the maximum load-line in salt water to which the owner intends to load the ship for that voyage:

(3) He shall also, upon so entering her, insert in the form of entry delivered to the Collector or other principal officer of Customs, a statement in writing of the distance in feet and inches between the centre of this disc and the upper edge of each of the lines indicating the position of the ship's decks which is above that centre:

(4.) If default is made in delivering this statement in the case of any ship, any officer of customs may refuse to enter the ship outwards:

Provided that nothing in this section shall make the owner of a ship liable for the death of or any injury to a master, seaman, or apprentice belonging to any ship when caused by the wrongful act, neglect, or default of a seaman or apprentice belonging to the same ship, in any case when he would not otherwise be so liable.

No. 2377.—The 12*th November* 1875.—Separate Revenue—Post Office.—Notice is hereby given that parcels posted in India for transmission to the United Kingdom by the Overland Parcel Post, must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which on examination of the declaration at Bombay may be found to exceed this value, will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations.

(NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.)

The following detailed rules respecting the exchange of parcels with the United Kingdom and the foreign countries mentioned are to be substituted for the regulations given at pages 53 to 55 of the Indian Postal Guide for 1875 :—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz.:—

COUNTRY.	Rate of charge per lb. or fraction thereof. Prepayment compulsory	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular countries.
	Annas
United Kingdom ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realized from the addressee. The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post; all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The British Post Office, however, has consented to exhibit in every Post Office of the United Kingdom a notice containing information on the subject of the Indian Parcel Post. Parcels must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which on examination of the declaration at Bombay may be found to exceed this value, will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the P. & O. S. N. Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations. (NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.)
Germany .	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Denmark ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden ... Norway ... Switzerland .	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
France . The Netherlands (Holland). Belgium ..	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should contain a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.

(2.) Every parcel should be securely packed in a closed cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended.

N. B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string: friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3.) Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

The United Kingdom ... Germany ... ... Denmark	Only one declaration as above described is required.
Sweden ... ... Norway ... ... Switzerland	A second or duplicate declaration is also required.

France .. ... The Netherlands (Holland) Belgium	A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lb. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office will attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels :—

(5.) The parcel so made up must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb. (40 tolas) or fraction of a lb., care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover.

(6.) The parcel so made up must not exceed 50lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth It will be received at any Post Office at the hour fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7.) On arrival at Bombay the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8.) It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous, damaging, or offensive kind.

(9.) In the case of parcels for or from Germany and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1¼ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

Disputes as to apportionment.

23. When the amount of compensation has been settled under section fifteen, if any dispute arises as to the apportionment of the same or any part thereof, the Collector shall refer such dispute to the decision of the Court.

All costs entailed by such a reference and the proceedings of the Court thereon shall be paid by the parties who dispute the apportionment of the award, as the Court may think fit, and the Collector shall not be required to disburse any such costs nor shall any such costs be recovered from the Collector.

Determination of proportions.

24. When the amount of compensation has been settled by the Court, and there is any dispute as to the apportionment thereof, or when a reference to the Court has been made under the last preceding section, the Judge sitting alone shall decide the proportions in which the persons interested are entitled to share in such amount.

Appeal.

An appeal shall lie from every such decision to the District Judge, unless the Judge who gave the decision be the District Judge, whose decision, whether passed on appeal or otherwise, shall be final and conclusive.

Every appeal under this section shall be presented within the time and in manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure for regular appeals in suits.

28. Every tenant holding under an unexpired lease, or having a right of occupancy, who is in occupation of any land at the time when any stoppage or diminution of the supply, in respect of which compensation is allowed under section eleven, takes place, may claim an abatement of the rent previously payable by him for the said land, on the ground that the interruption reduces the value of the holding; provided that no part of the said compensation shall have been received by the said tenant in respect of such reduction in the value of his holding.

Enhancement of rent on restoration of water-supply.

29. If a water-supply increasing the value of such holding is afterwards restored to the said land otherwise than at the cost of the tenant, the rent of the tenant may be enhanced, in respect of the increased value of such land due to the restored water-supply, to an amount not exceeding that at which it stood immediately before the abatement.

Such enhancement shall be on account only of the restored water-supply, and shall not affect the liability of the tenant to enhancement of rent on any other grounds.

Compensation when due.

30. All sums of money payable for compensation under this Part shall become due three months after the claim for such compensation is made in respect of the stoppage, diminution, or damage complained of, and simple interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be allowed on any such sum remaining unpaid after the said three months, except where the non-payment of such sum is caused by the wilful neglect or refusal of the claimant to receive the same.

Interest.

Collector may invest amount deposited or awarded in Government security.

Provided that the Collector may at any time invest the whole or any portion of the amount payable as compensation under this Act in any Government securities, and such securities shall be held by the Collector for the benefit of the persons interested, and the persons interested shall be bound to receive such securities with any interest which may have accrued upon them as full payment of the sum which the Collector paid for such securities, with interest thereon.

Compensation not claimable in respect of works executed before Act came into force.

31. No compensation shall be claimable under this Act in respect of any works executed before it came into force, or of any damage, injury, or loss caused by such works.

Whenever it may be practicable, the service of the notice shall be made on the person therein named.

When such person cannot be found, the service may be made on any adult male member of his family residing with him; and if no such adult male member can be found, the notice may be served by fixing the copy on the outer door of the house in which the person therein named ordinarily dwells or carries on business; and if such person has no ordinary place of residence within the district, service of any notice may be made by sending copy of such notice by post, in a registered cover addressed to such person at his usual place of residence.

PART III.

OF THE MAINTENANCE OF CANALS.

Entry for inquiry.

33. Whenever it shall be necessary to make any enquiry or examination in connection with a projected canal or with the maintenance of an existing canal, or with a projected flood-embankment or with the maintenance of an existing flood-embankment, any Canal Officer or other person acting under the general or special orders of a Canal Officer, may enter upon such lands as he may think necessary for the purpose, and may exercise all powers and do all things in respect of such lands as he might exercise and do if the Government had issued a notification under the provisions of section four of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, to the effect that land in that locality is likely to be needed for a public purpose; and may set up and maintain water-gauges, and do all other things necessary for the prosecution of such enquiry and examination.

Power to inspect and regulate water-supply.

34. Such Canal Officer or other person may also enter upon any land, building, or village-channel on account of which any water-rate is chargeable, for the purpose of inspecting or regulating the use of the water supplied, or of measuring the lands irrigated thereby or chargeable with a water-rate, and of doing all things necessary for the proper regulation and management of the canal from which such water is supplied.

Power to enter for repairs, and to prevent accidents.

35. In case of any accident being apprehended or happening to a canal or flood-embankment, any Canal Officer or any person acting under his general or special orders in this behalf, may enter upon any lands adjacent to such canal or flood-embankment, and may execute all works which may be necessary for the purpose of preventing such accident, or repairing any damage done.

Notice to occupier of building, &c.

36. When such Canal Officer or person proposes, under the provisions of either of the three sections last preceding, to enter into any building or enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house not supplied with water flowing from any canal, and not being adjacent to a flood-embankment, he shall previously give to the occupier of such building, court, or garden such reasonable notice as the urgency of the case may allow.

Compensation for damage to land.

37. In every case of entry upon any land or building under section seven, section thirty-three, section thirty-four, or section thirty-five, the Canal Officer or person making the entry shall ascertain and record the nature of any crop, tree, building, or other property, to which damage has been done, and the extent of the damage done to any such property, and shall tender compensation to the proprietors or occupiers for all damage done to the same by the entry or by any works executed. If such tender is not accepted, the Canal Officer shall refer the matter to the Collector, who shall thereupon give notice in writing to the persons interested in such land and to the Canal Officer, requiring them to attend before him, on a date to be fixed in the notice for the purpose of making enquiry as to the amount of compensation.

Appeal from Collector's decision to Commissioner's

38. After such enquiry as he may think necessary, the Collector shall decide the amount of compensation payable; and such decision shall be subject to an appeal to the Commissioner of the Division, whose decision shall be final and conclusive.

Government to provide means of crossing canals and of drainage

39. Suitable means of crossing canals constructed or maintained at the cost of Government shall be provided at such places as the Lieutenant-Governor thinks necessary for the reasonable convenience of the inhabitants of the adjacent lands; and suitable bridges, culverts, or other works shall be constructed to prevent the drainage of the adjacent lands being obstructed by any canal.

Collector to certify to the Government that means of crossing canals and drainage have been provided.

40. On the completion of any canal, or of any convenient section of any canal, the Collector, after causing such inspection to be made as may be necessary, shall certify to the Government that suitable and sufficient means of crossing the canal, and suitable and sufficient means of drainage, as aforesaid, have been provided; or shall report in what respects the provision made for the above purposes is defective; and if at any time after he shall have given such certificate it shall be brought to his notice that the provision made as above has proved insufficient, the Collector shall cause inquiry to be made into the circumstances of the case, and if the statement is established, shall report his opinion thereon for the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor, and the Lieutenant-Governor shall cause such measures in reference thereto to be taken as he thinks proper.

PART IV.

OF DRAINAGE.

Lieutenant Governor may prohibit formation of obstructions within certain limits

40. Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that injury to the public health or public convenience, or to any canal or to any land for which irrigation from a canal is available, has arisen or may arise from the obstruction of any river, stream, or natural drainage-course, the Lieutenant-Governor may, by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette, prohibit, within limits to be defined in such notification, the formation of any such obstruction, or may, within such limits, order the removal or other modification of such obstruction.

Thereupon so much of the said river, stream, or natural drainage-channel as is comprised within such limits shall be held to be a drainage-work as defined in section three.

Canal Officer may issue notice to person causing obstructions.

41. The Canal Officer or other person authorized by the Lieutenant-Governor in that behalf, may, after such publication, issue an order to the person causing or having control over any such obstruction, to remove or modify the same within a time to be fixed in the order.

Canal Officer may cause obstructions to be removed.

42. If, within the time so fixed, such person does not comply with the order, the Canal Officer may cause the obstruction to be removed or modified, and if the person to whom the order was issued does not, when called upon, pay the expenses of such removal or modification, such expenses shall be recoverable as a demand under the provisions of section one, Bengal Act VII, 1868 (or Act to make further provision for the recovery of arrears of land revenue and public demands recoverable as arrears of revenue).

When drainage works are necessary Lieutenant-Governor may order a scheme to be drawn up and carried out.

43. Whenever it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that any drainage works are necessary for the public health, or for the improvement or proper cultivation or irrigation of any lands in districts to which the provisions of the Bengal Embankment Act 1873 do not apply, or that protection from floods or other accumulations of water, or from erosion by a river, is required for any lands,

The Lieutenant-Governor may cause a scheme for such works to be drawn up and carried into execution, and the persons authorized by the Lieutenant-Governor to draw up and execute such scheme may exercise in connection therewith all or any of the powers conferred on Canal Officers by sections thirty-three, thirty-four, and thirty-five, and shall be liable to any or all of the obligations imposed upon Canal Officers by sections thirty-six and thirty-seven.

Disposal of claims to compensation.

44. Whenever, in pursuance of a notification made under section forty, any obstruction is removed or modified; or whenever any drainage-work is carried out under the last preceding section, all claims for compensation on account of any loss consequent on the removal or modification of the said obstruction or the construction of such work, may be made before the Collector, and he shall deal with the same in the manner provided in Part II; but no compensation shall be allowed for any damage arising from increase of percolation.

Limitation of such claims

45 No such claim shall be entertained after the expiration of six months from the occurrence of the loss complained of, unless the Collector is satisfied that the claimant had sufficient cause for not making the claim within such period.

PART V.

OF VILLAGE-CHANNELS.

Definition of person

46. "Person" in this part includes any number of persons acting jointly.

Register of village-channels to be kept

47. The Canal Officer shall keep a register of all village-channels, whether already existing or constructed under this Act, and shall note thereon in respect of every village-channel whether it is a public channel maintained at the cost of the Government, or a private channel maintained at the cost of the owners; and shall register the names of the owners of every such private channel.

Extension or branch of village-channel to be registered.

A village-channel made as an extension of, or a branch to, an existing village-channel shall be registered as a separate village-channel; and so much of the length of any village-channel as lies within the limits of any one village or mouzah shall be entered on the register as a separate village-channel. Every section of a village-channel so separately entered on the register shall be deemed to be a separate village channel in respect to all rights and liabilities imposed by this Act.

Canal Officer may register as one village-channel a section including portions lying within two or more villages.

Provided always that whenever it shall seem fit to the Canal Officer for any special reason to enter upon his register as one village-channel a section of a village-channel which includes portions lying within two or more villages or mouzahs, the Canal Officer may, with the consent of the Collector obtained in writing, register such section as one village-channel, and such section shall be deemed to be one village-channel in respect to all rights and liabilities imposed by this Act.

Any person may acquire an existing village-channel by agreement.

48. Any person may, with the consent of the Canal Officer, acquire the property in an existing village-channel for the purpose of improving or maintaining it—

(a) by taking over any village-channel belonging to Government;

(b) by transfer of a village-channel from the owner thereof by private agreement.

Provided that the Canal Officer, before giving his consent to any village-channel being taken over by or transferred to any person under this section, shall satisfy himself that such person has an interest in some of the lands which will derive their supply of water from such village-channel, and that such interest extends over a period not less than that for which the village-channel is to be taken over or transferred.

Any person may construct a new village-channel with consent of owners or occupiers.

49. Subject to the proviso in the last preceding section, any person may, with the permission of a Canal Officer, construct a new village-channel if he has obtained the consent of the owners or occupiers of the land required therefor.

Any person may construct village-channel by applying to Canal Officer.

50. Subject to the proviso aforesaid, any person desiring the construction of a new village-channel, but being unable or unwilling to construct it under a private arrangement with the owners or occupiers of the land affected, as mentioned in the last preceding section, may apply in writing to the Canal Officer stating that he desires the said Canal Officer, in his behalf and at his cost, to do all things necessary for constructing such channel; that he is ready to defray all costs necessary for acquiring the land and constructing the channel.

Procedure when Canal Officer considers construction of village-channel expedient.

51. If the Canal Officer considers the construction of such village-channel expedient, he may call upon the applicant to deposit any part of the expense such Officer may consider necessary, and upon such deposit being made, shall cause inquiry to be made into the most suitable alignment for the said village-channel, and shall mark out the land which, in his opinion, it will be necessary to occupy for the construction thereof, and shall forthwith publish a notification in every village through which the village-channel is proposed to be taken, that so much of such land as is situated within such village has been so marked out, and shall send a copy of such notification to the Collector of every district in which any part of such land is known to be situate for publication on such land.

Person wishing to be joint owner must make his application within thirty days.

Such notification shall also call upon any person who wishes to be admitted a joint owner of such village-channel to make his application in that respect within thirty days of the publication of such notification. If any such applicant appears, and his application is admitted, he shall be liable to pay his share in the construction of the village-channel and in the cost of acquiring the land, and shall be an owner of the village-channel when constructed.

Collector to acquire land.

52. On receipt of copy of such notification, the Collector shall proceed to acquire the land required under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, as if a declaration had been issued by the Government for the acquisition of the land under the provisions of section six of that Act, and as if the Government had thereupon directed the Collector to take order for the acquisition of the land under section seven of the said Act, and (if necessary) as if the Government had issued orders for summary possession being taken under section seventeen of the said Act.

Procedure after construction of village-channel.

53. On being put in possession of the land the Canal Officer shall construct the required village-channel; and on its completion shall give to the applicant notice thereof and of any balance payable by him on account of the cost of acquiring the land and construction of the work. On such notice being given, such balance shall be due from the applicant to the Canal Officer. On receipt of payment in full of all expenses incurred, the Canal Officer shall make over possession of such channel to such applicant.

Canal Officer may direct transfer of a village-channel.

54. Whenever a Canal Officer considers that the transfer of a village-channel from the owner is necessary for the proper management of the irrigation from such village-channel, he may cause a notice to be served on the registered owner to appear on a certain day, not less than fifteen days after service of notice, and to prefer any objection to such transfer After hearing such objection the Canal Officer may order that such village-channel shall be transferred to such person as he may think fit, and that such person be registered as owner of the said village-channel;

Provided that no person shall be registered as the owner of a village-channel under this section, unless he has expressed in writing his willingness to be so registered, and until he has paid to the Canal Officer such sum as may be fixed by the Canal Officer under section fifty-three.

A person may be admitted joint owner of an existing village-channel

55 Any person wishing to become the joint owner of an existing village-channel may petition the Canal Officer to that effect, and on receipt of such petition the Canal Officer may, if he think fit, issue a notice as in the last section provided, upon the registered owner, and after hearing any objection which the registered owner may prefer against the admission of such applicant to be a joint owner, may direct that the applicant shall be registered as such joint owner.

Canal Officer shall determine compensation to be paid for transfer or acquisition of joint ownership.

56. When deciding the question of transfer or of admission to joint ownership under either of the two last preceding sections, the Canal Officer shall also determine what amount shall be paid—as the costs of the proceedings;

as compensation to the previous owners; and the amount so determined shall be due by the transferee or the person admitted to registry as a joint owner, as the case may be; and on payment of such amount, the village-channel shall be transferred or the applicant shall be registered as owner or as a joint owner thereof, as the case may be.

Canal Officer may fix rent for a village-channel transferred.

57. Instead of awarding payment of compensation under the last preceding section, the Canal Officer may fix an amount of rent to be paid annually to the previous owners by the persons to whom the village-channel is transferred.

59. Every owner of a village-channel shall be bound—

(a) to construct and maintain all works necessary for the passage across such village-channel of canals, village-channels, drainage-channels, and public roads existing previous to its construction, and of the drainage intercepted by it, and for affording proper communications across it for the convenience of the occupants of neighbouring lands;

(e) to receive such rent for the use of the village-channel by other persons as the Canal Officer may award him.

If owner of village-channel fails to execute works or make repairs, Canal Officer may execute them on behalf.

60. If the owner of a village-channel fails to fulfil the obligations mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of the last preceding section, the Canal Officer may require him by notice to execute the necessary works or repairs within a period not being less than fifteen days, and in the event of failure, execute them on his behalf; and all expenses incurred by the execution of such works or repairs shall be a sum due by such owner to the Government; and if any such owner who has already failed on one occasion to execute such works or repairs when required to do so, and has left them to be executed in his behalf by the Canal Officer, shall again fail to execute any such works or repairs when required to do so; or if any such owner shall refuse in any respect to fulfil the obligation mentioned in clause (c) of the last preceding section, after having been required to do so by a notice in writing from the Canal Officer, the Canal Officer may strike such village channel off the register, and so disqualify it to be any longer a medium for the conveyance of canal water.

Resignation of ownership.

61. Any owner may resign his interest in a village-channel, provided such resignation be duly registered in the office of the Canal Officer.

Owner may transfer interest.

62. Any owner of a village-channel may, with the consent of the Canal Officer, transfer his interest to any other person, provided that the liabilities of the person so transferring shall not cease till such transfer is registered in the office of the Canal Officer.

Procedure on death of owner of village-channel.

63. If any owner of a village-channel dies, his heir or representative shall apply for registration in his stead. If no such application for registry be made within six weeks, the remaining registered owners of the village-channel, if any, shall be deemed to be owners of the entire interest in the village-channel, until some other person shall have established his claim to be registered as owner in place of the deceased. If the deceased shall have been the sole registered owner, the Canal Officer shall be deemed to be the representative of the deceased, and shall exercise all rights and be bound by all liabilities which attached to the deceased in respect of his ownership of the village-channel until some person shall have established his right to be registered as owner in place of the deceased; and the Canal Officer shall account to such person for all sums received and expended in the exercise of the rights and discharge of the liabilities which attached to the deceased.

Procedure when any person applies for registration in lieu of deceased owner.

64. When any person applies for registration under the three last preceding sections, the Canal Officer shall serve notice on the other registered owners to prefer any objection to the resignation, transfer, or succession within fifteen days, and if no such objection shall be made, or if the objections made be deemed invalid, shall order such resignation, transfer, or succession to be registered.

Interest of owners equal, unless unequal interests registered.

65. All joint owners of a village-channel shall be held to have an equal interest in it, unless, with the permission of the Canal Officer, they register specific unequal interests.

66. Any person not an owner of a village-channel, desiring to have a supply of water through such village channel, may make a private arrangement with the owners for the conveyance of water, or may apply to the Canal Officer for authority to use such village-channel.

Person other than owner may have supply of water through village-channel under certain conditions.

67. On receipt of an application, as mentioned in the last preceding section, the Canal Officer shall serve notice on the owners to show cause why such permission should not be granted, and if no objection be raised, or if raised, be found invalid, shall authorize the conveyance of such supply on such conditions as may appear equitable.

Canal Officer may authorize supply.

68. The Canal Officer shall also fix a sum as rent to be paid for the use of such village-channel to the owner. Such rent may be in the form of a percentage on the water-rate of the person using the village-channel, or otherwise, as may be fixed by the Canal Officer.

Canal Officer to fix a sum as rent of village channel.

69. The owner of a village-channel which receives its water through another village-channel may, at the discretion of the Canal Officer, either be declared a joint owner of such other village-channel, or may be required to pay rent for the use of the same to the owner thereof, as provided in the two last preceding sections.

70. All rent payable under either of the two last preceding sections shall be deemed to be due in the same instalments and at the same periods as the water-rate is due, or in such other instalments and at such other dates as the Canal Officer may direct, and may be collected by the Canal Officer on behalf of the person entitled to it, if the said Officer thinks fit.

Amendment of Act I of 1859, sec. 70.

9. And whereas it is expedient to increase the space required by the said Act No. I of 1859, section 70, to be allowed for European seamen and apprentices and for lascars or Native seamen; It is hereby further enacted as follows:—

Such section shall be read as if for the expressions "nine superficial feet" "fifty-four cubic feet," and "four superficial feet," the expressions "ten superficial feet," "sixty cubic feet," and "six superficial feet," were respectively substituted, and as if in the third paragraph of the same section after the word "superficial" the words "and thirty-six cubic" were inserted.

Meaning of 'established par value.'

Meaning of expression 'established par value' in Act I of 1859, section 54.

10. And whereas doubts have been raised as to the meaning of the expression "established par value" in the said Act No. I of 1859, section 54, for the purpose of removing such doubts; It is hereby declared as follows:—

In the said section 54, the expression "established par value" means the rate of exchange for the time being fixed by the Secretary of State for India in Council to regulate transactions between himself and the Government of India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to make a number of small but important changes in the law relating to Merchant Seamen, which cannot conveniently be postponed until that law is consolidated and amended.

The Bill first provides for determining disputes whether or not a seaman is "distressed" within the meaning of the sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, relating to distressed seamen, and imposes an Indian penalty on Masters of British ships who refuse to receive on board distressed seamen in accordance with those sections.

The Bill then provides against the discharge in India of European seamen without the previous sanction of an officer appointed by the Local Government, and removes a doubt which has been felt as to the corresponding provision (section 207) of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, by expressly declaring that such officer has a discretion as to giving or withholding his sanction.

Power is given to the Local Government to prohibit the owner or master of a ship from engaging Natives of India as seamen. This power is intended to be exercised in case it is found that the master is wantonly discharging European seamen for the mere purpose of replacing them by Natives.

Provision is then made that where a European seaman deserts, the master or owner shall report the desertion to the Local Government.

Sections 7 and 8 extend the provisions of section 88 of Act I of 1859, and contain certain rules as to European seamen imprisoned for breaches of discipline or other petty offences on the complaint of the Master. The previous sanction of the Local Government is rendered necessary to the engagement of Natives of India. The Local Government is also empowered to tender an imprisoned seamen to the Master; and, if the master refuse to receive him, the Master may be required to deposit, not only the wages, &c, due to the seamen, but also such sum as may be sufficient to defray the cost of his passage home and of his lodging and subsistence till he starts.

The Bill then contains a clause slightly increasing the space required by Act I of 1859, section 70, for European and for Native seamen.

Lastly, a clause has been added to remove a doubt which has been raised as to the meaning, in section 54 of that Act, of the expression "established par value."

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF POLICE, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1874.

POLICE.

Calcutta, the 18th October 1875.

READ—

Letter No. 8752, dated 24th September 1875, from the Inspector-General of Police, with the accompanying copy of his report on the Police of the Lower Provinces for the year 1874.

Read again—

The report for the previous year, with the Government Resolution thereon.

The acknowledgments of Government are due to the Officiating Inspector-General of Police for the greater punctuality with which his report on the working of the police during the past year has been submitted, as well as for the attention he has paid to the instructions recently issued with the view of ensuring condensation in its preparation. Having assumed office after the close of the year under review, Mr. Hankey has not had the advantage of writing from personal experience and observation of the current of events as they transpired; but he deserves credit for the extent to which he has, during the past months of the current year, made himself acquainted with the working of his department, and identified himself with its administration.

2. In appointing a selected Civil Servant to the post of Inspector-General of Police, it was the object of the Lieutenant-Governor to secure for the department the advantages which were to be expected from the superintendence of an officer of varied experience, who for many years had filled the posts of District Officer and Commissioner. The Lieutenant-Governor has every confidence, from the manner in which Mr. Hankey has entered upon the administration of his department, that nothing will be wanting on his part to initiate such improvements as may be called for from time to time in the police administration of the province.

3. During the late scarcity, the effects of which were severely felt in the earlier months of the past year, a heavy strain was placed on the Police Department, and Sir Richard Temple acknowledges with pleasure the admirable manner in which officers and men alike responded to the calls which were made upon their energies. In the guarding of treasure, in the escort of grain, in the preservation of order among great bodies of people massed together for the purposes of relief work, much good service of an unobtrusive character was faithfully rendered, and that too without necessitating any very large addition to the police force.

4. Excluding Assam, the total sanctioned number of inferior officers and men was 19,203; while inclusive of Assam, the number of superior officers was 85, or 10 less than in previous year. The distribution of the rank and file of the force according to the nature of its employment was as follows:—

General police duties	15 294
Jail guards	1,656
Magazine guards	210
Treasury, salt, and opium guards	1,430
Frontier guards	613

The decrease observable under each of these heads, when compared with the figures of the previous year, is attributable chiefly to the separation of the districts of Assam from the Bengal Administration; but the Inspector-General explains that, irrespective of this, there has been an actual decrease of 223 inferior officers and men, due chiefly to the substitution of warders for jail guards, which is still being carried out. The municipal police, exclusive of Calcutta and the Suburbs, including all grades, numbered 6,480 men, or 17 less than in 1873.

5. The total expenditure on account of the regular police force during the past year was Rs. 37,55,660, as against Rs. 43,69,296 during the previous year, resulting in a saving of upwards of three lakhs on the sanctioned estimate. Financially this result is satisfactory, as shewing (what the Lieutenant-Governor knows indeed to be the fact) that there has been considerable economy exercised in the administration of the department. The cost of the municipal police, exclusive of Calcutta and the Suburbs, was Rs. 5,22,942. In the constitution of the latter force, no change calling for remark was effected during the past year; the slight alterations in the force sanctioned for several towns resulted on the whole in a small saving, amounting to Rs. 2,455, as compared with the expenditure of the previous year.

6. The rural police are said to have continued in the same unsatisfactory condition as heretofore in respect to irregularity in the payment of the dues and allowances to the men, and consequent injury to their efficiency. Since the close of the year, however, steps have been taken to extend to a large number of districts the provisions of Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, by means of which the Lieutenant-Governor is confident that the evils complained of, resulting chiefly from the non-payment of the chowkeedars for their services, can with a vigorous administration be removed. As so much depends on the chowkeedars in the matter of reporting and detecting crime, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that a greater number of rewards have been given to these men during the past year than has hitherto been the case. Practically the point is this: if these men are maintained in a respectable status, they afford such a degree of aid in the repression of crime as cannot otherwise be obtained; if they are not, they are apt themselves to become the leaders in crime, for the commission of which they have peculiar facilities.

7. In consequence of the increase of the grain traffic, the strength of the railway police was temporarily increased during the year. In several districts also extra patrol guards were employed on the chief routes leading through the distressed districts. The result of these measures was satisfactory.

8. The question of maintaining road patrols on the chief lines of communication in ordinary times is one involved in some difficulty. The expensive establishments maintained on the Grand Trunk Road are said to have answered their purpose. The great bulk of the traffic has now, however, been diverted by the railway, and the same incentives to crime do not exist as formerly. It is in the wilder parts of Hazareebagh, Lohardugga, and in the jungly districts of Western Bengal, that protection for travellers is now chiefly required. In these parts the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that practical measures have been adopted during the year for road patrol by the establishment of posts at convenient distances along the lines of traffic, at which local watchmen, digwars or ghatwals, have been stationed. Even this measure may not, however, be an unmixed good if a sufficient subsistence is not assured to these men, who may, as experience shows, when pressed with want, join the depredators whose movements they are set to watch.

9. It is satisfactory to notice that the number of officers and men of the force dismissed or otherwise punished during the year was somewhat less than in the previous one. The discipline of the force, however, in several districts, among which Jessore, Howrah, and Moorshedabad are most conspicuous, was far from satisfactory, if an inference is to be drawn from the large number of men whom it was found necessary to dismiss. The continued infrequency of complaints of torture and oppression is a matter for congratulation, as well as the fact that in the cases where charges were made on good grounds convictions were obtained. The fact, however, that there should be any torture at all, even in the slightest degree, is most grievous. The Lieutenant-Governor earnestly hopes that all police officers will do their utmost to extirpate utterly such an evil from the department. Promotion was given to 396, and money rewards to 380 men of all ranks for good conduct. A proper system has now been laid down for the grant of good-conduct stripes, and the number of men so distinguished in the force amounts to 3,086. The drill and external discipline of the police reserves at the head-quarters of the districts, and especially on the several frontiers, have been found by the Lieutenant-Governor to be fairly good.

10. The service of process in criminal cases has hitherto formed no small portion of the work of the police. Much relief, it was hoped, would be afforded to them by the introduction of the new rules, under which separate establishments were to be entertained for the purpose of serving process in non-cognizable cases. This expectation, the Lieutenant-Governor observes, has not been disappointed. The number of summonses served by the police in 1874 was only 181,182, against 354,501 in the previous year. Large as this decrease is, it does not, however, represent to the full the relief which ought to have been afforded by the new rules, as full effect was not given to them during the year in certain districts. It is again necessary to call the attention of the Inspector-General to the enormous number of "other orders" which are said to have been served by the police, amounting to 216,777. In Tirhoot and certain other districts, as observed in regard to the report for 1873, the famine may have given occasion to the issue of a large number of these orders; but in the 24-Pergunnahs, in which no less than 28,843 such orders issued during the past year, no sufficient explanation is afforded of the excessive burden which was thus thrown on the police.

11. The number of districts in which the work of inspection is said to have been insufficiently attended to by the District Superintendents was very small, while in most cases an explanation of the omission is forthcoming. It is creditable to Colonel Pughe and his deputies that they should have visited no less than 29 of the districts in these provinces during the year under review. Sir Richard Temple notices with satisfaction the large number of District and Assistant Superintendents who have been singled out for special mention in the 61st paragraph of the report; inasmuch as a study of the annals of the department brings out in striking relief the good consequences which immediately pervade the police in any tract of country when the District Superintendent exerts himself in a specially strenuous manner. The good results known to have been attained in some districts by the influence of the District Superintendent, such districts as Midnapore, Bhagulpore, Tirhoot, Purneah, Tipperah and others, and the bad results in Sarun, Shahabad, Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, and others, lend force to the presumption that whenever the result in any given district is continuously bad, there must be some deficiency traceable to the District Superintendent himself. The Lieutenant-Governor begs the attention of all police officers to this consideration. The same remark applies with the same cogency to the Magistrates, who must be regarded as equally responsible for failure, or as equally sharing the credit.

12. Crime.—In the past year a very considerable increase is observable in cognizable crime. In part this is owing to some change made in the classification of certain offences by the amended Code of Criminal Procedure. Making every allowance for this, however, the fact remains that there was a substantial increase of offences during the year. The total number of offences reported was 126,122, against 114,828 in the previous year, and 108,434 in 1872. Deducting false cases, the balance of cases accepted as true was 99,191 in 1874, 88,006 in 1873, and 82,988 in 1872. The proportion in which these offences were distributed under the several recognised heads of crime is shown in the following table:—

Class of Crime	1872.	1873.	1874.
Class I—Offences against the State, &c.	3,120	2,929	2,606
„ II—Serious offences against the person, &c.	4,081	4,392	3,905
„ III—Offences against person or property, &c.	20,210	24,531	28,615
„ IV—Minor offences against the person	3,994	4,126	6,495
„ V—Minor offences against property	38,767	40,267	43,343
„ VI—Other offences not specified above	14,497	13,765	13,272
Other special laws	599	872	951

13. From the above, it appears that the increase has been chiefly confined to offences falling under Classes III, IV, and V. The addition of "hurt" to the number of offences under Class IV more than accounts for the increase under that head. Under the other two classes, considerable as the increase is, it is much less than might have been anticipated from the exceptional circumstances of the year. With the exception of the Cooch Behar and Dacca Divisions, in which there was some decrease, crime has increased in all the other divisions of the provinces under the Government of Bengal, and notably in Burdwan, Rajshahye, Patna, and Bhagulpore. The scarcity, Mr. Hankey thinks, was directly the cause of much of that class of crime which is usually the result of want. His remarks on the causes to which the increase in crime may be generally ascribed are interesting. Chief among these Mr. Hankey mentions the increase of population and of manufactures, and the enhancement of prices consequent on the progress of civilisation.

14. With respect to cases struck off as false, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the general percentage of such cases has fallen off from 23·4 in 1872 and 23·3 in 1873 to 21·3 during the past year, and that, as in former years, the largest percentage occurred in the Dacca Division, where out of 15,780 cases reported 6,460 were expunged as false. In Backergunge alone more than one-half the cases reported were declared to be false. As a rule, however, even in the same districts the fluctuations in the number of such cases from year to year is so marked as to leave but little doubt that the varying results must be in a great measure attributable to differences of procedure on the part of succeeding district officers. Notwithstanding, however, these fluctuations, the proportion of false cases has generally been the smallest in the Urdoo-speaking districts. Mr. Hankey's remarks on this subject, as well as those regarding the failure on the part of Magistrates to take proper notice of the offence of bringing false charges, have the Lieutenant-Governor's concurrence. The attention of Magistrates is again requested to the desirability of visiting with punishment every complainant who may be proved to have brought a false and malicious complaint. But it is hardly credible that all the cases rejected as false were wholly without foundation. Mere exaggeration is doubtless accountable for the rejection of many complaints. This exaggeration, when unconscious or unintentional, may properly go unnoticed; but His Honor, in referring to the remarks recorded by him on this subject last year, must again insist upon proper action being taken when wilfully false charges are brought with a view to the perversion of justice.

15. Of the 126,122 cases reported, 14,334, or 11·3 per cent., were not inquired into by the police. But though this general result is very similar to that of previous years, the percentages of 1872 and 1873 being 11·5 and 11·6 respectively, the table furnished by the Inspector-General shows that much diversity of practice prevails in this particular also in the procedure of different District Magistrates, the percentages varying from ·4 in the Backergunge and Mymensingh districts to 53·5 in the Sarun district. In reviewing the report for 1873, the Lieutenant-Governor pressed upon the attention of the Commissioner of Patna the course of procedure followed in Sarun, where for that year only 38·9 per cent. of the cases reported were inquired into. During the past year matters have not much improved, as 46·5 only of the cases reported were inquired into. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that the Commissioner is reported to have taken measures to put a stop to this abuse, and it is hoped that the effect of these measures may be apparent in the returns of the current year.

16. Deducting cases thus passed over and cases expunged as false, but adding cases which occurred in the previous year, but which were not brought under inquiry until after its close, a number of 86,555 cases remained, against 73,141 in 1873. The results of the proceedings of the police as regards the accused in these cases were as follows:—

Number of persons arrested	87,478	95,729
Finally convicted	50,540	57,704
Acquitted	32,493	31,801

The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Inspector-General in considering that these results are creditable, the percentage of cases in which convictions obtained having been 39·8 per cent., against 38 per cent. in 1873. The number of persons actually put on trial is said to have amounted to 93,524, of whom 61·7 per cent. were finally convicted, against 59·9 in 1873.

17. In the 99th paragraph of his report, Mr. Hankey gives a table showing the percentage of acquittals to persons brought to trial in each district in the Lower Provinces. Judged by this standard, the working of the police was unsatisfactory in Beerbhoom, Nuddea, and Moorshedabad, in which districts the percentages were 46, 47, and 48 respectively. On the other hand, the percentages were very good in Howrah, Darjeeling, and Dinagepore, where they amounted to 18, 19, and 23 only. Speaking of the large number of cases which break down before the court of sessions, Mr. Hankey says: "The failure complained of is, I believe, to be largely, if not mainly, attributable to the character and peculiarities of the people themselves. In point of fact, the evidence on which the lower court commits is not the same evidence upon which the higher court acquits. The length of time that frequently elapses between the day on which the witness first appears before the Magistrate and that on which he appears before the Judge too often proves fatal to the value of his evidence." These remarks apply, though in a less degree, to the failure of cases before the Magistrate which have seemed good to the police. While at the sessions, in many districts, from 60 to 70 per cent. of the persons committed escape, before the Magistrate the proportion is not unfrequently from 40 to 50 per cent. This is one of those matters in which the pointing out of the defect is easy, while the finding of a remedy is difficult.

18. The value of the property stolen during the year amounted to Rs. 9,63,020, as against Rs. 11,09,028 in 1873; the amount recovered was Rs. 3,08,593, or 32 per cent., as compared with 25·1 per cent. only during the previous year.

19. Taking crime according to its sub-division into classes, it is observed that the number of true cases under Class I, "Offences against the State," has fallen from 2,929 in 1873 to 2,606 during the past year; and convictions were obtained in 1,342 cases, as compared with 1,565. Rioting, the chief offence ranked under Class I, which has largely decreased since 1871, has shown a further decrease of 298 cases as compared with 1871, and was of much less frequent occurrence in the Rajshahye division during the past than in the previous year, when the rent disputes were at their height. It continued, however, to be very frequent in the districts of the Dacca division, where it is not seldom attended by bloodshed. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the local courts are alive to the necessity of dealing severely with every case of rioting where it is proved satisfactorily that deadly weapons have been used; and he trusts that the severe sentences which have of late been imposed in some cases will have an effect in repressing this crime. The Lieutenant-Governor greatly regrets to find that in Eastern Bengal rioting is attributed to disputes between zemindars and ryots. Steps have been taken to compose these disputes, with a certain degree of success so far; but it is hoped that there may soon be such modifications of the law as may enable the collectorate authorities to obviate the causes of the disputes. The Lieutenant-Governor is sorry to find that the same cause, namely, ill feeling between the zemindars and ryots, is reported as bringing about a large proportion of the numerous cases of wrongful confinement. The attention of the Government is being particularly directed to the removal or alleviation of the causes of such ill feeling wherever it may exist. In the Presidency Division, especially in the Jessore district, a considerable number of breaches of the peace have occurred, but generally the cases have been of a much less serious character than in the neighbouring districts of Backergunge and Fureedpore. In the Presidency, Dacca, and Chittagong Divisions, this crime appears to have been successfully dealt with, the percentages of conviction being large in all the districts; but the general percentage of convictions has fallen off from 41 in 1873 to 37·5, the results being most unfavorable in the districts of the Burdwan division. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor deems it just to all concerned to declare that the decrease in recent years of agrarian lawlessness, of the employment of lattials or clubmen, and of other violent methods, constitutes one of the most satisfactory signs in the present condition of Bengal. Doubtless many causes have contributed to this good result, such as the better adjustment of the relations between landlord and tenant, and the gradual raising of the status of the peasantry. And police administration can claim only a limited share in the credit.

20. The decrease shown of 487 cases falling under Class II, that is, of serious offences against the person, is a satisfactory feature in the returns; the more so seeing that convictions were obtained in an increased proportion of cases. The percentage of persons convicted to those arrested has also risen from 43 to 45. Of 302 true cases of murder, 125 were detected, against 139 detected out of 389 cases in the previous year. The result of the investigations held in Moorshedabad, Midnapore, Tipperah, and Rungpore, was far from satisfactory. In Fureedpore and Rajshahye the proportion of convictions obtained was good, and in the 24-Pergunnahs and Sarun very good. Mr. Hankey remarks on the great prevalence of the crime of murder in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the number of cases there exceeding those which occur in the whole of the other districts of the division put together. With 12 true cases in 1874, convictions were obtained in four only. Considering the small extent to which the police are used in this district, they can hardly be held responsible for this result. The inference would apparently indicate the desirability of employing the regular police agency more largely in that part of the country.

21. As regards other offences falling under Class II, the only points worthy of remark are the serious nature of several cases of rape which occurred, the increase in the number of infants exposed, especially in the Patna Division (a result ascribed to the scarcity), an increase in the number of cases of attempted suicide, and a decrease in cases of grievous hurt, of administering stupefying drugs, and of kidnapping or abduction.

22. Under Class III, which includes serious offences against person and property, there has been a large increase of cases, the number for the past year being 2,010, as against 1,202 in 1873. The chief heads of crime showing an increase are dacoity and serious mischief. The number of dacoities reported during the year amounted to 465, against 356 in 1873 and 341 in the previous year. The districts which showed the most remarkable increase, taking the average of the five preceding years, were Beerbhoom, Moorshedabad, and Julpigoree. In the Burdwan Division the number of dacoities increased from 72 in 1873 to 116 during the past year, and the results generally were very unsatisfactory. In 50 cases only were convictions obtained, and of 624 persons brought to trial only 197 were convicted. The results were most unfavorable in the Beerbhoom, Bankoora, and Burdwan districts. In the district first named 17 cases only were detected out of a total of 58, and only 60 persons were convicted, while no less than 176 were acquitted. Want is said to have been the primary cause of the large number of dacoities in this and the other districts of the division, and the majority of cases are shown to have been committed during the months of April, May, and June, when the scarcity was at its height. It is satisfactory to learn, however, that since the deputation of a special additional police force to the Beerbhoom district, there has been a cessation of dacoity; but the marked prevalence of the crime in the division is greatly condemnatory of the police, and calls for the careful attention of the Commissioner and the District Officers. In Midnapore the Inspector-General expresses himself as highly satisfied with the steps taken to put down dacoity. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that convictions were obtained in no less than 15 out of 17 cases reported and accepted as true. Still, the number of prisoners acquitted was very large, having amounted to 120, against 64 convicted, and these figures would seem to show that some unnecessary arrests must have been made by the police.

In the Presidency Division there were 15 dacoities, as against nine in 1873. Convictions were obtained in eight cases, and of 74 persons brought to trial, 43 were convicted. No convictions were obtained in the three cases which occurred in Jessore. In the 24-Pergunnahs and in Nuddea the results were favorable.

In the Rajshahye Division dacoities increased from 113 to 135. In 38 cases only were convictions obtained, and of 652 persons brought to trial, 285 only were convicted. The results are most unsatisfactory in the Moorshedabad and Dinagepore districts. The prevalence of the crime in the former district was noticed in the report for 1873, and special measures were adopted to check its growth. With this view six experimental outposts were established; but the Lieutenant-Governor observes that it is as yet impossible to judge of the effects, as these outposts were not established until July and August, and when upwards of 40 cases had occurred. In Rungpore and Pubna there was a decrease of thirteen and six cases respectively.

In the Dacca Division dacoities have decreased from 17 to 12, but in two cases only were convictions obtained. The Commissioner, however, concludes that but little blame attaches to the police, as, with two exceptions, the dacoities were committed on the rivers, and such cases are most difficult to detect. Though something may no doubt be said for this conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept it. Better arrangements must be made for patrolling the rivers in boats; the habits of the boatmen, fishermen, and other classes who live much on the rivers must be observed, and the bad characters, or the suspected members of gangs, among them must be brought to account.

In the Bhagulpore Division dacoities have increased from 20 to 38. In eight cases only were convictions obtained, and of 225 persons brought to trial, 36 only were convicted. Of the total number of cases, 30 occurred in the Purneah district alone, and of 202 persons brought to trial only 34 were convicted. The explanation given for these results is not satisfactory. Special measures have been taken to repress the prevalence of the crime in this district, but these did not come into operation till the latter half of the year. So far, however, as can yet be judged, they have been attended with success.

In the Patna Division cases of dacoity have fallen from 45 to 38. The results are more favorable than in the Bhagulpore and Rajshahye Divisions, the number of cases in which convictions were obtained being 16, and of 240 persons brought to trial 102 were convicted; but the Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Commissioner in considering that the results are far from satisfactory.

In the Chota Nagpore Division dacoities increased from 34 to 45, and these occurred chiefly in the Hazareebagh and Manbhoom districts. In six cases only were convictions obtained, and of 124 persons brought to trial 20 only were convicted. The results are unsatisfactory, and especially so in Manbhoom. Of 15 true cases in this district only one was detected, and of 48 persons brought to trial only two were convicted. Credit is due to the Lohardugga police for the clever capture made by them of a gang of dacoits who had committed no less than five dacoities in the Palamow sub-division.

In the Orissa and Chittagong Divisions only one and four dacoities respectively were reported.

The large number of these heinous offences, and the general inability of the police to deal successfully with this crime, as above noticed, are matters which demand the serious consideration of the Inspector-General. The increase of dacoity cases from 356 in 1873 to 465 in 1874 is quite the most serious circumstance in this annual report. Doubtless much of this crime is of a comparatively mild character; some of the increase, too, is due to the famine in some districts, or to the scarcity in others. So far, and so far only, is the Lieutenant-Governor willing to accept the palliation offered for so unsatisfactory a result. On the other hand, he must warn all police officers that he believes the greater part of this crime to be preventible, and that, wherever it rears its head, there must be some fault on the part of the Magistrate and the District Superintendent. The continued prevalence of such a crime will not be tolerated in any district, as it will be taken to indicate a want of the first qualities which ought to distinguish the character of a police officer. The real dacoities are committed by professional criminals who are known, or whose existence is certainly ascertainable, and who belong to gangs which are traceable on enquiry. These men will sooner or later be found and caught if the Magistrate and the District Superintendent address themselves to the task with a resolve not to be baffled.

23. In the present report the crime of robbery has afforded little matter for comment. The figures closely follow those of the previous year, the number of true cases having been 255, against 253; the number of cases detected 80, against 75; the number of persons punished 170, against 146. The amount of property plundered was Rs. 10,250, against Rs. 8,331.

24. The transfer of simple hurt from the list of non-cognisable to that of cognisable offences has had the effect of more than doubling the number of crimes which in 1873 appeared under Class IV, "Minor offences against the person." If these are deducted, a decrease is shown of 756 cases as compared with 1873. Of the total number a very large proportion consists of cases of wrongful restraint and confinement, and, as in the preceding year, these have chiefly occurred in the Dacca and Rajshahye Divisions. The very large proportion of charges under these heads which were struck off as false is especially noticeable in the neighbouring districts of Purneah, Dinagepore, and Rungpore, and in Backergunge and Mymensingh.

25. In considering Class V, comprising minor offences against property, it is convenient to include serial Nos. 35 and 36 of Class III, that is, the graver forms of house-trespass and house-breaking. Counting these, but excluding false cases, the total number of offences was 69,948 in the past year, against 59,269 in 1873 and 53,996 in 1872. The number of cases detected increased from 11,514 in the year last mentioned to 12,636 in 1873, and 17,508 in 1874. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Hankey in considering that the results of the working of the police in these cases were more satisfactory than in the previous two years. The great increase observable under this head is chiefly attributable to cases of theft and lurking house-trespass. In cases of house-trespass and house-breaking the results of police inquiry were, as usual, very unsuccessful. In cases of ordinary theft the police have generally succeeded in obtaining convictions in a larger proportion of cases than during the previous year. The increase of such cases is specially marked in those divisions and districts in which want prevailed, and has been ascribed to this cause. Taking both the abovenamed crimes together, the number of cases reported in the Patna Division was 20,321, against 16,304 in 1873, and in the Bhagulpore Division 8,082, against 6,413. At the same time the "cases convicted" in these divisions, respectively, amounted to 3,616 and 1,574, against 1,908 and 994 in the previous year. In a year of scarcity, these results were to have been expected.

26. Cattle-theft is a crime which appears to have increased largely during the past year, and the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that this result cannot fairly be attributed to better reporting. There is, he fears, a real increase, due in some degree to criminal organization. The exigencies of the growing demand for hides do doubtless afford some temptation, and cattle are sometimes systematically poisoned for the sake of their hides. In the Patna Division the increase amounted to 229 cases; in the Bhagulpore Division to 154. In the Rajshahye Division, where a steady increase is also observable, the result is attributed to an increase in the hide trade. These circumstances cause much mischief and scandal, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that if the attention of District Superintendents shall be strenuously directed to the subject, some means of prevention will be found. He will hold these officers responsible either to effect such prevention, or to show that they have done all that was possible in this direction without entire success.

27. Much of the crime falling under Class VI, "Other offences not specified," concerns the revenue laws. A very marked increase is observable in the cases under the salt laws, the number of offences having been 1,675 in the past, compared with 807 in the previous year. There was an increase, almost in a similar ratio, in the number of persons convicted. The case reported from Howrah, where an attempt was made to smuggle 1,000 maunds of salt, exemplifies the serious frauds to which the revenue is subject. Under the excise and opium laws a decrease in crime is observable, and the convictions are reported to have been satisfactory.

28. In successive years the importance of controlling the movements of bad characters in the several districts where crime was most frequent has been pointed out. The Lieutenant-Governor has, moreover, expressed himself as anxious that charges of bad character should, when possible, be tried on the spot, that is, in the neighbourhood of the defendant's dwelling. He is glad to observe that this procedure is receiving a trial, and that its results are favorably reported on. Increased attention is in most districts being given to the movements of bad characters, and with the best effects, notably in Midnapore, Purneah, and Rungpore. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that Magistrates will note the remark of the Inspector-General, that it is not sufficient to increase the number of the names on the register, but that the most important thing is, after registration, to watch the proceedings of those who have been brought on the register. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that in the present circumstances of the country there is no single thing so conducive to good police administration as the watching of bad characters. In most places there are bad characters who are well known to the neighbourhood, and doubtless these are the persons who commit much of the crime which figures in the returns. In some places they are well looked after, and crime decreases in a tolerably exact proportion. In many places, however, they are inefficiently looked after, and crime proportionally flourishes. The Lieutenant-Governor would warn all District Superintendents that they will be expected to show fully the measures adopted for the surveillance of bad characters.

29. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with regret the large increase which is reported to have occurred in offences affecting the safety of travellers by rail. This is specially marked in cases of theft of spikes and fencing. Magistrates have already been warned against dealing with such offences leniently. The difficulty, however, is to detect the offenders, and there is much reason to fear that the impunity they have hitherto enjoyed will not favor a decrease in crime. Out of 59 cases of theft of the materials abovementioned, in 22 cases only were convictions obtained. Sir Richard Temple is doubtful how far any effective system of patrol could be organized, but if the Assistant Inspector-General has any specific proposals to make on the subject they should be separately submitted.

30. The total number of non-cognisable cases instituted during the year, whether by complaint or by the action of the Magistrates, was 92,225, against 104,742 in 1873. Process was issued in 70,881 cases, compared with 85,673 in the previous year. The number of cases in which the police were employed to investigate was 6,997, against 6,228 in 1873. Of the 75,529 defendants who appeared in court, 8,426 were discharged, 23,848 were acquitted, and 41,931 were convicted.

31. Against the decrease in crime indicated by these figures must be placed the increase in cognisable cases, caused by the transfer to that head of the offences of simple hurt and mischief. Omitting these, the ratio of convictions to acquittals considerably improved during the past year. This, the Inspector-General thinks, shows that the magistracy have exercised a better discretion in the use of their powers, and have been more careful in the matter of issuing process. Notwithstanding the decrease in the number of offences, there was a slight increase in the number of cases in which the police were employed to make inquiry. This is hardly satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that steps have been taken by some Commissioners to ensure the exercise of more discretion in this matter in future. The attention of the Magistrate of Midnapore should particularly be directed to the matter.

32. As regards professional criminals, the present report adds little to what we already know. Allusion is made to the irreclaimable habits of the Mughya domes. It is under contemplation by the Lieutenant-Governor to take special measures with a view to reclaim this tribe, if possible, to habits of honest industry. Similar steps will also be adopted for the control of the Bedyas, a tribe who are reported to have been driven out of Jessore into Nuddea by the strict surveillance which their predatory habits have rendered necessary.

33. In concluding his report, Mr. Hankey condenses the remarks of the local officers on the general character of the police in the several districts. These are generally favorable. In a few districts, as in Purneah, Shahabad, and Moorshedabad, their shortcomings have been conspicuous, but in most districts there is no doubt that the tone of the force is improving. In Gya the police have not hitherto borne a good reputation for detective ability.

34. The Lieutenant-Governor observes what is stated by Mr. Hankey in his 229th paragraph in regard to the numerical insufficiency of the police to discharge their duties efficiently. In cases where good cause can be shown for strengthening the force, the question will be considered on separate representations, so far as financial considerations may permit. It must be remembered, however, that much may be done to increase the efficiency of the existing force by judicious distribution, as well as by revising the allotments made to the several districts as occasion may require, and also by sparing the police any miscellaneous duty which can reasonably be avoided.

35. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. Hankey for the full and interesting report submitted by him. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes that he could give unqualified commendation to the efforts of the police during 1874; but this is impossible in the face of the increase of dacoity and of cattle theft, the defective surveillance of bad characters in many places, and the proved mismanagement in several districts. Though the names of those officers who have been in fault are well remembered by the Lieutenant-Governor, he will refrain from mentioning them. He deems it but right, however, to declare his high satisfaction with Mr. Macaulay, Major Gordon, Captain Skinner, and Colonel Knyvett, among the long list of officers who have done well.

36. The Lieutenant-Governor has been at some pains to learn the general estimation in which the police is held by the natives of these provinces. He is disappointed at finding that this estimation is not so favorable as might have been expected in many quarters. In many sections of public opinion, the police is more complained of than perhaps any other institution in the country. While making every allowance for difficulties in this respect, the Lieutenant-Governor would urge all Magistrates and all superior police officers to strive to render the force comparatively pure and popular, and free from malpractices. If they will patiently and judiciously enquire among the people into the general character borne by the force, and attend to every instance where such character is reasonably impeached, very much good may be effected. The Lieutenant-Governor is well aware that one main difficulty with which our officers have to contend is the inferiority of the pay and status of the sub-inspectors of various grades as compared with the important work they have to do. The most conspicuous need in the present police, indeed, is the raising of the status of the lower grades of the native officers. The remedy here is difficult for financial reasons, among other, but the Lieutenant-Governor will try to compass it, if possible. On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor will not condemn the police force inconsiderately, as he well knows that there is no department in which it is more difficult to give satisfaction. And on the whole, Sir Richard Temple deems it just to the Police Department, and also to Colonel Pughe and other officers who have ably supervised it, to record the following qualified remarks in its favor.

37. It was understood from the first that the regular organization of the police, as prescribed by Act V of 1861, ought to be allowed a trial extending over at least a certain number of years. This organization has now had a twelve years' trial, and we ought to be able to say whether it has failed or succeeded. So far as the Lieutenant-Governor can learn, in Bengal it has certainly not failed. It has succeeded to some extent; but that extent has not been so great as might reasonably have been expected. It has effected some considerable improvement, though by no means all the improvement which its framers probably anticipated. It has ensured the undivided attention of a trained body of officers in a department where their activity is peculiarly needed. It has effectually made the police quite separate from the magisterial and the district establishments, thus precluding that combination of one set of employés with the other—those wheels within wheels of misconduct which, in former days, used to baffle investigations, and in this respect it has introduced a marked change for the better. It has greatly raised the character and status of the superior native officers of the force, and has to that extent checked malpractices and corruption. Though it has not prevented such evil things in the lower branches of the force, and has not done so much for the character and status of the petty officers and the constables, still even there it has effected some good, and has, at all events, substituted discipline for indiscipline. It has had a large and creditable share in the improved detection and repression of crime, which has been obtained of late years in Bengal. But it has failed to eradicate altogether some of those grievous faults, such as fabrication of evidence, occasional maltreatment of arrested persons, prisoners, and the getting up of false cases on a large scale. Though it has not won the entire confidence of the natives, and though its shortcomings are complained of by them, still they generally seem to regard it as a step in the right direction, and would regard any retrogression from its principles as a real misfortune.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT IN THE LOWER PROVINCES OF BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1874-75.

REGISTRATION.

Calcutta, the 11th November 1875.

READ—

The Report on the administration of the Registration Department in the Lower Provinces of Bengal during the year 1874-75.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of Government passed thereon.

DURING the greater part of the past year Mr. Bignold retained charge of the Registration Department. In January last, however, Mr. Beverley resumed his appointment as Inspector-General, and continued to hold it till after the close of the year. The present report has been prepared by Mr. P. Hurley, who, throughout the year, held the office of Inspector of Registration Offices, but, after its close, succeeded temporarily to Mr. Beverley's appointment. The report has evidently been carefully drawn up, and gives much interesting information regarding the working of the department.

2. In reviewing the report for 1873-74, the Lieutenant-Governor remarked on the great development of the operations of the department, owing to the extension of rural offices, and on the great increase in the number of registrations effected in consequence. He is pleased to observe from the present report that in these matters the results of the past year bear very favorable comparison with its predecessor. Forty-eight rural offices were opened in the interior, bringing the whole number up to 120, and since the close of the year 23 additional offices have been added to the list. An unprecedented increase has at the same time taken place in the number of registrations effected. These amounted to 423,873, against 324,352 in the previous year. Contrasting the results with those obtained four years previously, the great increase in the operations of the department is still more marked, and that notably in the tracts for which rural offices have now been established, as shown by the following figures:—

	Number of registrations effected in 1870-71.	Numbers of registrations effected in 1874-75.	Increase.
Non-rural areas*	139,439	214,993	75,554

3. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that these results are extremely gratifying, and that they afford every inducement to extend the system of establishing rural offices in the interior. It is clear that the people even in the rural areas are fully alive to the benefits of registration, and that, as additional rural offices have been opened out in each district, there has been a corresponding increase in the number of documents registered. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to receive any well-considered applications for the opening of more registration offices in the interior of the districts. The extent to which advantage is taken of the facilities for registration afforded in the several provinces under this Government is shown in the following table:—

Provinces.	Number of offices.	Number of registrations.	Percentage of registration on the whole	Population.	Number of registrations per 1,000 of population.	Percentage of increase of registration over previous year.
Bengal	168	341,914	80 7	34,207,735	10·	39 8
Behar	59	65,967	15 5	19,736,101	8·3	8 1
Chota Nagpore	10	9,345	2 2	3,419,591	2·7	2 3
Orissa	9	6,647	1 6	3,034,690	2 1	—13 6

These figures indicate that while much has been done in Bengal to meet the convenience of the people and to extend the usefulness of the department, much yet remains to be done in the other provinces, and notably in Orissa, where a considerable decline is observable in the number of registrations effected. The Commissioner of Orissa and the Inspector-General will be requested to report separately on the causes of this decline, inasmuch as, in the absence of explanation, the presumption must be adverse to the character of the department for efficiency in that particular province.

4. Establishments.—The number of offices of all kinds under the control of the Inspector-General of Registration at the close of the year was 246, as against 221 at the end of 1873-74, thus—

	1873-74	1874-75.
District offices in charge of salaried sub-registrars, including one rural officer	23	23

Sub-divisional offices ·	86	72
Special offices at sub-divisions . ..	9	11
Rural offices in the interior	75	120

The figures for 1873-74, it is to be observed, include 16 offices in districts now transferred to the Chief Commissionership of Assam, which are excluded from the figures for the past year. The true increase in the number of offices in the Lower Provinces during the year would therefore seem to be 41. The extent to which the number of rural offices has been increased has already formed the subject of remark; they now form more than one-half of the whole number of offices. At sub-divisions these offices are gradually supplanting the regular offices; and in one instance, at Julpigoree, the experiment has been tried of opening a rural office at the district head-quarters.

5. In contrasting as above the number of registrations effected in the past compared with the previous year, all the districts transferred to Assam, except Sylhet, were excluded. Excluding this district also from the calculation, the nett increase in the number of documents registered was 101,492, as shown in the margin. The total percentage of increase was thus 31·4 per cent., as compared with 17·66 per cent. in the previous year.

6. In the following statement the increase in the past compared with the previous year of registration, as regards the several classes of documents, is shown:—

With a few exceptions, of which Cuttack, Sylhet, and Chumparun are the only important ones, the great increase observable from the above figures is shared in by all districts; but the 24-Pergunnahs, with an increase of 6,603 documents, Chittagong, with an increase of 10,909, and Jessore, with an increase of 26,709 documents, are by far the most conspicuous as contributing to the general result. As pointed out by the Officiating Inspector-General, Jessore has indeed far outstript all other districts in the progressive development of registration. The deeds registered there last year amounted to 50,573, against 23,864 in the previous year. This result is in a great measure accounted for by the fact that in the past year no less than ten rural offices were opened in the district, while in 1873-74 there was but one such office. In a less degree, the Officiating Inspector-General concurs with the District Registrar in assigning the high price of food-grains in parts of the district as the cause of the increase of transactions.

7. From the table given above, it is to be observed that as regards the classes of documents registered, the increase in the transactions of the year was greatest under the heads of perpetual and other leases, the registration of which is compulsory, of sales for small amounts, and of mortgages and obligations for the payment of money.

8. As regards perpetual leases, it is observed that the system of sub-infeudation, which of late years has been particularly noticeable in the littoral districts, though still confined to Eastern Bengal, has received a great extension during the year. From special enquiries made by the Officiating Inspector-General, it appears that in Jessore, Chittagong, Backergunge, and Noakhally actual cultivators seldom obtain the leases in question, which are generally granted to middlemen with the object not unfrequently of obtaining an enhancement of rent indirectly through them. The Lieutenant-Governor must observe that the growth of this practice in Central Bengal would be a matter for regret. The attention of the Divisional Commissioners will be separately drawn to the subject. As regards leases other than perpetual ones, the registration of which is compulsory, little variation is observable in the figures for Behar for the past two years, except as regards Monghyr and Bhagulpore, where a considerable increase is observable, and Chumparun, where on the contrary there has been a decrease. In Bengal there was a decrease in the districts of Midnapore, Pubna, Backergunge, and Chittagong, but this was more than met by an increase in Jessore, Rajshahye, Dacca, Mymensingh, and Tipperah.

9. In view of the late scarcity it was to have been expected that there would be a large increase in the number of sales, mortgages, and obligations for small amounts, as the poorer classes chiefly would be affected by the high price of grain. This the returns show to have happened. Sales for large amounts during the past year but little exceeded on the whole the number in the previous year, while in certain districts, and notably in several of those where the scarcity was most felt, there was a considerable diminution in the number of such transactions As regards mortgages of large amounts, the increase on the whole amounts to some 5,000 deeds. In the distressed districts, however, results did not vary materially from those of the previous year, the chief districts where the increase occurred being Burdwan, Midnapore, Nuddea, and Moorshedabad. As regards sales for small amounts, there was an increase of over 1,000 documents in each of the districts of Burdwan, Midnapore, and the 24-Pergunnahs, while the rest of the increase of 12,000 documents observable on the whole was pretty generally distributed throughout the remaining districts.

10. As regards mortgages for small amounts, the increase on the whole was a little over 8,000 documents. The chief districts in which this increase occurred were Burdwan, Beerbhoom, Midnapore, the 24-Pergunnahs, and Chittagong In the Behar districts there was no material variation from the results of the previous year. As regards obligations for the repayment of money, however, there was an increase of over 100 per cent. in Bhagulpore, and of some 80 per cent in Tirhoot. On the whole the increase in the number of documents of the kind registered was nearly 28.000. The greater part of this increase occurred in the district of Jessore, the number of such registrations there having risen from 6,068 in 1873-74 to 22,498 in the past year. The other districts, where a large increase is observable, are the 24-Pergunnahs and Nuddea.

11. The total amount represented by the bonds registered in the past year was Rs. 1,22,32,498, against Rs. 1,02,74,618 in the previous year. In some of the district returns great variations are observable, chiefly in the value of bonds for large amounts. Thus in Moorshedabad there is a decrease of some four lakhs and in Patna of some five lakhs in the value of bonds for more than Rs. 5,000. On the other hand, there is an increase of over 15 lakhs as regards bonds of the same class registered in Chumparun. No explanation of these variations has been given. This explanation will be separately called for. It must be understood by the local officers that annual reports are prepared not only for the record of facts, but also for the ascertainment of the causes, so that the Government may see whether any measure of improvement is called for.

12. The total receipts of the Registration Department during the year are stated to have been Rs. 5,52,325, against which is to be placed a gross expenditure (including printing charges, stationery, &c) of Rs. 4,12,450, leaving a surplus of Rs. 1,39,875. From the returns it does not appear whether building charges incurred in the Public Works Department have been debited against the receipts or not. In future the amount of such charges should always be stated.

13. In reviewing the report for 1873-74, the Lieutenant-Governor pressed upon the attention of the Inspector-General the necessity for a strict supervision of the many rural offices which had been established. It is now reported that the total number of inspections held throughout the year was 302, a number far in excess of those for previous years, but still in Mr. Hurley's opinion inadequate for the control of all offices. Now that a second Inspector of Registration has been placed at the disposal of the Inspector-General, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no difficulty will be experienced in effectually carrying out the work of supervision.

14. The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of the necessity which exists for improving the buildings occupied by the Registration Department in many districts. Hitherto financial difficulties have stood in the way of doing much which was desirable. As funds, however, are now available, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts to be able to provide during the ensuing year for the execution of the works which are of the most pressing necessity.

15. The question of the length of time taken to complete registration in the several offices is one which should have the Inspector-General's close attention, and should form a matter for investigation by inspecting officers. The Lieutenant-Governor does not think that it would be possible to lay down any hard-and-fast rule on the subject, but he thinks that where habitual delay in completing documents is observable in any office, strict explanations should be demanded.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that no mention is made in the report of the progress of the experiment, to which he attaches much importance, of employing printed forms for the registration of agricultural leases and bonds of small amount. In the next annual report he will expect to find careful and detailed mention of this subject. Under the instructions issued, this experiment is to be tried in a few selected offices where the levy of fees at reduced rates has been authorized in the case of those using the printed forms. The arrangements made probably came into effect too late in the year to admit of any opinion being formed as to the success of the scheme. The Lieutenant-Governor, trusts, however, that in the current year every attention will be given to it, and that the next report will contain full information as to the results obtained.

17. The points in which the present registration law is reported by district officers to be defective are not such, in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor, as to require any immediate action. They will be noted for consideration in case the question of amending the law should be taken up.

18. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the favorable testimony borne to the conduct of certain officers mentioned in the 31st paragraph of the report, and he is glad again to have to record his satisfaction with the manner in which the department has been administered throughout the year by the several officers who have had charge of it. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to Mr. Hurley for his careful report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

RESOLUTION ON THE PROGRESS REPORT OF FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—FORESTS

Calcutta, the 10th November 1875.

READ—

The Progress Report of Forest Administration in Bengal for the year 1874-75.

THE Report shows that considerable progress was made during the year in the selection and formation of Government forests. At the beginning of the year, owing to the separation of Assam from Bengal, the Bengal Forest Department had been reduced to two divisions, Cooch Behar and Chittagong, and in the latter of these no forest reserves had been formed. The entire reserved area amounted to only 120 square miles in the Cooch Behar division, of which 106 square miles were situated in Darjeeling, and 14 in Julpigoree.

2. The cessation of the famine enabled the Lieutenant-Governor to devote more attention to the development of the Forest Department than he had previously been able to give to the subject, and his efforts for its improvement were effectively seconded by the Conservator and the subordinate officers of the department. The result has been that at the close of the year there were five forest divisions, Darjeeling, Julpigoree, Palamow, the Sunderbuns, and Chittagong; and two more are in course of formation, viz Sarunda and the Sonthal Pergunnahs. Additions, amounting to 1,347 square miles, were made during the year to the reserved area, bringing up the total to 1,467 square miles. Of these additions, 115 square miles were in Julpigoree, 885 square miles in the Sunderbuns, and 347 square miles in Chittagong. Besides these, 151 square miles of forests in Palamow have been selected as reserves, but were not gazetted as such during the year.

3. No addition was made during the year to the area of the Darjeeling division, the reserved forests remaining as before at 75 square miles in the hill tract, and 31 square miles in the Terai. During the year the Sukna forests, covering an area of 6,902 acres, have been examined and valued. There were still about 15,000 acres unexplored, and these will be examined during the present year. The selection of reserves in the Dumsong sub-district of this division was also commenced during the year, and 40 square miles are ready to be gazetted.

4. In the Julpigoree division two further reserves have been formed, one of five square miles, adjoining the Muraghat sâl forest, and the other of 110 square miles, forming the Buxa plain reserve. The total area of reserves in this division now amounts to 82,511 acres, or 129 square miles. The addition to the Muraghat sâl forest consists chiefly of savannah land, which was included principally with the object of protecting the forest against fires by establishing a river boundary on three sides of it. The Muraghat forest now contains 171,590 sâl trees, principally seedlings and saplings It is not intended that any cuttings of growing trees shall be made for several years to come, and in the meantime the forest will be protected against fire, grazing, and cultivation.

5. The Buxa plain reserve comprises a tract of almost level country, about 10 miles in breadth by 10½ in length. It includes 74 square miles of sâl forest, six square miles of khari and sissoo, 28 square miles of savannah, and two of cultivated land. The sâl forest is stated by the Conservator to be among the very best in Bengal, the trees being of a fine shape, and attaining large dimensions. Five blocks have been formed for working purposes, and an outline of the working plan for the next eight years is appended to the Report. It is anticipated that the forest will yield at once an annual surplus of Rs. 20,000, which will be greatly increased hereafter.

6. It has been already stated that in the Palamow division the forests, though selected and examined, were not gazetted as reserves during the year. A detailed description and a working plan will appear in next year's Report. The valuation surveys show that the proportion of trees fit for cutting is small, and that the forests will require rest.

7. The formation of a forest reserve in the Sunderbuns was one of the most important operations of the year. The area selected is in the Jessore district, and contains 885 square miles. The most valuable tree in this tract is the soondree (Heritiera littoralis), which is largely used both for boat building and for many purposes of domestic architecture. Although the tree is of rapid growth, the best descriptions have for many years been cut down in so reckless a manner that the western parts of the Sunderbuns have already been exhausted to a large extent, and complaints are made that soondree logs of good quality are becoming scarce in the market. In the reserved tract it is intended that no soondree trees of less girth than three cubits shall be permitted to be cut, and it is hoped that by this means a perennial supply of this valuable timber will be secured. Trees of three cubits girth and upwards will be allowed to be cut on payment of half an anna per maund for the timber, and firewood and other forest produce will be charged for at half the above rate.

8. Since the close of the year it has been found necessary, for the better protection of the soondree forest, to reserve a further area, extending to the line of the sea-coast. This additional tract, however, will be kept as a firewood reserve, in which timber of all kinds may be cut for fuel on payment of the above rate of three pies per maund. It is the wish of the Lieutenant-Governor that in this area every facility should be afforded to the public consistent with the maintenance of future reproduction.

9. The reserved area in the Sunderbuns will, it is expected, yield a considerable revenue; but the object of Government in forming the reserve has not been so much the realization of profit as the preservation, for the public benefit, of a valuable property which was being recklessly destroyed, and which ministered to needs which could not well be supplied from any other quarter. The tract has for the present been placed under the charge of an Assistant Conservator with an establishment of Rs. 430 per month, and four pay-stations have been sanctioned for the collection of moneys due for forest produce.

10. In the Chittagong division, which previously contained only open forests, two reserves were gazetted during the year, the Myanee timber reserve of 339 square miles, and the Kurnafoolee plantation reserve of 8 square miles. The most valuable trees in the Myanee forest are the gurjun and the jarul, but both of these kinds have suffered much from indiscriminate cutting, and are now comparatively scarce. The Kurnafoolee reserve will be planted with teak, jarul, and toon.

11. The Assistant Conservator of Forests in Chittagong has hitherto been under the orders of the Commissioner, who was ex-officio Conservator of Forests in the Regulation Districts and Hill Tracts. The formation of reserved areas has rendered it necessary to bring the forests under more systematic management, and the forest officers will in future be under the orders of the Conservator of Forests, Bengal. But besides the reserved areas, in which no jooming or cultivation will be allowed, and which will be entirely under the management of the Forest Department, there will be a class of "district forests," managed by the Deputy Commissioner of the Hill Tracts, and from these forests the people will be permitted to supply themselves with forest produce for their domestic requirements. A proposal is also under consideration to introduce an Act to remove some difficulties in the collection of tolls on forest produce on the Chittagong rivers.

12. On the whole, it may be said that in the Chittagong Division a commencement of forest conservancy, which promises well for the future, has been made during the year. The practice of jooming is one which it is necessary to discourage, but which cannot be at once prohibited; and the people of the Hill Tracts, who have long been accustomed to a free use of forest produce, would feel it a hardship to be deprived of their former privileges. It has been the object of the Government to frame regulations which shall prevent the wasteful destruction of valuable timber, while avoiding all unnecessary interference with prescriptive rights; and it is believed that this result will be attained by the rules which have been sanctioned.

13. The yield of the forests is noticed at length in the 5th section of the Report. The accounts have been cleared by writing off from the books the timber not actually lying in the sale depôts. In the Darjeeling division 12,704 sleepers were cut and collected for the Northern Bengal State Railway: and a sum of Rs. 18,752 was realized for timber (principally sâl) removed from the forests by private parties. In the Julpigoree division 1,598 pieces of timber were brought to the depôt, and about half of these were disposed of, partly by auction, and partly by private sale. Rs. 5,973 were realized in this division for timber removed by private parties. The stock in hand in both divisions at the close of the year amounted to 16,698 pieces.

14. In the present condition of the department, it is a matter of secondary importance that the operations should be carried on at a profit; but it is nevertheless satisfactory to find that the revenue of the past year considerably exceeded the expenditure. The budget estimate provided for a surplus of Rs. 13,948; but the actual receipts exceeded the estimate by Rs. 64,114, while the expenditure was Rs. 9,168 below the estimate. The total value of the year's transactions was Rs. 1,91,683, and the operations were conducted at a cost of Rs. 1,09,349, thus showing a cash surplus of Rs. 88,334, to which is to be added the difference (Rs. 10,113) between the value of the stock in hand at the commencement and at the close of the year, making the net profit of the year Rs. 92,647. This surplus was obtained entirely in the Darjeeling and Chittagong divisions: in Palamow and the Sunderbuns no revenue has as yet been collected; and in Julpigoree there was a small deficit during the year, though a surplus is expected next year.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in recognizing the earnest, able, and effective supervision which the Conservator, Dr. Schlich, has given to the Forest Department during the year. He is also glad to observe that the services of the subordinate officers of the department are favourably noticed by the Conservator.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF EMIGRATION ON THE TRANSPORT OF EMIGRANTS TO THE LABOR DISTRICTS OF ASSAM, CACHAR, AND SYLHET, FOR THE YEAR 1874-75.

EMIGRATION.

Darjeeling, the 10th October 1875.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Superintendent of Emigration on the transport of emigrants to the Labor Districts of Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, for the year 1874-75.

Read again—

The Report of the previous year, together with the Government Resolution thereon, and the orders of the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State in connection therewith.

THE most remarkable feature in the report of the Superintendent of Emigration for the year 1873-74 was the great increase in the number of emigrants despatched to the tea districts. This was in part ascribed to the pressure induced by the famine in those districts from which the laborers are recruited, and to advantage being taken of the opportunity to push on recruiting with greater energy. As the effects of the scarcity disappeared in the course of the year under review, the flow of emigration appears somewhat to have abated. This result is attributed by Dr. Grant not to any decrease in the demand for laborers in the tea districts, for recruiting operations have been continuously and vigorously carried on, but to an increasing difficulty in finding persons willing to emigrate. The rates of wages and general terms of service offered to intending emigrants were precisely the same as those of 1873-74. Considering the large indents which are now yearly made for laborers by the several British and foreign colonies, and by British Burma, the recruiters for the tea districts have considerable competition to encounter, and terms will probably have to be raised so as to ensure the necessary supply.

2. To meet the increasing difficulty in the recruitment of labor, an increase in the number of agents employed would be expected, and this the report shows has taken place. The number of contractors licensed throughout the year was ten, as compared with seven in the previous year: while the number of recruiting licenses granted was no less than 472, as compared with 284 in the previous year. Notwithstanding this large increase in the number of recruiters employed, it is satisfactory to observe that it was found necessary to cancel but four licenses, against three cancelled in 1873-74.

3. The number of laborers admitted into the recruiting depôts in Calcutta during the year was 14,030, against 15,006 in 1873-74. Of these, 13,360 are said to have been passed as fit for labor, or as fit to accompany their friends: while 414 were finally rejected, and 176 were retained for medical care and treatment. The total number of deaths in depôts was 75, of which 18 were due to cholera. The percentage of mortality was thus 0·53, against 0·41 in the previous year.

4. While the information given regarding these depôts is a little fuller than that contained in the previous report, it is as yet insufficient to enable Government to arrive at a distinct conclusion as to the benefit derived from the rule enforcing a visit to Calcutta as regards contractors' coolies and coolies recruited by garden-sirdars in large batches. Similarly, the information given regarding the working of the depôts at Goalundo is insufficient. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that it is stated that of the coolies recruited by garden-sirdars who proceeded to Assam, 4,193 passed through depôts. All these cannot, according to the figures given, have passed through the Calcutta depôts. It is to be inferred, therefore, that some of them belonged to small batches who visited voluntarily the Goalundo depôts only. How many coolies of each class passed through these depôts, and what the average period of their detention at Goalundo was, is nowhere stated. The ratio of deaths to arrivals at Goalundo is stated to have been 0·97 in 1874-75, against 0·51 in the previous year. The reason assigned for this increase is the fact that an increased number of sirdaree emigrants was passed through the contractors' depôts, and that towards the close of the year a rule was passed enforcing medical observation in the case of such emigrants; the result being the detection of a high rate of mortality.

5. The fluctuations to which the transport of labor to the tea districts has been subject during the past three years is shown in the following table:—

	To Assam.	To Cachar and Sylhet	Total.
1872-73	8,140	6,271	14,411
1873-74	15,351	10,460	25,811
1874-75	11,267	10,423	21,690

These figures, while they show a considerable decline in emigration in the past compared with the previous year, still indicate that in the course of three years a very substantial advance has been made and maintained. It is in the emigration of laborers to Assam only that any large decrease has occurred. As regards Sylhet and Cachar, the figures for the past two years are nearly the same, and indicate, as compared with the results for 1872-73, a substantial increase in emigration to these districts of over 66 per cent.

6. In 1873-74, the large preponderance observable on the whole on a comparison with previous years in the number of coolies recruited by contractors, as compared with those recruited by garden-sirdars, was reversed, and the proportion became as 100 of the former to 119 of the latter. In the past year this proportion has hardly been maintained, the falling off in the number of sirdaree coolies despatched having been considerably greater than that of the contractors' coolies. The exact figures are given in the following table:—

	Contractors' coolies despatched	Garden-sirdars' coolies despatched.	Total.
1872-73	8,950	5,461	14,411
1873-74	11,792	14,091	25,811
1874-75	10,481	11,209	21,690

7. An examination of the figures in detail for the several districts discloses the fact that it is to the emigration to Sylhet and Cachar solely that the preponderance of sirdaree emigrants noted above is due. Of the emigrants who went to Assam, 6,442 were contractors' coolies, while 4,825 only were recruited by garden-sirdars. This result accords with the experience of previous years.

8. The proportion in which the despatches of coolies to the tea districts during the past two years were composed of "emigrants" and of their "dependents," including children and infants, was as follows:—

Districts to which despatched.	1873-74.		1874-75.
	Emigrants	Dependents.	Emigrants.	Dependents
Assam	11,081	4,270	7,973	3,294
Cachar and Sylhet	7,551	2,909	7,187	3,230
Total	18,632	7,179	15,160	6,530

From the above it will be observed that while in 1873-74 from 38 to 39 dependents were despatched with every hundred emigrants, in the past year the proportion rose to 41 per cent. among emigrants going to Assam, and to 45 per cent. among those going to Cachar and Sylhet. Taking infants alone, the number despatched in the past year amounted only to 1,938, against 3,280 in the previous year,—the result being a decline in the proportion borne by them to emigrants as regards contractors' coolies from 19·2 per cent. to 11·7 per cent., and as regards sirdaree coolies, from 16 per cent. to 13·8 per cent.

While the proportion of infants sent to Assam was in 1873-74 slightly higher than that sent to Cachar and Sylhet, the figures being 18·2 per cent. and 16·6 per cent. respectively, in 1874-75 it was slightly lower, being only 12 against 13 per cent. As regards the proportion borne by males to females, the despatches to the tea districts continue to be very satisfactory, 82 women to every 100 men having been sent to Assam in the past year, and 84 women to every 100 men having similarly been sent to Cachar and Sylhet.

9. Of the 6,442 contractors' coolies who were sent to Assam during the year, the whole were embarked at Goalundo on steamers: and of the 4,825 sirdaree coolies who went to the same districts, 4,592 are said to have been similarly embarked. No information is obtainable as to the route taken by 233 sirdaree coolies who travelled independently under the provisions of the law which allows small batches to do so.

10. Of the 11,034 coolies despatched to Assam by steamer, 221 died on the journey from cholera, and 142 from other diseases, and the mortality from all causes was 2·12 per cent. among contractors' coolies, and 4·68 per cent. among sirdaree coolies. The figures for the previous year were 2·29 among the former class of coolies, and 3·57 among the latter class. The general average for the two years was 3 per cent. of deaths in 1873-74, and 3·29 in 1874-75. As there was little increase, or rather among sirdaree coolies a slight decrease, in the mortality from cholera, it is to other causes that the increased death-rate of the past year must be attributed. As to what these causes are we have yet no sufficient information. That overcrowding on board the vessels is not at fault may be inferred from the fact that in the past year, when the death-rate was high, the average number conveyed on each trip was 269, while in the previous year, when it was lower, the average number conveyed was 342.

11. Dr. Grant appears to think that were the maximum number of coolies allowed to travel together to be reduced from 500, at which it is at present fixed, to 300, or even to 150, some diminution in the death-rate might be effected. An examination of the returns, however, shows that it is not always among the largest batches that the greatest mortality occurs. The Mirzapore in April 1874 took up 511 souls, and though cholera occurred, as is usual in that month, the death-rate was only 1·76; while on the previous steamer, the Benares, which in the same month conveyed only 355 souls, the mortality was 3·28 per cent. Similarly, in February last there was a mortality of 7·54 per cent. on board the Rajmehal, conveying only 305 coolies; while in the following steamer, the Progress, which had 543 on board, the death-rate was only 1·47.

12. Similarly, an examination of the returns will show that the death-rate is not dependent on the length of the passage made. The average duration of each trip in the past year was 21 days, the maximum 29, and the minimum 12. True, the greatest mortality recorded occurred during the trips made in May 1874 by the Rajmehal and the Punjab, which lasted 25 and 28 days respectively; but in February last a mortality far above the average occurred on board the former steamer and on the Madras, though the runs made by them lasted only 18 and 16 days respectively.

13. Admitting all this, however, the Lieutenant-Governor is not without hope that by preventing undue delay in the passage up the Brahmaputra some good may be effected, and the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo has been accordingly instructed to refuse the licenses to those steamers which prove to be unable to make the voyage in a reasonable time.

14. It was suggested by the Chief Commissioner of Assam that the exposure to the cold, while travelling up the river, might have something to do with the mortality among the coolies, and accordingly an extra supply of warm clothing and additional shelter on board the steamers were ordered to be provided during the cold weather months. As this rule came into force only towards the close of the year, sufficient experience had not, in the opinion of the Medical Inspector of Emigrants, been gained to enable him to pronounce on the effect it has had on the health of the coolies.

15. Similarly, it would be yet premature to pronounce upon the benefit which has accrued from the passing of the rule which the Lieutenant-Governor, in reviewing the report of the previous year, expressed his determination to enforce, requiring sirdaree emigrants to remain for a certain number of days under medical observation before allowing them to embark on board the same steamer with other emigrants who had been subjected to such observation. This rule came into force only in January last, and the Superintendent of Emigration is therefore yet unable to give a decided opinion as to its working. The figures given by the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo, however, sufficiently prove that the mortality among independent batches of sirdaree emigrants has been very considerable, and that the rule will be beneficial if only in so far as it will necessitate proper care and shelter, and prompt medical assistance being afforded to them.

16. With a view further to avoid the evils attendant on a voyage up the Brahmaputra, and the contagion to which coolies travelling viâ Calcutta are exposed, the important experiment was tried at the close of the year of opening a second emigration depôt at Doobree. The coolies, it was intended, should be marched from Rajmehal viâ Maldah, Dinagepore, and Rungpore into the north-eastern part of the district of Goalpara, and should there be embarked under the supervision of the Assistant Commissioner stationed at Doobree. This experiment cannot receive its full development till the completion of the new emigration routes now under construction, and leading from the confines of Western Behar to the borders of Assam. Still a trial was made, and in March last 182 emigrants were despatched by this route with very satisfactory results. In the current year arrangements have been made for continuing the experiment, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that at its close the emigration authorities will be in a position to pronounce decidedly on its success or otherwise.

17. The question whether or not emigration to Assam should be restricted to certain months of the year in view of the frequent outbreaks of cholera which occur during the months from February to July has been more than once raised, but it has not yet been deemed advisable by the legislature to enforce such a rule. Its adoption would doubtless throw much difficulty in the way of recruitment, and disadvantages would attend the compressing into five or six months the work now distributed over twelve. Still the matter is one not to be lost sight of, and in case the measures now being taken to diminish the mortality on the voyage to Assam should fail, the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to re-open the question.

18. As regards the 6,384 coolies recruited by garden-sirdars for Cachar and Sylhet, no details of mortality whatever are given. It is possible that all these may have proceeded independently in batches of less than 20, and that the Superintendent of Emigration may therefore have had no means of tracing the history of their journey. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, observes that in the previous year details were given as regards those coolies who proceeded to Cachar, and he would therefore wish to be informed how it is that they were not obtainable for the past year.

19. Of the 4,039 coolies who were despatched to the above districts by contractors, 54 are said to have died from cholera, and 18 from other causes. The total mortality thus amounted to 1·77 per cent. only, against 2·28 per cent. among coolies of the same class in the previous year. This result would seem to be satisfactory.

20. From the statement appended to Dr. Grant's report, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the Labor Transport Fund would seem to be in a solvent condition. Still the entries on the receipt side would seem to require some explanation. The Lieutenant-Governor does not understand what the sum of Rs. 3,114, entered as "capitation fees," represents, and he would wish to know where the proceeds of the rate levied on employers of labor in Assam are entered. A revised statement should be submitted after communication with the Accountant-General.

21. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor would express his great satisfaction with the manner in which Dr. Grant has conducted his duties as Superintendent of Emigration throughout the year.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT BY THE OFFICIATING SURGEON-GENERAL ON VACCINATION IN THE LOWER PROVINCES OF BENGAL DURING THE YEAR 1874-75.

MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 11th November 1875.

READ—

The Report by the Officiating Surgeon-General on vaccination in the Lower Provinces of Bengal during the year 1874-75.

Read again—

The Report for 1873-74, with the orders of Government passed thereon.

The principal features observable in the report now submitted on the vaccine operations of the past year are an increase to the staff employed of one native superintendent, one head vaccinator, 27 vaccinators, and 56 ex-inoculators; a nett increase in the number of operations performed of 168,039 cases; a slight improvement in the ratio of successful cases; an increase in the average number of operations performed per man in the more important circles, together with a very satisfactory decrease in the average cost to the State of each successful case. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that these results are encouraging.

2. The total number of vaccinations effected during the year by circle and dispensary vaccinators is stated to have been 957,673, against 791,634 in 1873, and 687,406 in 1872. The only circle which shows an absolute decrease of work, as compared with the previous year, is the Ranchee circle, where the total number vaccinated fell from 37,411 to 27,343. In the Darjeeling circle, where in the previous year a decline in the number of operations was observable, there was in the past year a very satisfactory increase of 22,912 operations. In the Metropolitan circles the results obtained exceed those in all the other circles, the total number of operations performed during the year having amounted to 402,385, against 306,676 in 1873. Much excellent work has also been done in the Eastern Bengal circle, where an increase of 32,457 is observable in the number of operations performed. Though an increase of 7,828 cases is recorded in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied that the outturn of work has been what it ought to have been. The number of operations performed at dispensaries exceeded those of the previous year by 16,695 cases; the total results obtained by the agency at the disposal of dispensaries are still, however, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks, smaller than they should be, while the character of the work might be much improved.

3. The general ratio of successful cases in primary vaccination was 96·53, against 96·18 in 1873-74; in secondary vaccination it was 23·41, against 22·79. Calcutta and its suburbs, the Metropolitan and Eastern Bengal circles continue to maintain a high standard of efficiency. While dispensary vaccination continues to be less successful than the work performed by the regular staff, some improvement in the results is observable.

4. The mean number of operations performed per man during the past year was 2,303·2. This the Surgeon-General considers a satisfactory figure. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the Metropolitan circles continue to be far ahead of all others when judged of by this standard of efficiency. Next comes the Eastern Bengal circle, though there the average number of operations performed is less by one-half and more. In Calcutta and its suburbs there has been a slight increase, the number of operations performed by each vaccinator having been 1,436 during 1873-74, and not 1,847, as shown by the Surgeon-General. In Ranchee there has been a falling off, and the results shown are not good, judging by the standard of the previous year. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs they were very bad, the number of operations performed by each vaccinator having decreased from 2,506 to 914. The Lieutenant-Governor must observe that the conduct of operations in this circle demands the closest attention on the part of the Medical Department. With the very large increase to the establishment allotted to it in the past year, it is difficult to believe that the failure in obtaining adequate results has not, in part at least, been due to some inefficiency or neglect on the part of the Civil Surgeon and of the inspecting staff placed at his disposal.

5. There is little to remark regarding the sex, caste, and age of the vaccinated. The results are very similar to those obtained in previous years,—males exceeding females by some 7 per cent. and Hindoos exceeding Mahomedans by some 11 per cent. It is satisfactory to observe, as noticed by the Surgeon-General, that the vaccine and census returns, though collected on a very different system, for very different purposes, and quite independently of each other, agree very closely.

6. The aggregate cost of vaccination in these provinces during the past year is shown to have been Rs. 1,02,069, against Rs. 98,207 in the previous year. Of the whole, Government bears about 90 per cent. of the charges, the rest being defrayed from municipal or other local funds. The average cost of each successful case is shown to have been reduced from two annas to one anna ten pies. This reduction is chiefly due to the increased efficiency of the establishments entertained in the Calcutta, Metropolitan, and Darjeeling circles. In the Ranchee circle, where, as before observed, there was a decrease in the number of operations performed, the cost of each successful case has risen from six annas to seven annas and five pies. Notwithstanding the apparent absence of proper and energetic supervision in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, there was a reduction there also of six pies in the average cost of each successful case.

7. Generally, the amount of inspection duty performed by the circle superintendents has been creditable to them. The late Baboo Bhoobun Mohun Mitter, Deputy Superintendent of the Dacca circle, appears to have shown much zeal in the superintendence of the gangs working under him. In connection with the failure of one of the gangs in the Ranchee circle, owing to the misconduct of the native officer in charge, and to which the unfavorable outturn of the past year has been chiefly attributed, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that but one visit to this gang by Dr. Wood is recorded. In the absence of explanation this would seem to have been insufficient for the proper supervision of the work of his subordinates. In the Metropolitan circles no less than 48,615 cases were seen and compared with the registers; in the Darjeeling circle the number was 31,299. As regards dispensary practice, and the practice of vaccinators entertained by municipalities, Sir R. Temple is not satisfied that a proper amount of supervision is yet exercised by civil surgeons, and he must repeat the request made in the Resolution on the report for 1873-74, that in future reports a table be given showing, as regards each officer, what proportion of cases he personally verified.

8. In his Minute of the 28th June last, the Lieutenant-Governor called particular attention to the necessity of concentrated operations in the matter of extending vaccination. From the present report it seems to him that attention has been paid to this matter in the Calcutta, Metropolitan, and Dacca circles with beneficial results. He is not, however, satisfied that a correct system is being pursued either in the Ranchee circle or in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and he trusts that the matter will receive the immediate attention of the Surgeon-General, with a view to a proper plan being carried out in these circles during the approaching season. In the Darjeeling circle the plan of operations proposed has already been considered and approved of by Government. In this circle the district of Bogra has been adopted as the basis of operations, and it will be the object of the Superintendent so to direct the progress of vaccination as gradually to connect the isolated areas which have already been protected.

9. In reviewing the report for the year 1873-74, the Lieutenant-Governor called attention to the great importance of promoting the system of vaccination by independent practitioners, which had been introduced with good effect in certain districts. From the report now submitted, he regrets to observe that the matter has not received that attention at the hands of most civil surgeons which it deserves. Indeed, it is gathered from the Surgeon-General's narrative that, up till a very late date, he had received no reports or returns whatever on this subject from certain officers. Other officers, while interesting themselves in the matter, apparently failed to appreciate the importance of working in a systematic manner. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs, and in certain districts of the Chota Nagpore division, licenses to practice appear to have been given to men, the result of whose operations have shown them to have been utterly untrained. Again, in a great many cases no attempt appears to have been made to supervise the work of those to whom licenses were granted. While the Lieutenant-Governor is aware that in educating and in settling ex-inoculators it may not be possible to follow out strictly the system of concentrated operations which he has prescribed for circle vaccination, he yet thinks that much may be done in this direction, and he would call the immediate attention of all civil surgeons to the matter, thereby reminding them that the remarks by Government, as contained in the Resolutions on the annual reports, are meant to be for the practical guidance of all concerned, and are expected to be acted upon. At the instance of the Surgeon-General, provision has been made for the entertainment, in those districts where the greatest progress has been made in training ex-inoculators, of a sufficient inspecting staff. Rules have also been drawn up and sanctioned under which licenses for the practice of vaccination are to be granted, as well as rewards to such of the independent practitioners as may show the most successful results. In giving effect to these rules, care should be taken not to assign too large an area to each ex-inoculator, and to secure on the whole compact circles of inspection, and these circles should be gradually and effectually protected before other circles are taken up.

10. As regards individual districts, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that very favourable mention is made of the continued interest which Dr. Conolly of Bankoorah has shown in promoting vaccination. The training of ex-inoculators there has proceeded, under his supervision, with very satisfactory results, and His Honor desires that an expression of the thanks of Government may be conveyed to Dr. Conolly for the energy and zeal displayed by him in this matter. In Midnapore, on the other hand, where the system of self-supporting vaccination and ex-inoculators had been fairly started, little or no progress has been made, and, owing to the absence of proper supervision, the results are not so satisfactory as they should have been. In the Sonthal Pergunnahs the question of training and employing ex-inoculators should have the careful attention of the Surgeon-General when taking up the question of systematising the operations of the circle vaccinators. The question of opening out two new circles of vaccination for the Orissa and Patna and Bhagulpore divisions is now under the consideration of the Government. As regards the Darjeeling circle, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that it is stated that there is no lack of candidates to practise as licensed vaccinators. As the entertainment of no less than 42 apprentices on the staff of this circle has been sanctioned, he trusts that there will be no difficulty in selecting men who have undergone a complete training in the art, and that every encouragement will be given to such men to settle down as independent practitioners.

11. In the Orissa division vaccination is still limited to the sudder stations and to the dispensaries in their immediate vicinity. In some of the districts of the Patna division self-supporting vaccination has been initiated with some promise of success, and a few ex-inoculators have been converted and are now practising. In the Bhagulpore division greater progress appears to have been made, and it is gratifying to learn that so much has already been done in the districts of this division to promote a self-supporting system of vaccination.

12. In his minute already referred to, Sir Richard Temple observed that the proper, perhaps the only, test of success in regard to vaccination is the total disappearance of small-pox. From the table appended to the present report it is observed that the total number of deaths from this disease registered in Bengal in the year under review was 11,948, against 11,017 in 1873. Judged by this primary test, then, we must acknowledge, with great regret, that no head has been made in the country generally against this disease. The Lieutenant-Governor expects, however, that this consideration will have the effect of stimulating our officers to further efforts. The better test will, however, be the examination of the statistics of the disease in those particular localities where vaccination work has been concentrated in the manner recently laid down. And the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that this will be done in future annual reports.

13. The fact that the outbreak of this disease is in a great many cases traceable to the operations of inoculators, has often been pressed on the notice of Government. The prohibition of inoculation where efficient vaccination is substituted is, as remarked by the Surgeon-General, an unmixed good. Still the day when it can be generally prohibited in these provinces appears to be yet far distant, unless greater efforts can be put forth than those which have been heretofore made. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that this consideration will sink into the minds of all district officers in whose jurisdiction vaccination has not yet been fully organized, as there are few districts where the existing staff of vaccinators is sufficient. In the Metropolitan circles the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that the number of vaccinations performed is estimated to be more than sufficient to meet the requirements of the population in this respect, and there accordingly inoculation has been prohibited, as well as in other places where proper and sufficient arrangements have been made to carry on vaccination. Still, however, inoculators are found to practise, and so long as this is the case, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot absolve the local magistracy from the charge of apathy and indifference. In Calcutta itself, though inoculation has long been prohibited, scattered outbreaks of the disease continue to occur. The figures given by Dr. Charles, to show the effect which vaccination has had in repressing the disease, are very interesting. They seem to prove that comparatively large as was the number of deaths from small-pox in the town during the past year, they yet represent but a very small proportion of the results of such an epidemic as might reasonably be expected to occur in Calcutta every fifth or sixth year in the absence of vaccination.

14. In conclusion the Lieutenant-Governor would express his concurrence with the opinion of the Surgeon-General, that the history of vaccination in Bengal during 1874-75 contains some (though not sufficient) element of progress, and is suggestive of hope for greater things in future. Sir Richard Temple has also to thank the Surgeon-General and his subordinate officers for the efforts they have made to promote the work of the department.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1874-75.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 12th November 1875.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Salt Department during the year 1874-75.

IT appears from this report that the salt revenue, which showed some falling off in 1873-74, fully recovered itself during the year under review. The quantity of salt which paid duty during the year, and the amount of the salt revenue, were larger than in any year since 1864-65. The total revenue amounted to Rs. 2,64,87,143, which, as compared with the receipts of 1873-74, shows an increase of Rs. 4,94,482, or 1·9 per cent.

2. The increase of revenue occurred entirely in the receipts from duty on imported salt. There were no sales of Government salt during the year, the stocks having been entirely cleared off in November 1873; and though there was a considerable increase in the quantity of excise salt manufactured and sold, the reduction in the duty led to a falling off in the revenue under this head. The receipts from golâh rents, rowannah fees, and miscellaneous items also showed a decrease. But in the receipts from duty on imported salt there was an increase of no less than Rs. 7,95,387.

3. The salt supplies of the last three years have been as follow:—

	Maunds.	Maunds.	Maunds.
Quantity imported and manufactured	75,31,304	78,41,600	82,88,081
Cleared for consumption	79,81,286	79,44,247	81,99,389
Balance in stock at close of year...	23,25,766	20,59,418	20,87,317

Both import and manufacture showed a large increase compared with the preceding year. The imports into Calcutta were 73,31,810 maunds, against 72,60,902. Those into Chittagong were 3,67,769 maunds, against 2,11,865. In the 24-Pergunnahs the amount manufactured rose from 23,133 maunds to 26,611; in Balasore it rose from 1,63,645 maunds to 1,89,480; in Pooree from 1,82,055 maunds to 3,60,113; and in Cuttack, in which there was no manufacture in 1873-74, 12,298 maunds were manufactured in 1874-75. Altogether, the importations increased from 74,72,767 maunds to 76,99,579; and the manufacture from 3,68,833 maunds to 5,88,502 maunds. The stocks remaining at the close of the year were sufficient for three months' consumption.

4. Notwithstanding the increase in the total supply of imported salt, it is observable that the importations are more largely derived from Great Britain and from Indian ports, and that foreign sources of salt supply show no tendency to increase. Spain, Portugal, and Zanzibar, which figured in the returns of 1872-73, have ceased to send salt to Bengal: the importations from France are insignificant in quantity, and declined during the year, while the supply from the Arabian and Persian Gulfs diminished by nearly three lakhs of maunds. The only exception is in the importations from Italy, which increased by more than a lakh of maunds. In round numbers, taking the importations of the year at 77 lakhs of maunds, it may be said that 59⅓ lakhs were imported from Great Britain, 11 lakhs from Indian ports, and only 6⅔ lakhs from all foreign ports together.

5. The increase in the quantity of excise salt manufactured during the year is principally attributable to the reduction of duty in Orissa. Act X of 1874 abolished the frontier customs line between Orissa and Madras, and the selling price of salt in Ganjam was then raised from Rs. 2 to Rs. 2-4, the duty in Orissa, which had previously been Rs. 3-4, being fixed at a graduated scale, rising from Rs. 2-4 on the Ganjam frontier to Rs. 3-2 on the northern boundary of the Balasore district. The effect has been, not only to stimulate production in the Orissa districts, but largely to increase the importations of Ganjam salt into Orissa; and there is reason to suppose that the ultimate result will be to extinguish the Pooree manufacture. The Lieutenant-Governor has recommended the reduction of the duty on Pooree kurkutch to Rs. 2 per maund, and has also sanctioned some minor measures of relief to Pooree manufacturers. A special set of rules for the supervision of Madras salt brought into Orissa has been submitted for the sanction of the Government of India.

6. The clearances for consumption during the year were as follow:—

	Quantity.	Duty.
	Maunds.	Rs.
Sales of imported salt from ship-board .. .	52,02,458	1,68,95,348
Ditto ditto from bond	25,65,201	83,36,903
Sales of excise salt	4,31,730	11,37,961
	81,99,389	2,63,70,212

The actual consumption in Orissa was 3,81,639 maunds, while the sales of Orissa made salt were 4,09,683 maunds, the difference being the quantity consumed in the Tributary States. It is, however, observable that the consumption in Orissa bears a larger proportion to the total sales than was the case in the previous year, which makes it probable that Orissa salt is being displaced in the Tributary States by the cheaper salt of Ganjam. Although the total sales of excise salt showed an increase of 16,046 maunds over the returns of 1873-74, the duty realized under this head decreased by Rs. 2,13,012, owing to the reduction, as already explained, of the rate of duty in Orissa.

7. The total sales for consumption during the year in the ten districts which lie within the salt law limits amounted to 13,63,728 maunds, being a net increase of 18,685 maunds over the sales of the previous year. The population within the salt chowkey limits is 10,548,039, and the sales consequently amounted as nearly as possible to 10 lbs. per head,—a result which makes it probable that illicit manufacture for sale is not general. The difficulties noticed in last year's report, as attending the salt trade in the Orissa Tributary Mehals, in consequence of the grant of monopolies by the Rajahs, and the levy of vexatious dues, have fortunately been removed by the tact and management of the Commissioner of Orissa. The Government was unwilling to issue any formal prohibition to the Rajahs; but the Commissioner has succeeded in inducing the Rajahs voluntarily to abandon all restrictions upon the sale of salt which has paid the Government duty.

8. The number of prosecutions instituted under the salt laws was 1,731, besides 25 cases which remained pending from the previous year. This is an increase of 47·6 per cent. over the number of cases brought to trial in 1873-74; but as 90·1 per cent. of the persons brought to trial were convicted, it is evident that prosecutions are not instituted without reasonable grounds, and that the increase is due to greater activity on the part of the police in suppressing illegal practices. A sum of Rs. 16,777 was realized in fines and forfeitures; and Rs. 7,496 were distributed as rewards to informers and apprehenders. Cases of illicit manufacture of salt are most numerous in the 24-Pergunnahs and in Midnapore. In Orissa no serious case of the kind occurred during the year, and the Commissioner is satisfied that illicit manufacture upon any large scale does not exist. The quantity of salt attached during the year was 2,867 maunds in 735 cases. Of this quantity 1,380 maunds in 42 cases were released, and 1,702 maunds in 686 cases were confiscated, the balance remaining under attachment at the close of the year It is explained that much of the salt which was released was, according to strict rules, liable to confiscation, but was returned to the owners as an act of grace, being duty-paid salt which was being conveyed by routes other than those specified in the rowannahs. The entire question of the abolition of the rowannah system is now under consideration, an opinion having been expressed by the Government of India that the present restrictive arrangements might be confined to a belt extending only five miles from the coast. In respect to vigilance in the suppression of illicit practices, Sir Richard Temple must remind all fiscal officers that, as our revenue resources are limited, we must make the most of those which we actually have, and must, while avoiding everything that may cause undue harassment to the people, strictly enforce the realization of every item to which the Government is justly entitled.

9. The return of salt conveyed by the several routes into the interior of the country shows an increase of 1,89,473 maunds. Of this total 18,040 maunds form the increase in the despatches by railway, and the remaining increase is in the routes by water, the route which shows the largest increase being that viâ Kidderpore. The despatches by the East Indian Railway increased, but those by the Eastern Bengal Railway fell off by one-third, and no salt was forwarded by the Calcutta and South-Eastern Railway.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to convey the thanks of Government to the Member in charge, to Mr. Ravenshaw, Commissioner of Orissa, and to the officers named in the 58th paragraph of the report for their services in the Salt Department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1875-76.

The quantity of salt consumed (i.e., the quantity of total clearances of salt of all descriptions) in the quarter under report amounted to maunds 16,91,035-24-14, against maunds 19,60,343 in the previous quarter, and maunds 17,83,280¾ in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the total amount of duty levied was Rs. 53,32,243-5-4, against Rs. 63,20,001-4, and Rs. 57,40,320-9 in the previous and corresponding quarters, respectively.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in Cuttack, Balasore, Pooree, and the 24-Pergunnahs during the present quarter, from the stock of the different
